Mrs. Elick Receives Cherokee Dedication

The 1973 Cherokee staff has decided to dedicate this book to a person who we feel is entitled to recognition as an outstanding teacher. But the students at Sam Houston think of Mrs. Frances Elick as being more than just a teacher. They think of her as a friend.

Mrs. Elick has always supported the school and the people in it. She has been involved in the activities at Sam. She attends plays, sports events, and even gets up before dawn to work at the Senior Breakfast.

Mrs. Elick received her BS in English from Northwest Missouri and an MEd from East Texas State. Her 24 years of teaching have included three years in Missouri, seven in Honey Grove, Texas, and 14 years in Arlington. While in Arlington she has taught at Carter, Ferguson, and finally here at Sam.

It is with great pride and honor that the 1973 Cherokee staff dedicates this book to Mrs. Frances Elick.

At the Cherokee assembly, Mrs. Elick thinks of something to say to the student body after receiving a standing ovation.

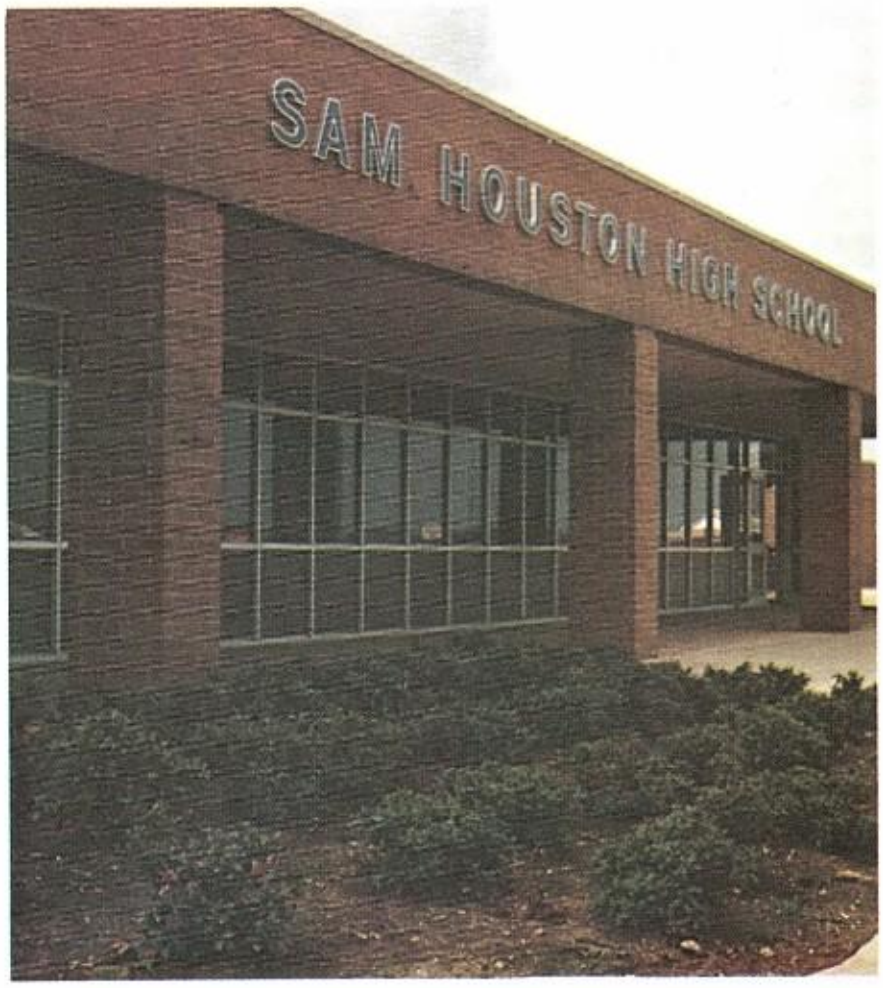
After the announcement of the 1973 Cherokee, Hank Angell escorts Mrs. Elick to the stage to receive an orchid.

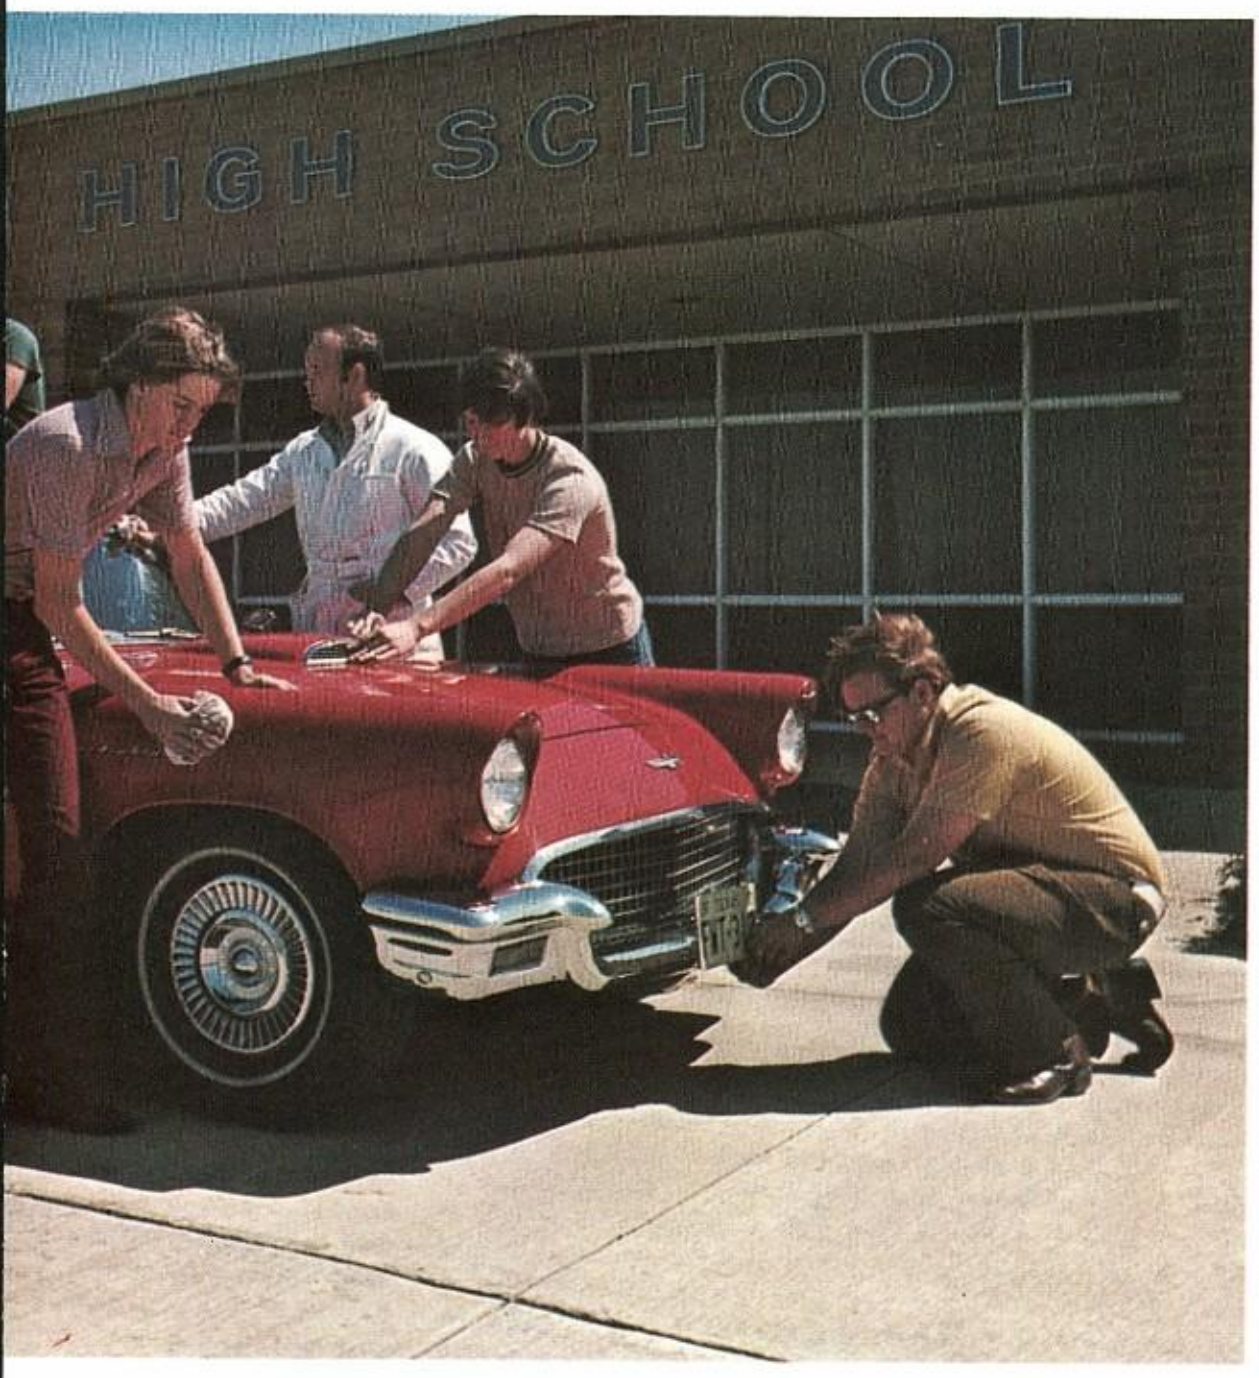
Mrs. Frances Elick spends several hours outside of classtime to grade tests and themes which require great concentration.

This has been a year of growth and achievement. But more important, a year of memories. It has been full of homework, tests, social happenings, and sports events. All of these activities have helped to make this an exciting time.

We have built character with failure and success, disappointment and gratification experienced during the year. Everyone has searched to find who he is and where he is going.

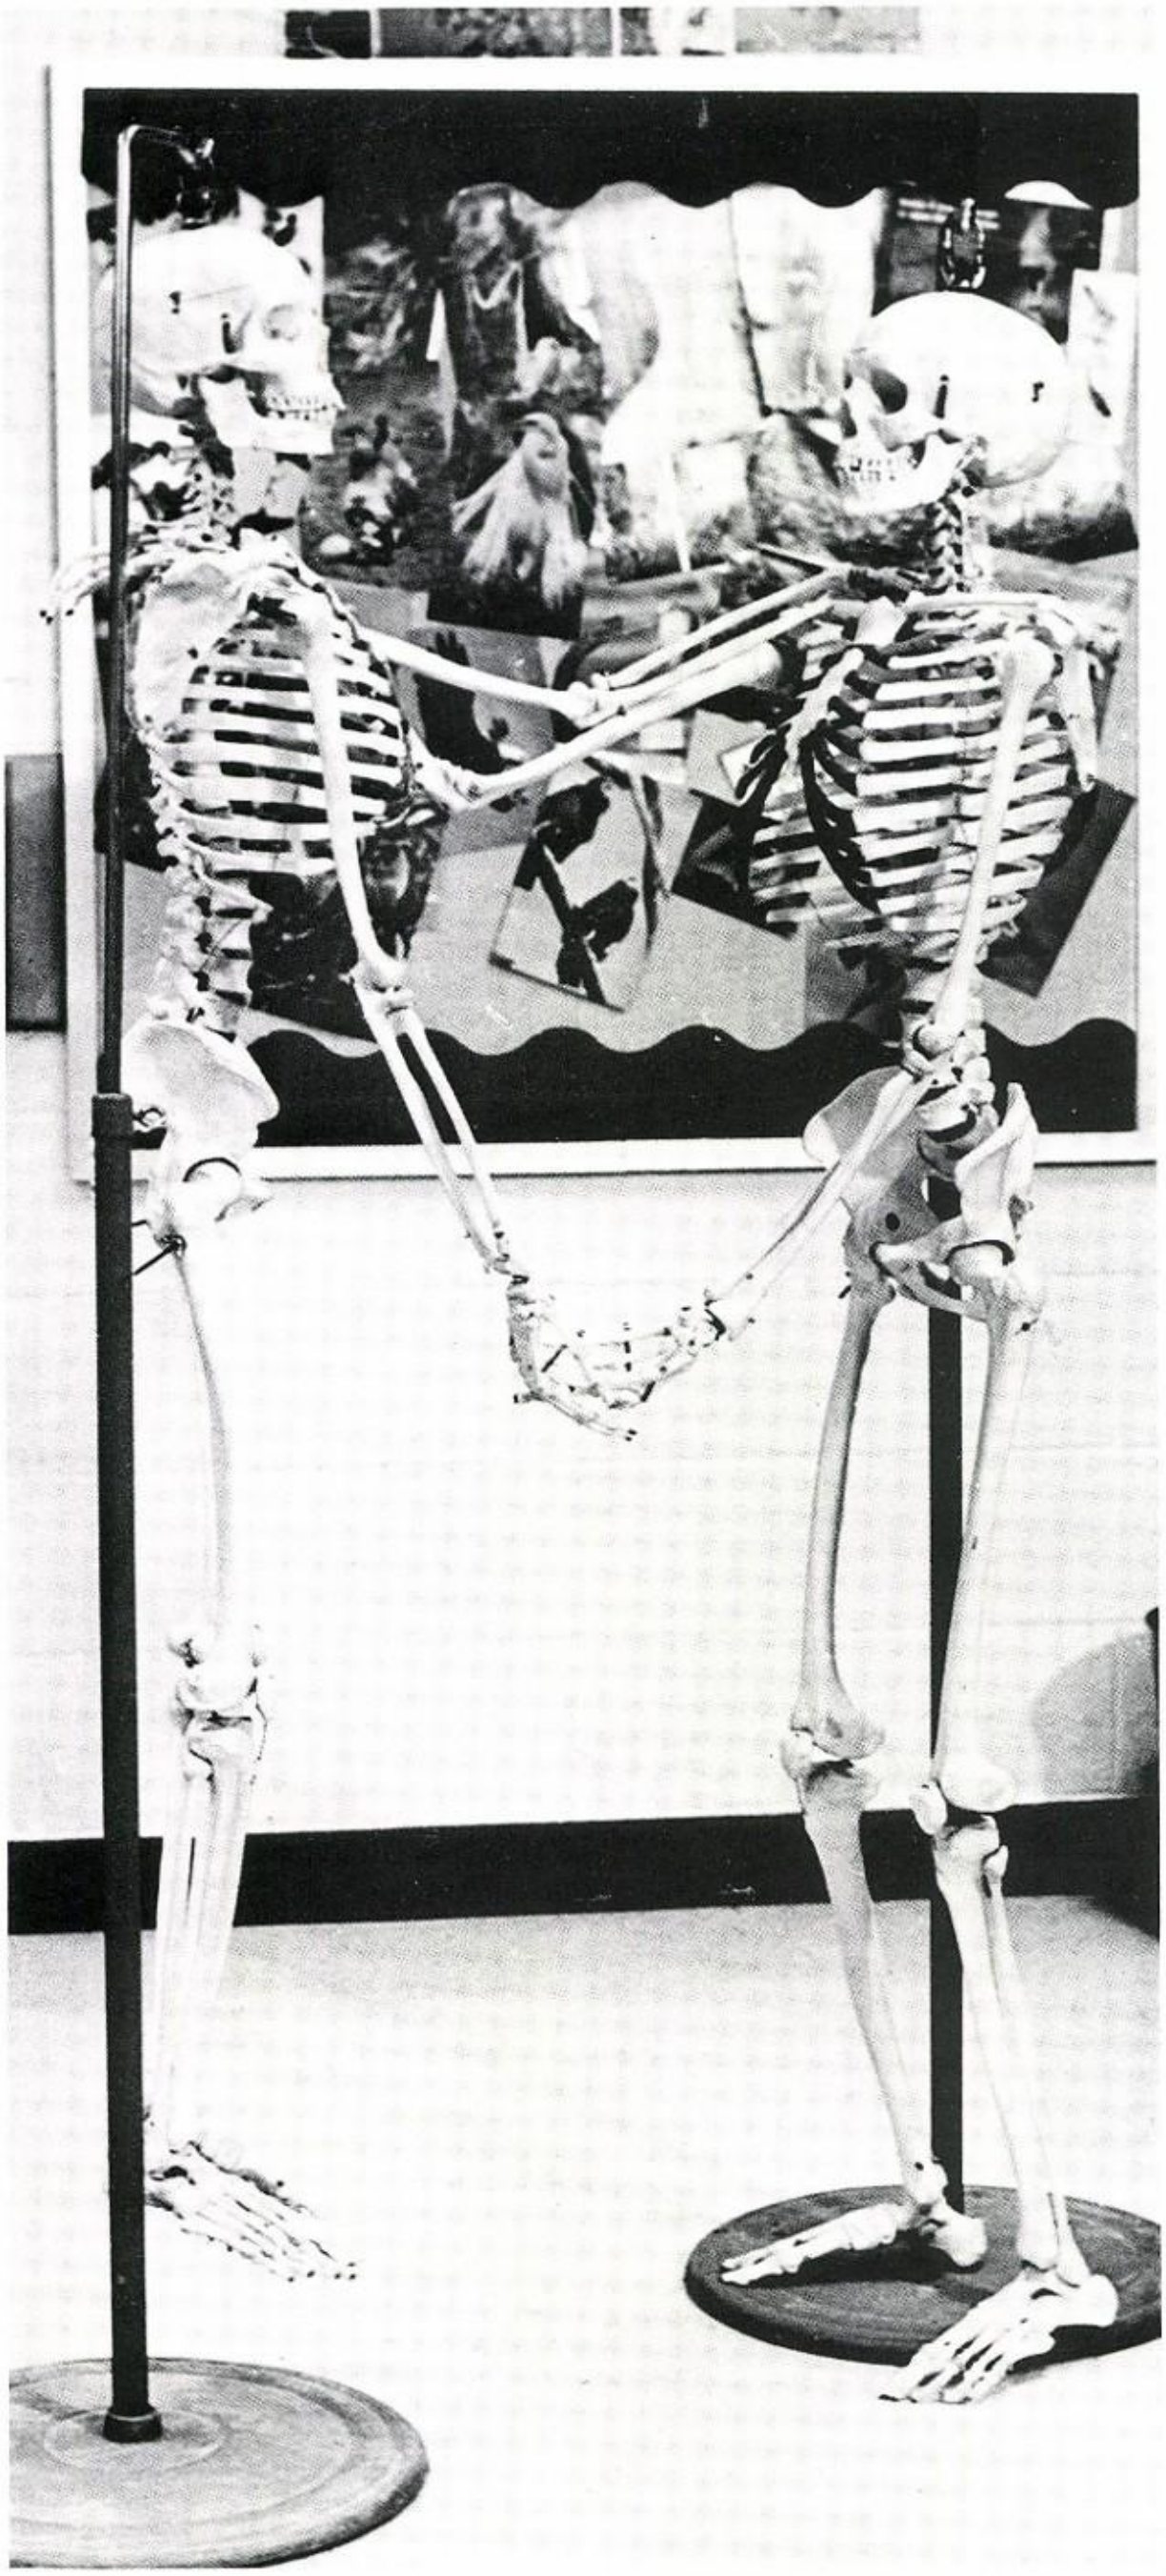
The tenth opening of Sam brought many changes in the Fall. A new principal, vice-principal, and dean of girls greeted students when they came to register in the "choose your own teacher" plan. For the first time, students couldn't complain about not having good teachers, since they had chosen the teachers themselves.





HIGH SCHOOL

There has been a time for enjoyment and recreation as well as a time to attend classes and to study. This combination has taught us how to cooperate with others and get more out of life.



In November, a Homecoming parade was held, and the car decorating contest was sponsored by the drill team. March 23 was the date of the first Texan Day Carnival in which 19 of Sam's clubs participated.

This year, new friends were found, but old friendships grew. And as the Class of 1973 graduates, we may see some friends for the last time. But as we go, we know that we have conquered the challenge of another year.

Doug, Kathy Top Grads

Heading the list of honor graduates for the Class of '73 was valedictorian Doug Maner. Doug maintained a grade point average of over 12 points during his high school years. He received two academic scholarships and will attend UTA. He plans to study business and then law.

Kathy Williamson earned the title of salutatorian. She has achieved a grade point average of more than 11. Kathy plans to attend the University of Texas at Austin and major in botany.

The top 10 honor graduates were Jo Utley, Annette Clay, Taffy Davis, Gay Howard, Susan Manifold, Lou Ann Underwood, Terry Johannesen, Debbie Brackenridge, and Lezlie Langham, respectively.

Departments Recognize 21

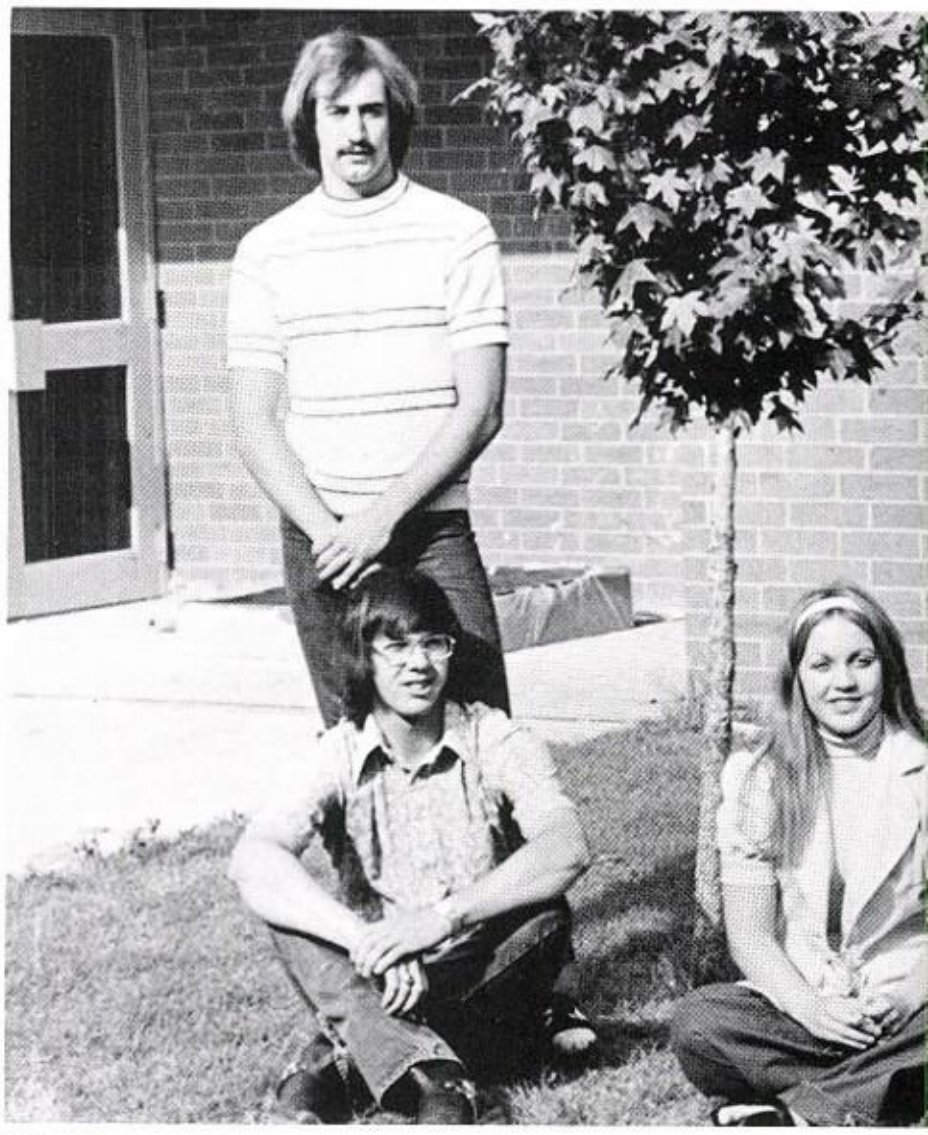
This year, for the first time, the senior awards and the annual assembly were combined. The Departmental Awards were given to 12 girls and nine boys, a total of 21 students.

The plaques were engraved with the name of the student, the year, the subject, and the school.

Math, science, and ROTC honored three seniors at the assembly, May 16. Selected as outstanding in these respective fields are Karen Singletary, Robert Williford, and Bob Royal.

Recognized for their departmental accomplishments are Elaine Horner, speech; Craig Brinker, drama; Kay Jones, choir; Lezlie Langham, journalism; and Lea Ann Hudson, art.

A plaque was awarded Sheryl Boykin for her achievement as best business student.



The Photography Department awarded Bobby Arnold with its top honor, while ICT chose Wilton Jordan. Sandy Petty

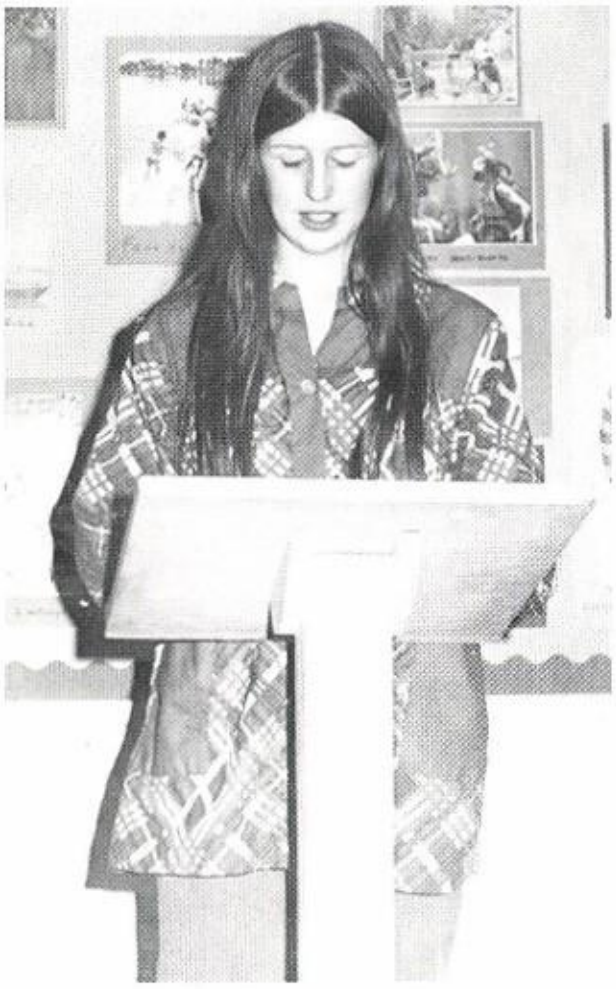
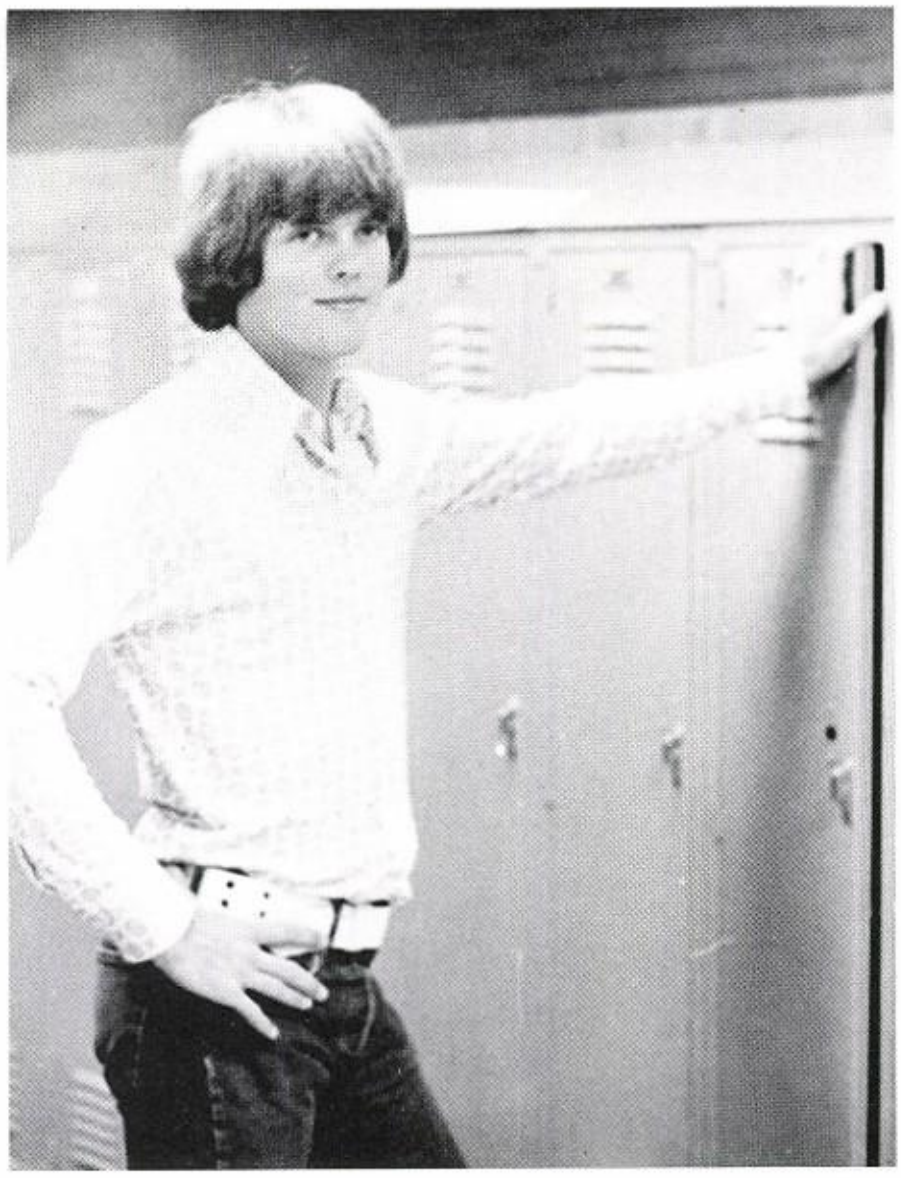
The DAR Award, presented on the basis of character, leadership, and service, was presented to Taffy Davis.

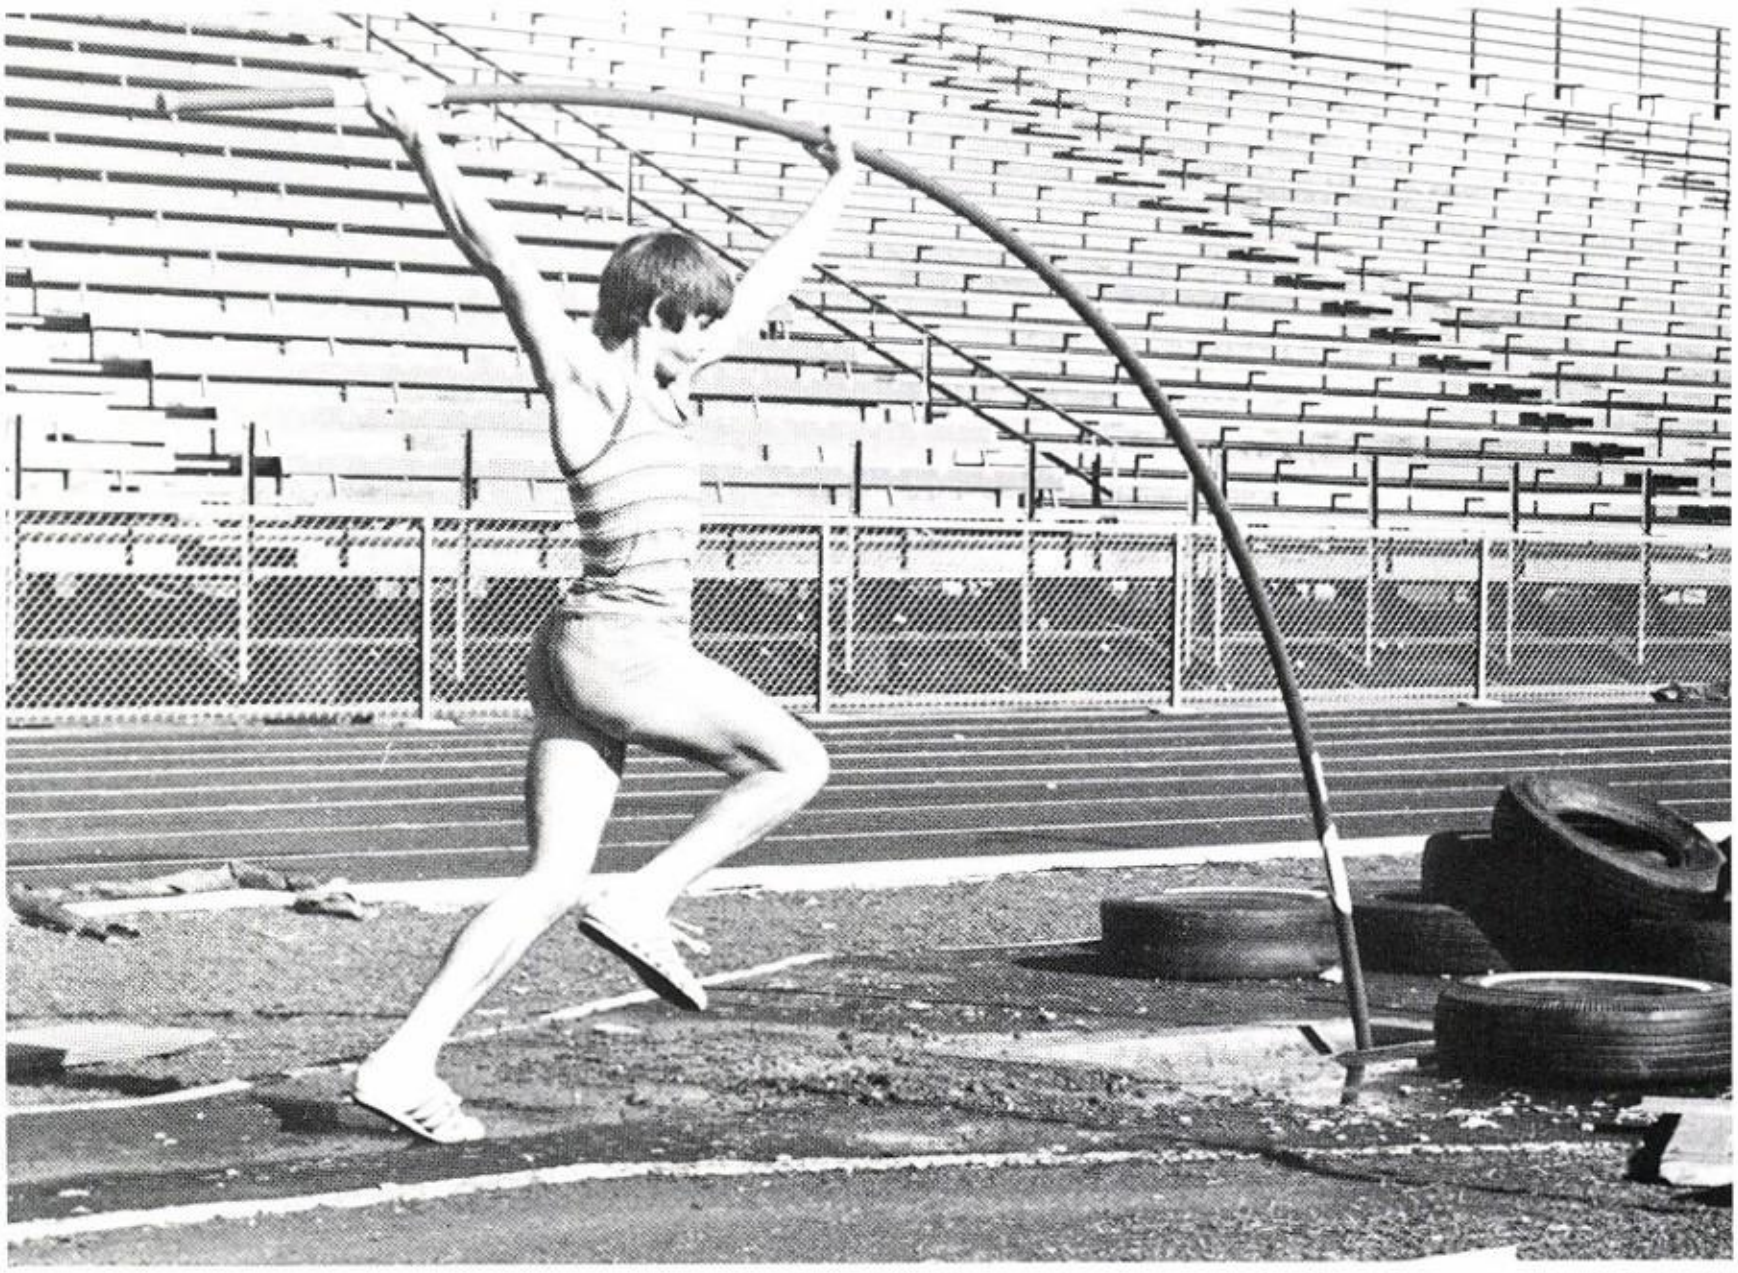
The American Legion gives a certificate to two seniors who have shown excellence in Sam Houston activities. Earning this are Doug Maner and Gay Howard.



Senior Elaine Horner, competing in persuasive speaking, won fourth in state events.

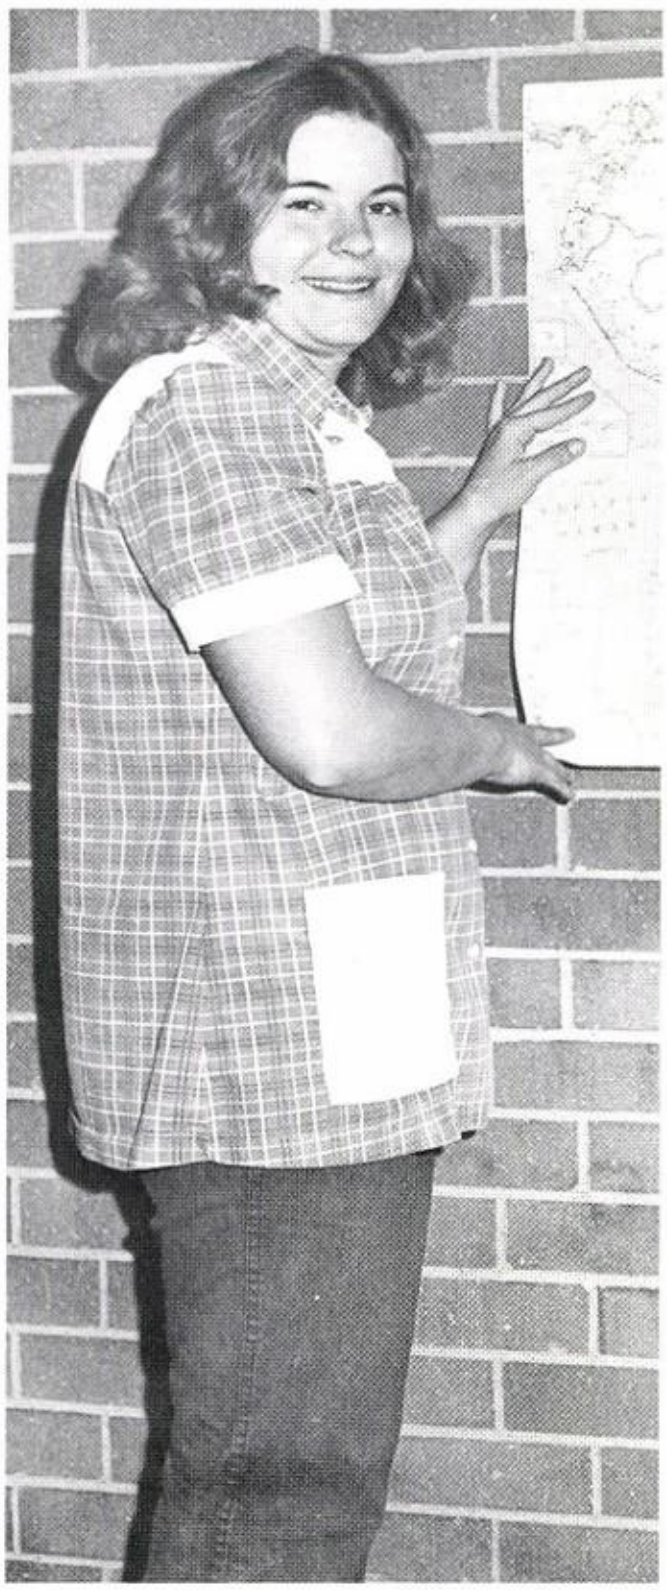


Student Congress vice-president Richard Ivy was the senior boy selected last summer to participate in the Boys' State activities.

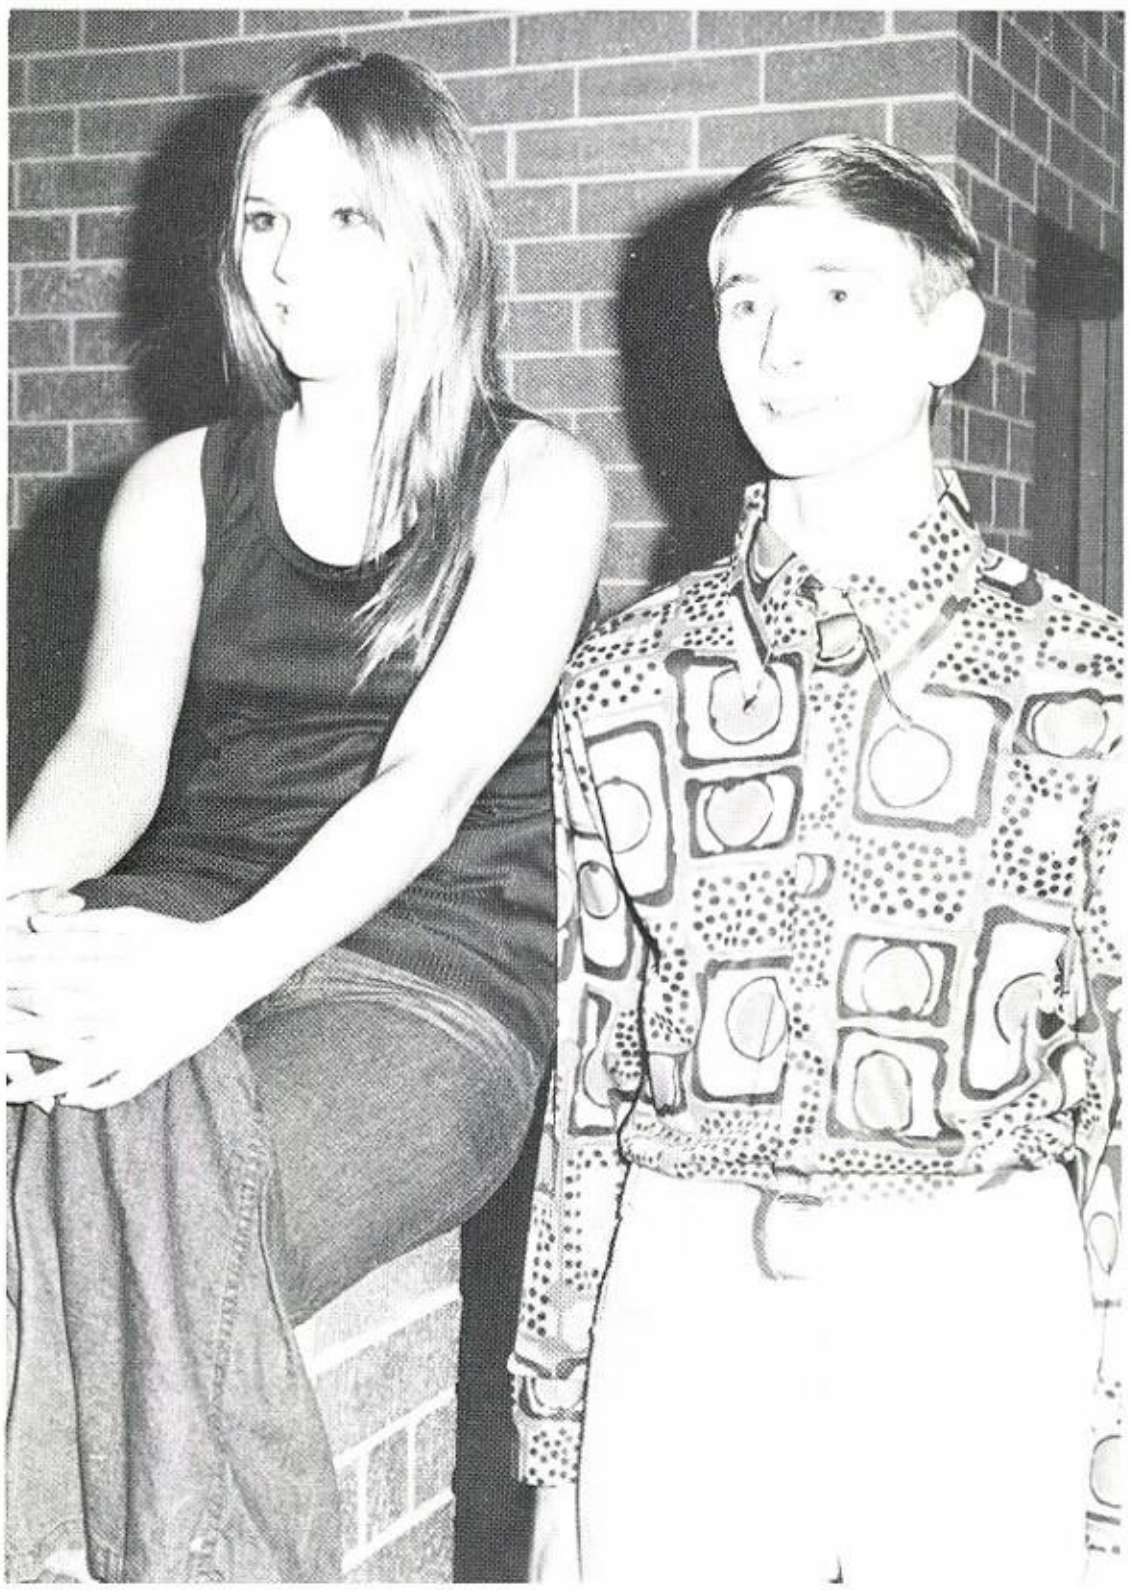


After the regular track season was long over, pole-vaulter Steve Brinkley was busy representing Sam Houston at the state track meet held in Austin. Steve, Sam Houston's first qualifier since 1968, placed second. Earlier in the year he was named all-district.

The Chopin Award, given for excellence in piano, and the title of Miss Congeniality for the Miss Cinderella pageant went to senior Diane Stallings and junior Patsy Jankowiak, respectively.



Participating in the Americans Abroad Program, Denise White will travel to Brazil this summer.



After a nationwide judging by NCTE of original high school writings, Doug Maner won first for his composition, and Susan Manifold received an honorable mention.

Scholarships Provide for Higher Education

The Arlington City Council PTA and the Sam Houston Chapter of the Parent-Teacher-Student Association annually present two seniors with scholarships. Gay Howard and Lou Ann Underwood won these and will use them for fees at UTA.

Each year many Sam seniors earn scholarships of differing amounts to various area colleges.

This year, nearly 40 students have won scholarships ranging from $50 to full tuition, including books and supplies.

Gay Howard, secretary of the National Honor Society, has been named as the recipient of the scholarship presented by the PTSA.

A member of the annual staff, Lou Ann Underwood has earned the UTA scholarship awarded by Arlington City Council PTA.

Also representing Chamber of Commerce at a monthly luncheon were (clockwise from bottom) Cathy Bailey, Annette Clay, Vanger Spencer, and Kathy Summers Longley.

Local Women Honor 18 Girls of the Month

Every month the Chamber of Commerce and Arlington's Civic League each sponsored one senior as girl of the month.

These girls were chosen for their character, scholastic achievements, and participation in school activities.

The Arlington Civic League gave a salad supper on April 12 to honor their girls. At this time Lezlie Langham was named as the girl of the year. She was awarded a $20 savings bond and a plaque for SHHS.

A skit was presented at the luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce to honor the girls.

The Junior Civic League of Arlington selected the nine senior girls they felt were outstanding. They were (top row) Lezlie Langham, Sandy Petty, Jan Isaac, Tess Barton, and (bottom row) Taffy Davis, Pam Jankowiak, Julee Moore, Sherry Haney, and Lou Ann Underwood.

"Bellguarding" took up much of Sandy's spare time last fall. "Big Sam" had to be carted to and from the Texan games and protected in between.

Hank, who played center for the varsity football team for two years, was a member of the B-team during his sophomore year.

Both Sandy and Hank have been very involved in all phases of school activities. They have been class officers, annual staffers, and favorites.

Top SHHS Titles Voted to Sandy, Hank

Winning the titles of Mr. and Miss Sam Houston, Hank Angell and Sandy Petty were presented to the Student Body at the annual Cherokee Assembly on May 16.

Sandy was chosen for the '73 Homecoming Queen and served as president of DECA for two years. She was a member of the Cherokee staff, FBLA, NHS, and was the Key Club Sweetheart.

Hank was vice-president of his Senior Class and won the titles of Mr. School Spirit and class favorite. He was a member of Key Club, NHS, Quill and Scroll, and played on both the B-team and varsity football squad.

After earning places as top 12 seniors, Sandy and Hank were chosen as the two most deserving of the title of Mr. and Miss SHHS.

Luty Ferrando

Exchange Student '72-'73

Luty Discovers New Way of Life Exciting

Mail is a vital form of communication for those far from home.

Photography and friends keep Luty busy learning about Sam.

In her history class, Luty differentiates between the U.S. and her native Chile.

Luty Ferrando, Sam's foreign exchange student for '72-'73 is from Temuco, Cautin Chile. She arrived at Love Field and was greeted by her American family, the Clyde Haneys.

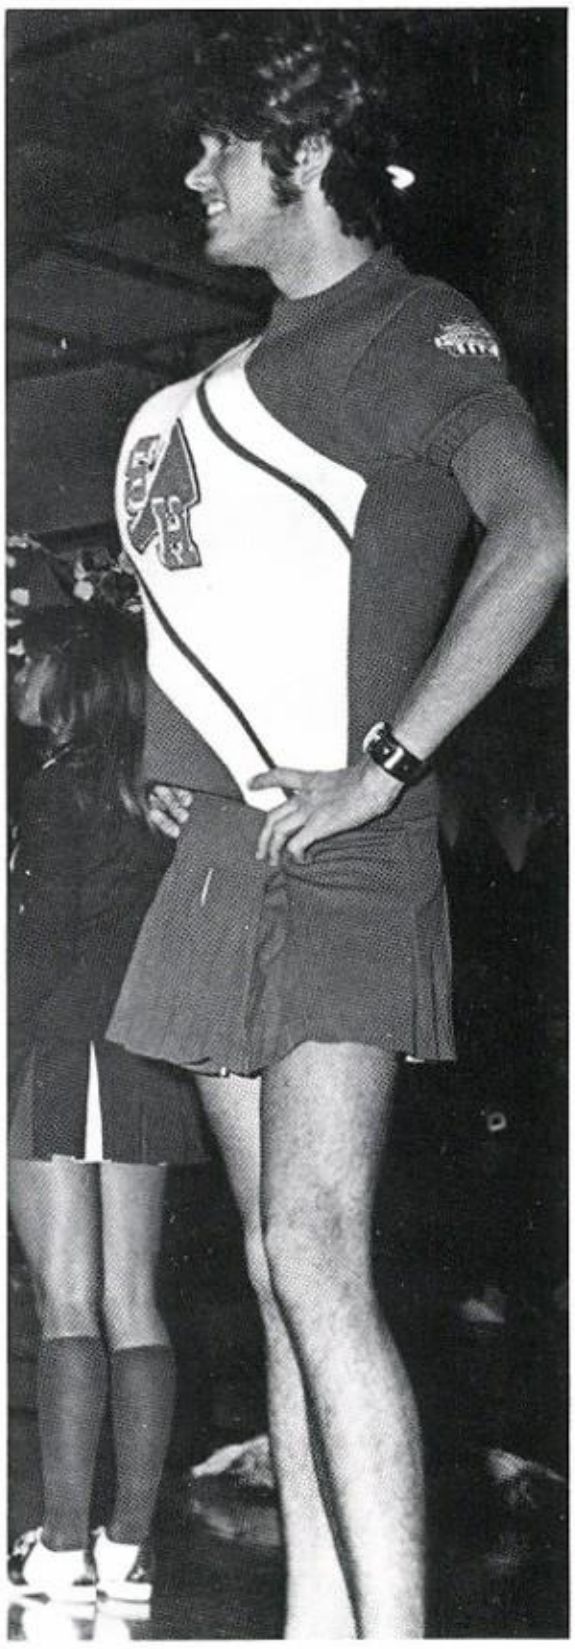
She has two older brothers, and two older sisters, and her father is a senator of the Democrata Christiano Party.

In Chile, Luty attended Santa Cruz, a private Catholic School combining elementary and secondary grades. School began in March, ending in December.

Luty begins a new life with a family.

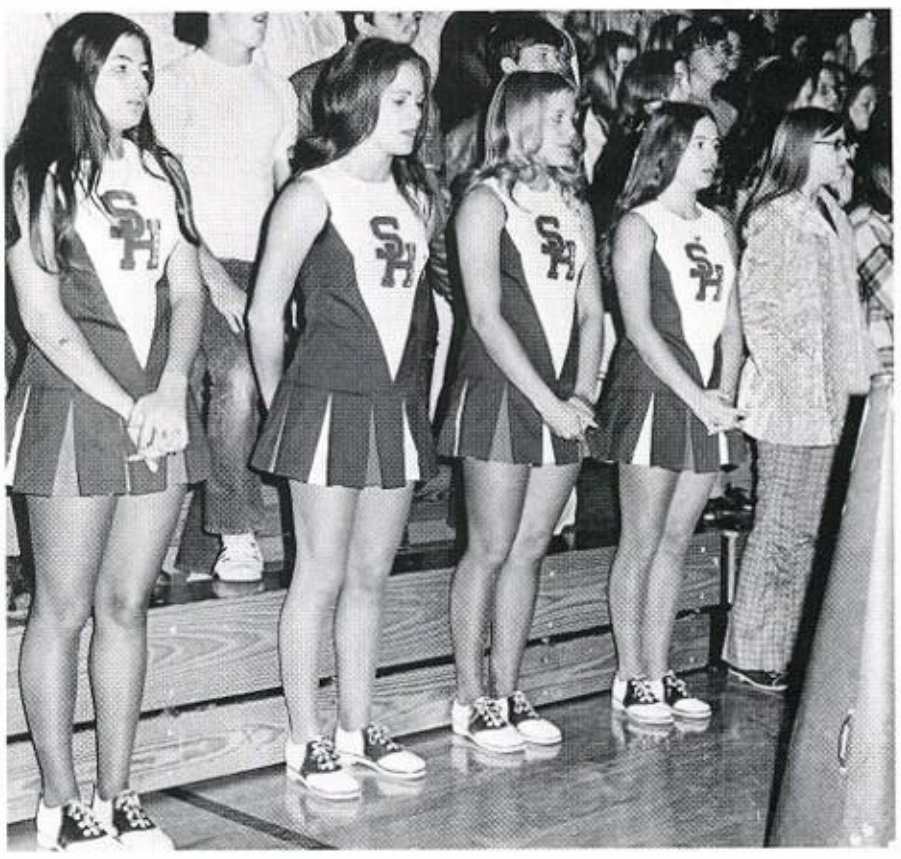
"Sophs are getting younger every day," giggle Debbie Gowin and Pam Jankowiak.

The bellguards and cheerleaders for '72-'73 are Carol McCants, David Hicks, Glen Davis, Sue Hutchinson, Debra Mitchell, Karen Fulton, Emily Spruiel, Cindy Adkins, Sandy Petty, Debbie Gowin, Pam Jankowiak, and Barbara Acker.



Senior Glen Davis finds that bellguarding takes more than looks and lungs.

A smile and a dimple from junior cheerleader Cindy Adkins is a good reason for total student involvement in weekly pep rallies.



Singing the alma mater is an important part of pep rallies to Sharon Reed, Felicia Forehand, Jamie Jones, and Cindy Sykes.

Debbie Mitchell's many cheerleading duties include singing the fight song.

Writing, costuming, casting, and performing the numerous pep rally skits are some of the most important activities for spirit raising of both the cheerleaders and the bellguards.

Spirit Boosted by Cheerleaders, Bellguards

Barbara Acker, a senior bellguard, gets into the swing of things at the pep rally preceding the game with Arlington High, when she succeeds in hanging the effigy of the colt.

Sixteen spirited leaders, chosen by the Student Body, led the fans in support of the Big Sam Texans. The eight varsity and four B-team cheerleaders, along with the four bellguards, backed the Sam teams by making posters and decorating the school for the game.

Last summer the cheerleaders attended a camp to learn new cheers and compete with other squads. The four bellguards were responsible for bringing the bell to all games.

Felicia Forehand, Jamie Jones, Carol McElree, Sharon Reed, and Cindy Sikes shared the junior varsity cheerleading duties for '72-'73. Originally, Carol was the substitute cheerleader, but she was called in to replace Cindy when she hurt her leg at the end of football season.

Homecoming '72 Big Success

Homecoming 1972 was climaxed with the crowning of the Key Club nominee Sandy Petty during the halftime ceremonies of the Irving Tigers game, November 10.

Last year's queen Ruth Acker, escorted by ex-Student Council president Rex Perry, had the honor of crowning Sandy. Mr. B. H. Remynse's son, Todd, carried the queen's crown, while LouAnn, Mr. Louis Harris' daughter, presented Sandy with a bouquet of red roses. Bestowing the new queen with the traditional kiss was Student Congress president, Mike Patterson.

Sandy was chosen by the Student Body from 23 semi-finalists and eight finalists.

The crowning of a new queen was only part of the Homecoming activities. The traditional pep rally started at 2:30, followed by the honor society reception.

Chosen from 23 semifinalists, these eight girls were escorted onto the field f

Most Spirited Texans Lead Active Lives

While Sam Houston basketball fans looked on, winners of Mr. and Miss School Spirit were announced February 9 during the Texan-Gopher game.

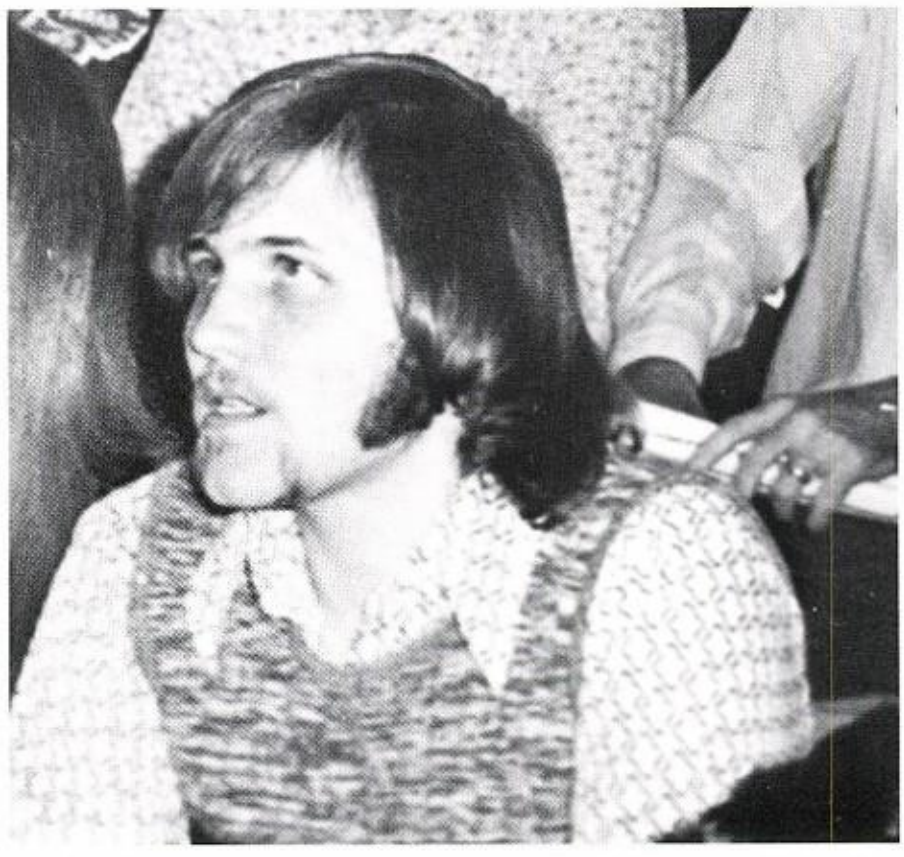
Debbie Gowin and Hank Angell were chosen for the title because of their interest and participation in school events.

They were among the top nine seniors who were nominated by the Senior Class on January 25 and then voted on by the entire Student Body on February 8.

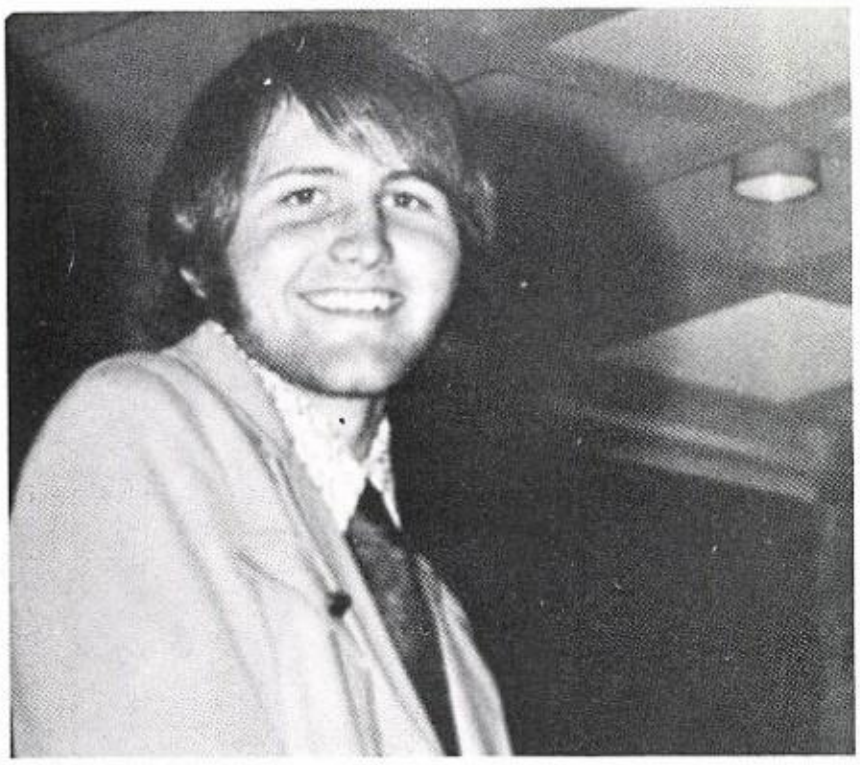
Among Hank's activities are Key Club, in which he serves as lieutenant governor, the Student House and Senate, and varsity football.

One of the eight finalists for queen, Debbie represents Student Congress.

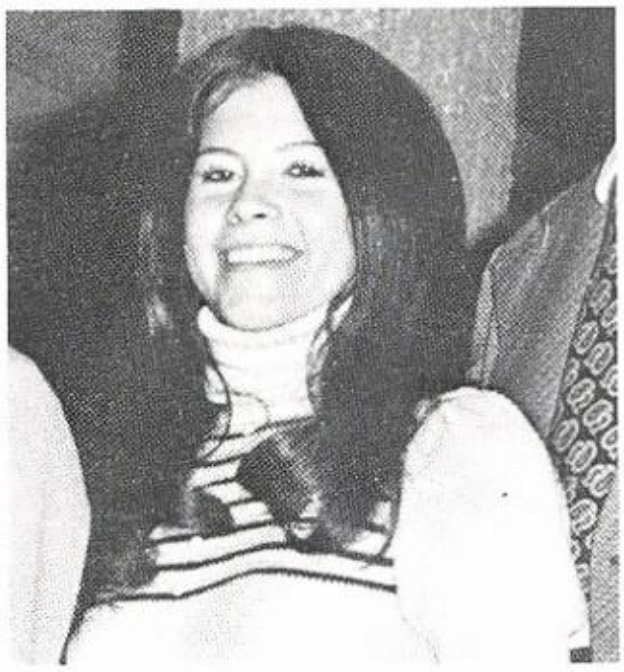
As cheerleader, Debbie is responsible for keeping spirit high, and must put many hours in writing and organizing the pep rallies.



Hank, who plays center for the varsity football team, thinks that basketball games are as interesting to watch as are football games.



As vice-president of the Senior Class, Hank helps plan and coordinate all the activities and projects the seniors sponsor.



Being girls' social chairman for the Senior Class requires many hours of Debbie's time.

Bringing back memories of the roaring Twenties, raccoon-skin coats, and jalopy convertibles, Hank and Debbie find old-fashioned school spirit has not changed. Their involvement in spirit-related activities won them Mr. and Miss School Spirit.

Nominees Compete for Title of Favorite

On April 27, the entire Student Body voted for class favorites. The 12 finalists, presented May 16, were Jamie Jones, Bobby Arnold, Les Palmer, Sharon Reed, Homer Sargent, Reuben Tomlin, Charlie Apel, Kay Kite, Lisa Love, Debbie Gowin, Roger Peterson, and Sandy Petty.

Mr. Remynse Plans, Hosts Morning Club

In order to allow faculty to have group social gatherings, Sam's new principal, Mr. Bud Remynse started a breakfast club. The meals were served in the school cafeteria, and all the food was prepared by the ladies who fix the school lunches.

A special Christmas Breakfast was held in December, as a personal greeting from Mr. Remynse, himself. It was at this time that he was presented with a big potted plant for his office by the faculty.

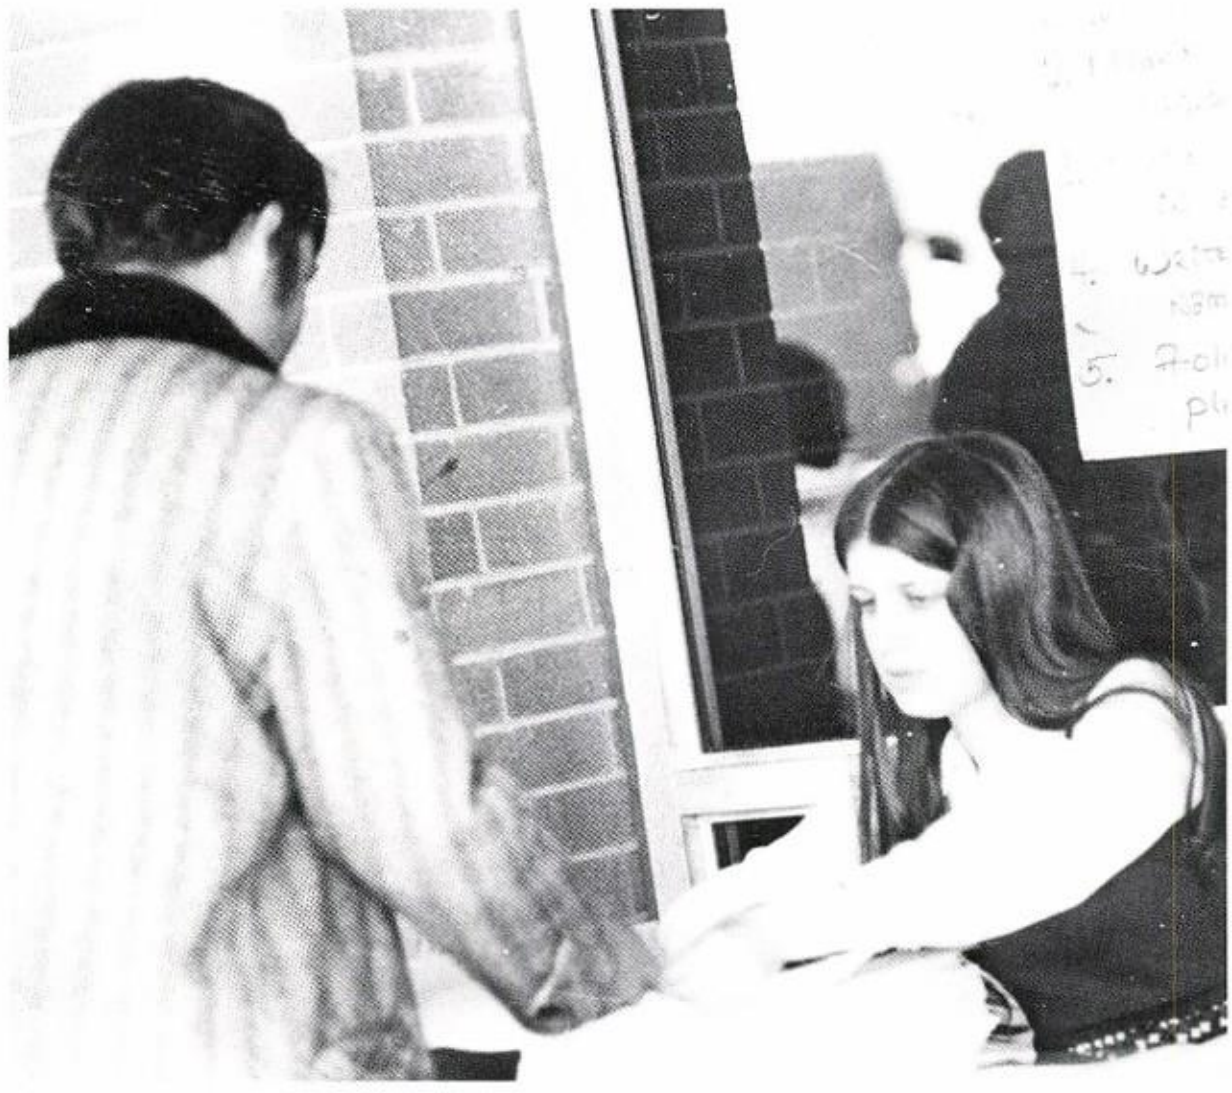
Nixon Wins by 85% in Schoolwide Election

Since this year was a major election year, the Sam Houston Social Studies Department sponsored a school wide election.

Registration cards were prepared and students wishing to vote were required to register. On November 2, the votes were cast on paper ballots, and the Key Club members took care of all the tabulations.

Less than half of the student body registered to vote and only 402 out of the registered 798 voted. The Republican ticket received 85 percent of the votes cast, Democrats received 14 percent, while the third party ticket of Schmitz-Anderson got a mere one percent.

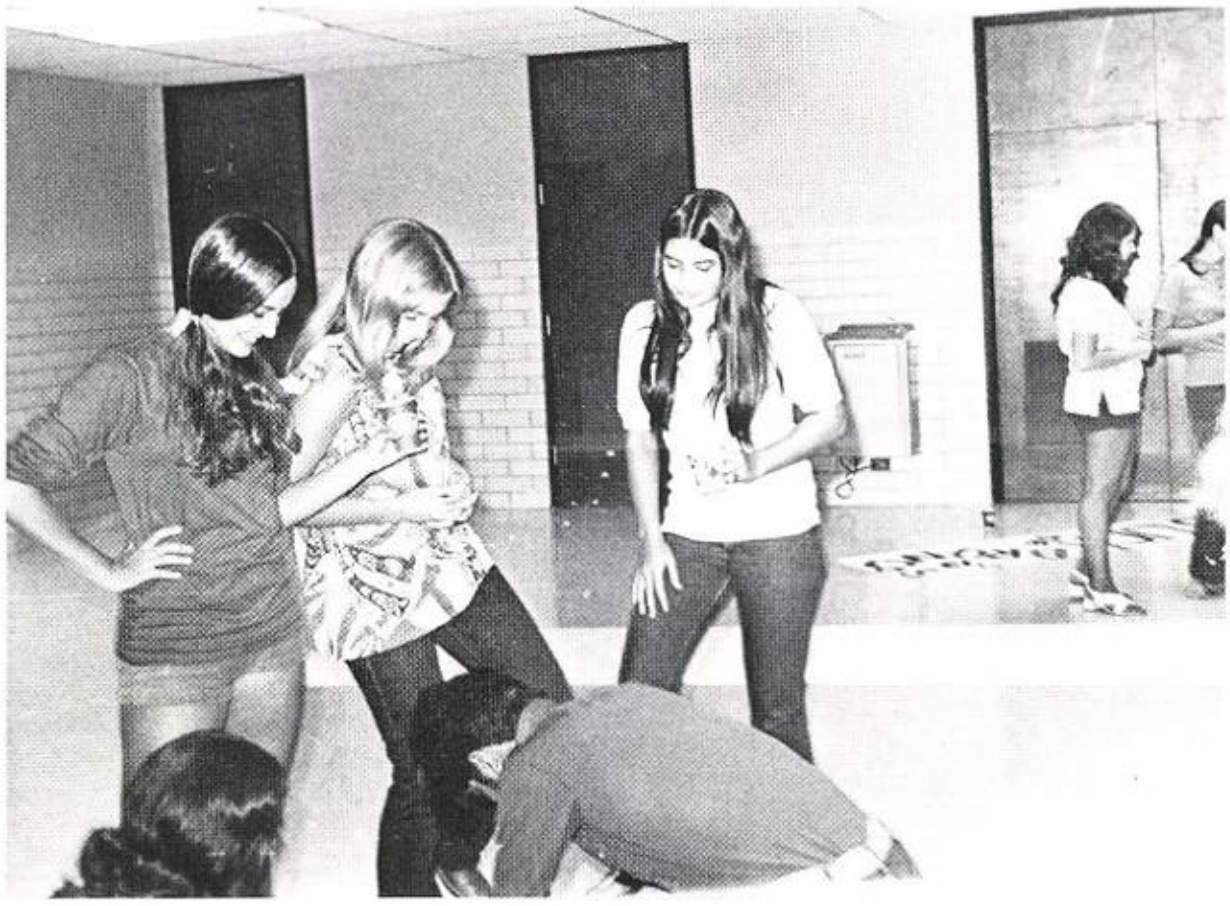
It was thought that having this election would help juniors and sophomores to know what to expect when they became of age to vote. It also showed that Nixon and Agnew were favored.



Elaine Horner acted as one of the election officials for the mock election held November 2. The officials checked students' registration slips before passing out ballots to vote.

Posters, Parades Keep Students Involved

Mike Mullen and Gary Smith "create."



Kids don't seem to mind coming to school when they get together to paint posters.

"Git" a Colt and Big Sam are painted on Miss Anderson's car for Friday's parade.

After the crepe paper, this Texan finishes the decorating with white shoe polish.

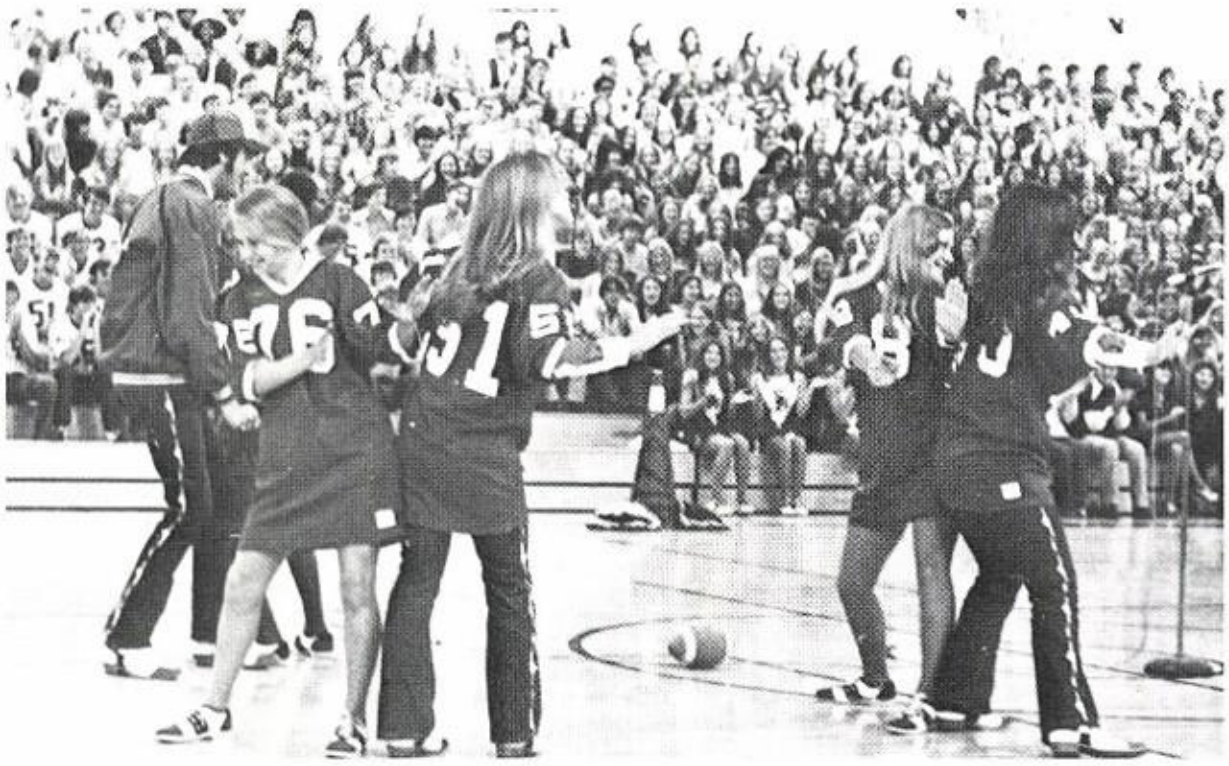
As part of the preparation for the Friday football games, Tuesday nights set the scene for poster parties. Also considered as social gatherings, the parties were termed a success. Posters were seen strewn across lawns, driveways, and along the sidewalks.

Given by various clubs and students, the poster parties served drinks and chips along with the paint. The following day the cheerleaders carried the posters to the school and decorated the halls.

As a further spirit booster, car caravans were formed for all games away from the school. Students gathered in the west parking lot around 6:00 with crepe paper and balloons to decorate their cars for the ride to the game.

The caravans led the way to the unfamiliar places and were sometimes able to get a police escort to the games.

Skits, Posters Boost Spirit Before Games



Glenn Davis, Debra Mitchell, Sandy Petty, Karen Fulton, and Barbara Acker present a somewhat ridiculous version of a Big Sam football game at a very spirited Texan rally.

During football season pep rallies were held every Friday morning to raise spirit for the evening games. Captains for the week were announced by the team, and the two most valuable players from the week before were chosen by the Key Club.

Each week there were performances by the band, majorettes, and the Tex-Annes. The cheerleaders and bellguards presented little skits which pertained to the night's game.

Often one of the coaches was asked to give a pep talk, and the pep rallies were ended with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Assemblies Provide Break in Daily Routine

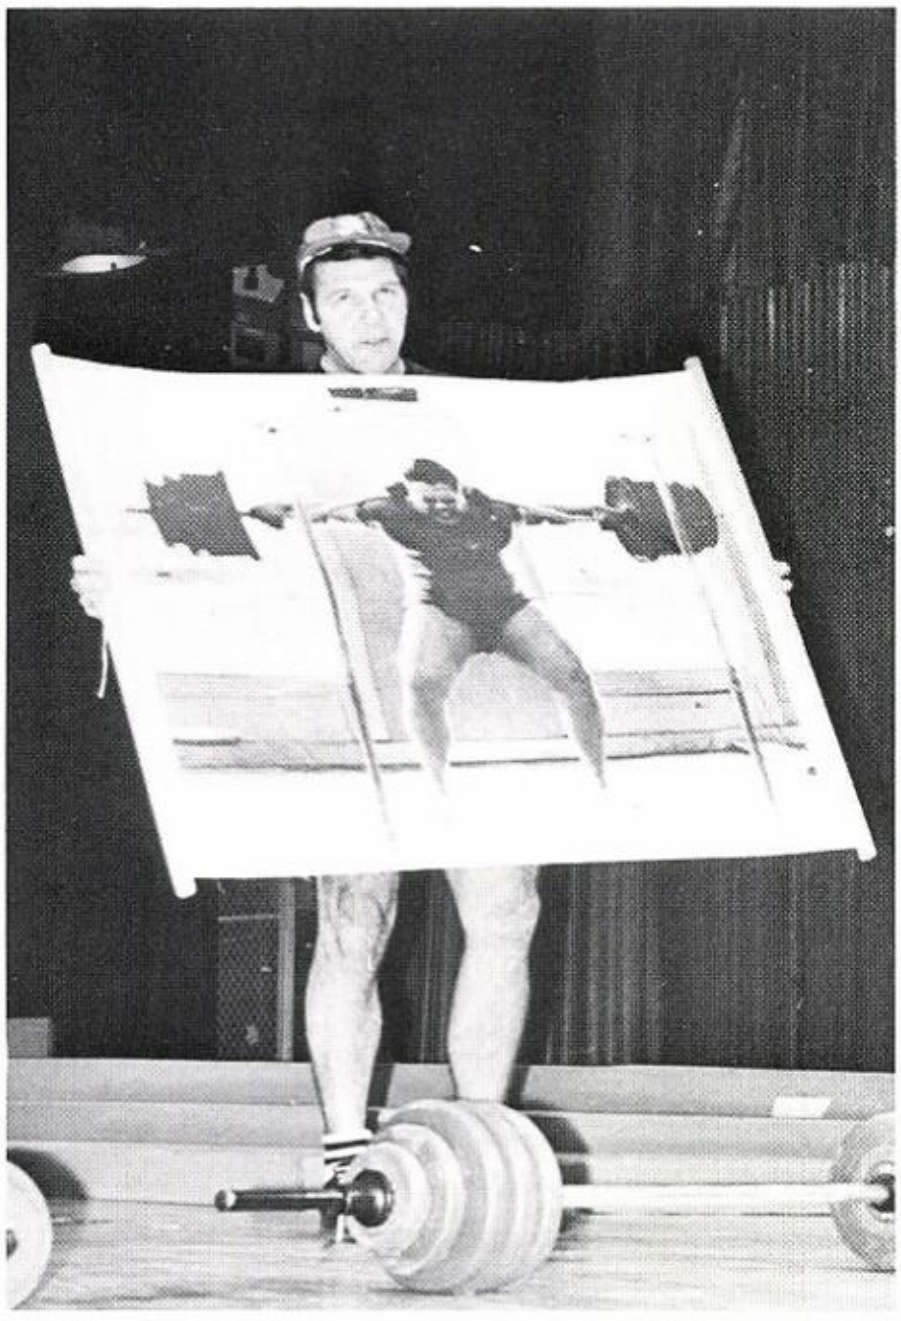
Ron Pretz aids Larry James, a D-J from KFJZ, in presenting "The History of Rock."

This was a year filled with an abundance of assemblies for Sam Houston. In the Fall, programs were given by members of TARS, the fire department, and representatives in the line of the varied health careers.

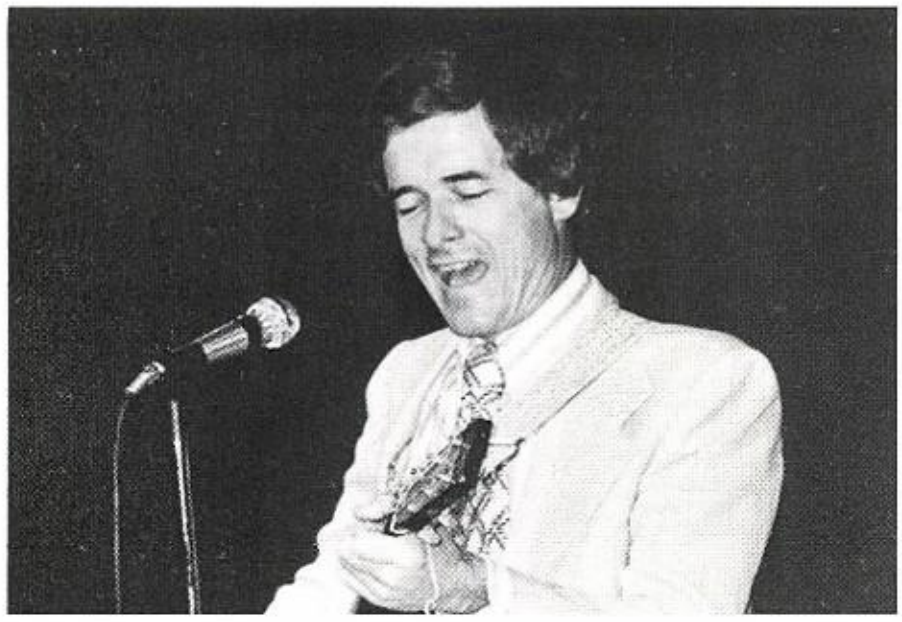
In March the Lamar Key Club gave a presentation urging students to participate in a walkathon for the March of Dimes.

Other interesting programs included the models, Bell Telephone, the History of Rock, Mr. Universe, and a presentation by students in DECA.

In May the Cherokee assembly was held and many awards were presented to the students.

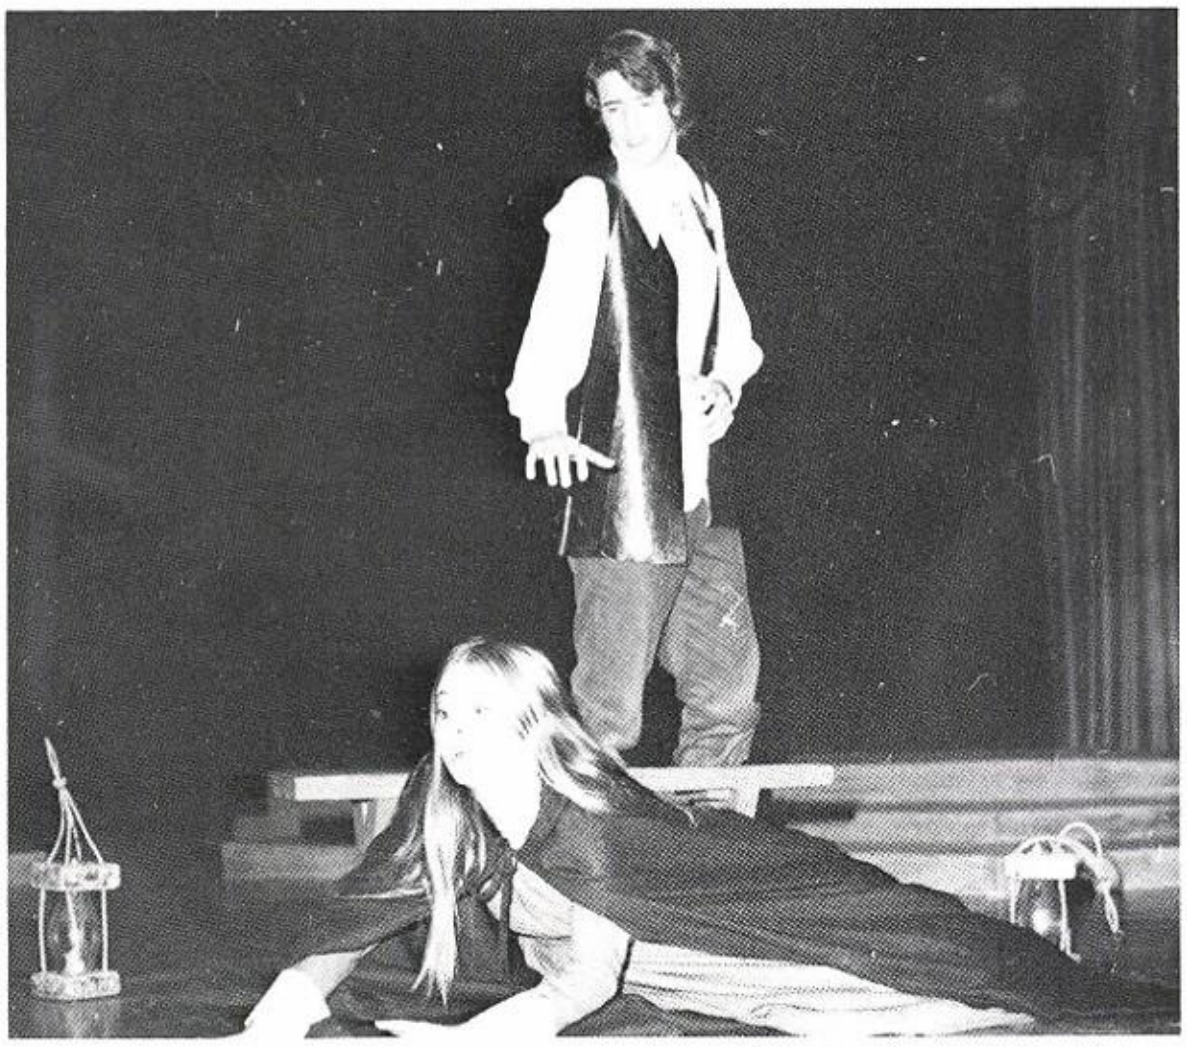


Mr. Universe made a visit to Sam for an all-school assembly.



Mr. Spencer Guimarin leads the fall Health Careers assembly.

Introducing all the assemblies, Mike Patterson acted as emcee.



Refusing to run away with her, John Proctor, Paul Brake, throws Abigail, Julie Osburn, to the ground. In retaliation she accuses his wife, Elizabeth, of witchcraft.

November 17 and 18 were the dates for the all-school play, "The Crucible." About 800 people came to see this interpretation of life as it was in a Puritan community.

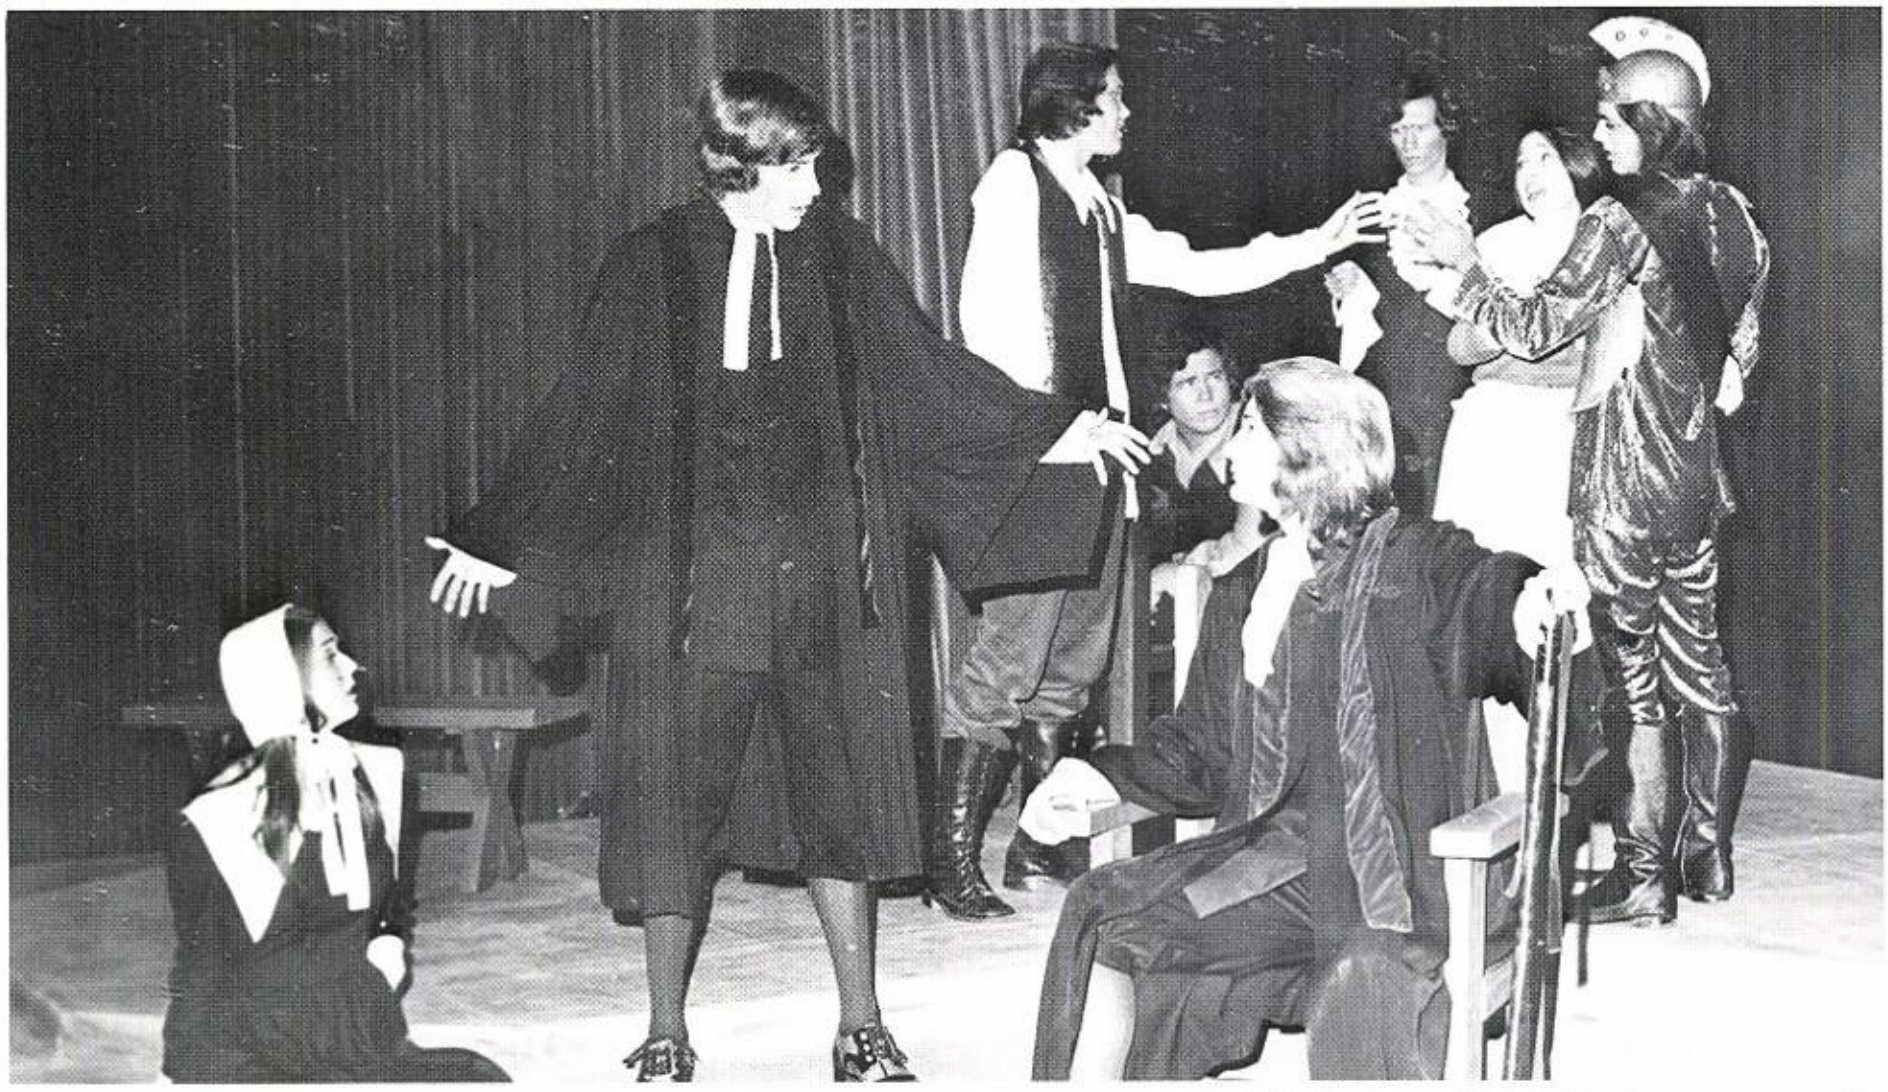
Written by the Pulitzer Prize winner, Arthur Miller, the play concerns the Salem witch trials, and shows how hate and vengeance can destroy an entire town.

In previous years portions of the play were presented to the Junior English classes in the form of a readers theater.

Julie Osburn, a sophomore, played the beaufiful Abigail, while juniors Sally Spelts and Paul Brake portrayed Elizabeth and John Proctor.

Other leads included seniors Craig Brinker as the Reverend Hale, Ricky Hodge as Governor Danford, and Rayble Smith as the Reverend Paris.

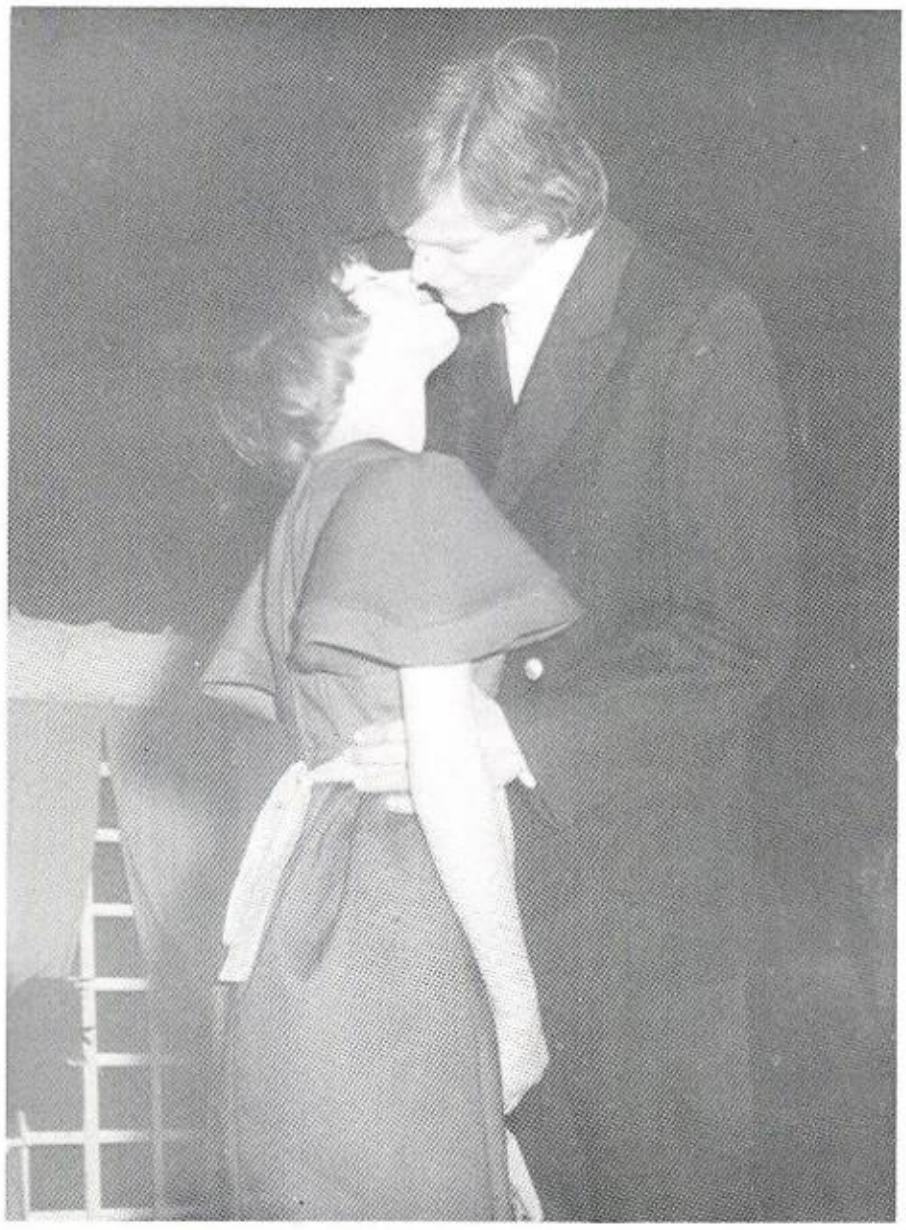
Drama Department Presents 'The Crucible'



Anna Shouse, Craig Brinker, Paul Brake, Miles Henderson, Richy Hodge, Rayble Smith, Sally Spelts, and Mark Ramirez were part of a tense witch trial during "The Crucible." The play was performed on the evenings of November 17 and 18 in the Sam Houston auditorium.

Grade School Kids Take Part in Musical

Dave Leister (the Captain) and Dawn Woodson (Elsa) have coffee outside. Gina Lombardi (Frau Schmidt) serves them.



Discovering that Frau Schraeder is not the one he loves, David Leister realizes that it is Julee Moore (Maria) he wants to marry.

Running February 22-24, Sam Houston's all-school musical was "The Sound of Music." The play, taking place in Austria during the Nazi movement, told the lovely story of the Von Trapp family singers.

This third choir production was directed by Miss Pamela Sewell and Mr. Louis Harris. The play was unique in that young people were needed for the children's parts. From the 117 auditioning, two children were chosen for each part.

Portraying major parts in the play were seniors Julee Moore, Dave Leister, Starlyn Sherman, Blake Gable, and a sophomore, Tara Hutchinson.

One Act Play Wins District

Maxwell Anderson's one act play, "Elizabeth the Queen," won at both district and area competition. The cast included Julie Osburn, Craig Brinker, Richy Hodge, and Paul Brake.

Also performing in the play were Sally Spelts, Larry Cook, Miles Henderson, Taffy Davis, and Byron Buchanan.

Julie Osburn, playing Elizabeth, received three best actress awards with Sally Spelts and Larry Cook being selected for the all-star cast. Honorable mentions were awarded to Craig Brinker, Miles Henderson, and Sally Spelts.

'Charlie Brown,' Second Annual Playhouse

"I'm training for Sunday's game," Patty explains to Schroeder, as Snoopy looks on.

This fall "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" was presented as Sam Houston's second children's theatre. The production, scheduled for the 29 and 30 of September, was presented at two evening performances and a Saturday matinee.

The afternoon show was followed by an autograph party with cookies and punch being served in the cafeteria.

The six member cast included seniors Richy Hodge as Linus, Julee Moore as Patty, and Dave Leister as Snoopy.

The junior cast members were Paul Brake as Schroeder, Sally Spelts playing Lucy, and Larry Cook as Charlie Brown.

Another cast member, Starlyn Sherman, was injured the night before the first performance and was unable to play her part.

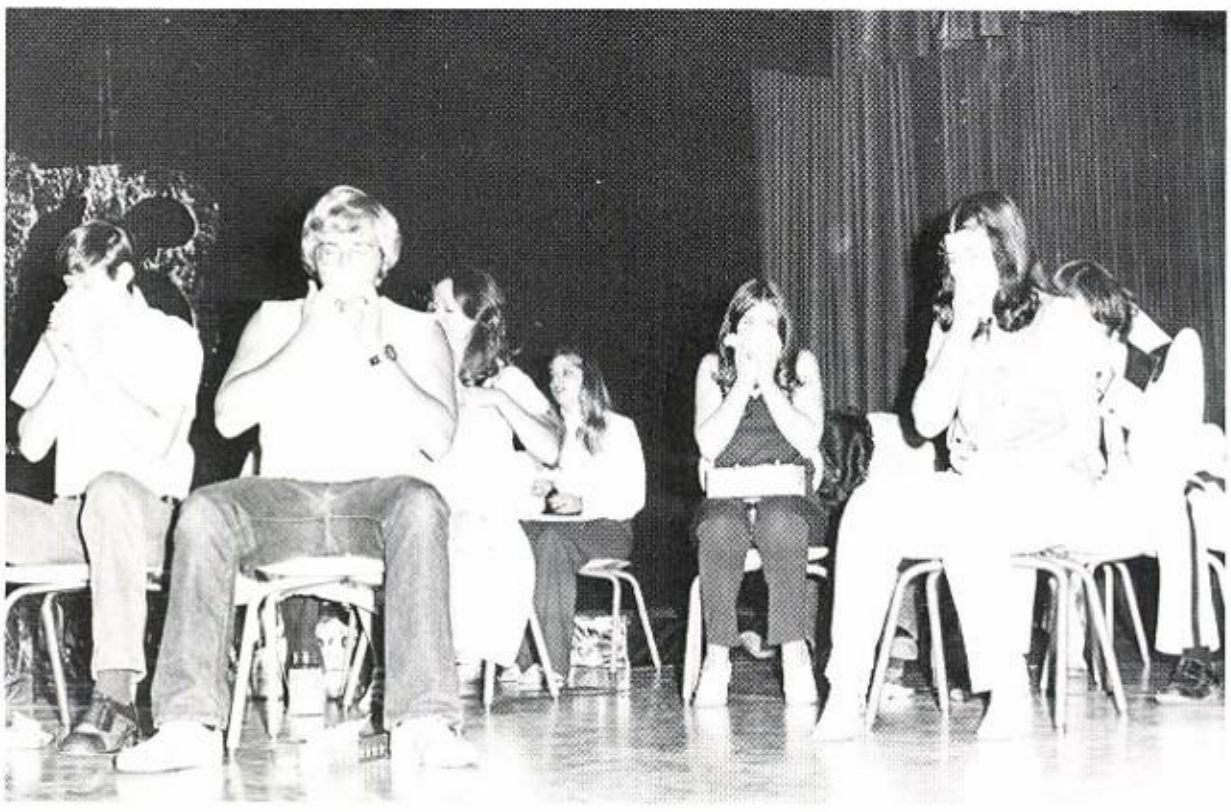
Cherokee Assembly Combines Skits, Awards



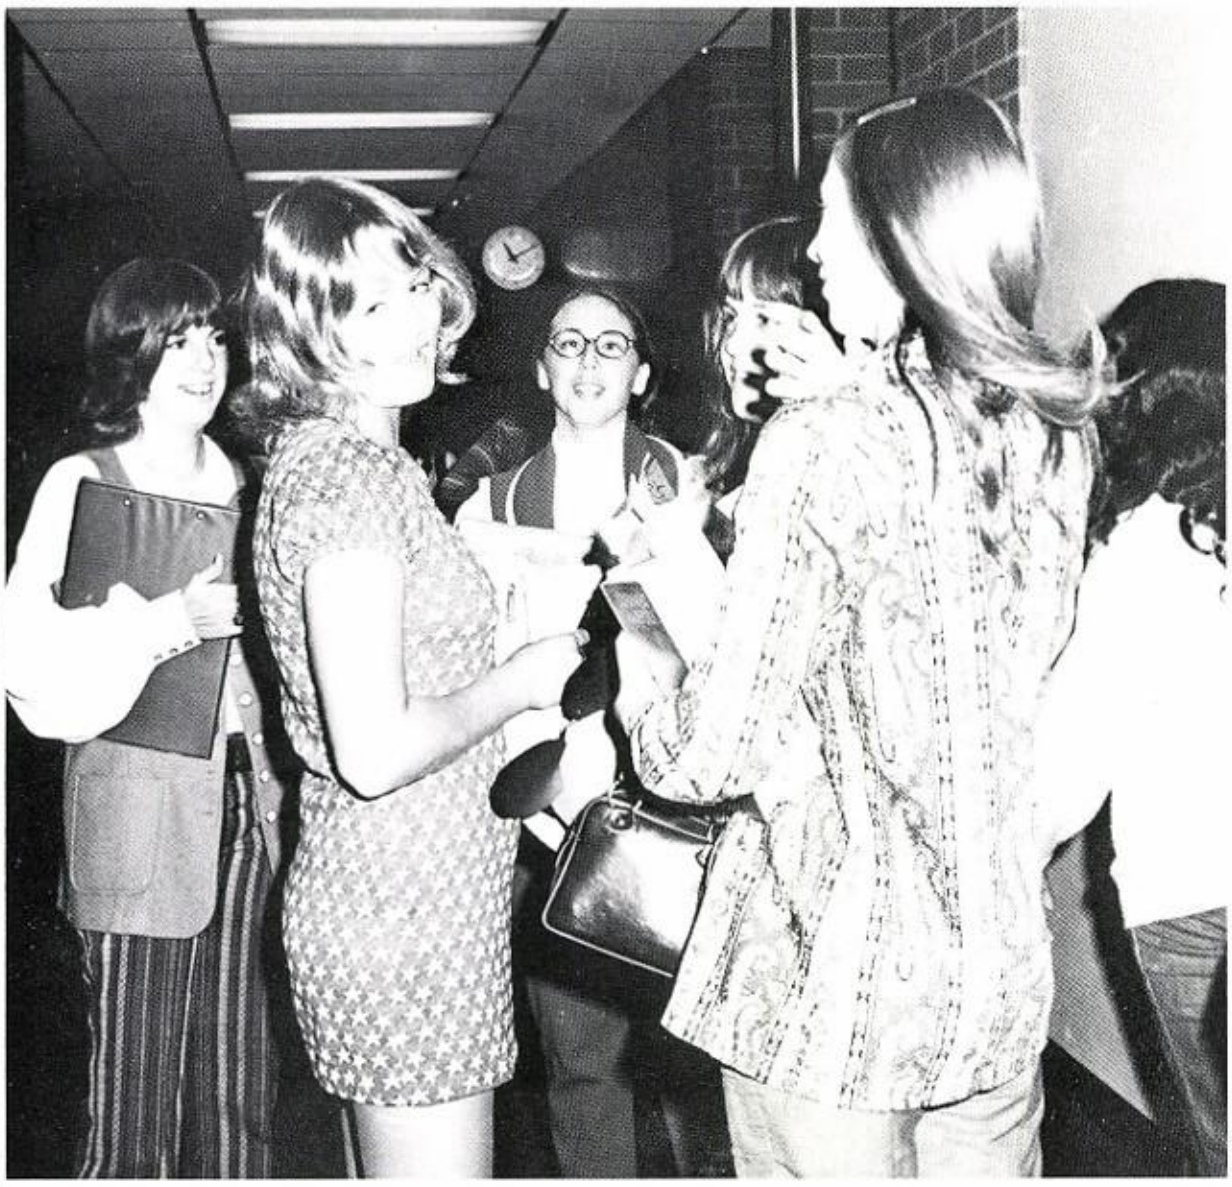
In memory of the good old days when everybody seemed to be catching something, the publication staffs presented a skit called the "Sick Skit" at the Annual Assembly, May 16.

Portraying established SHHS exes, Taffy Davis and Richy Hodge highlighted the assembly which was held on May 16.

At the Cherokee Assembly, a tradition at Sam Houston, the Departmental Awards were presented and winners of various titles were recognized.

Two skits, the "Snow Skit" and the "Sick Skit," were take-offs on actual happenings of the '72-'73 school year.

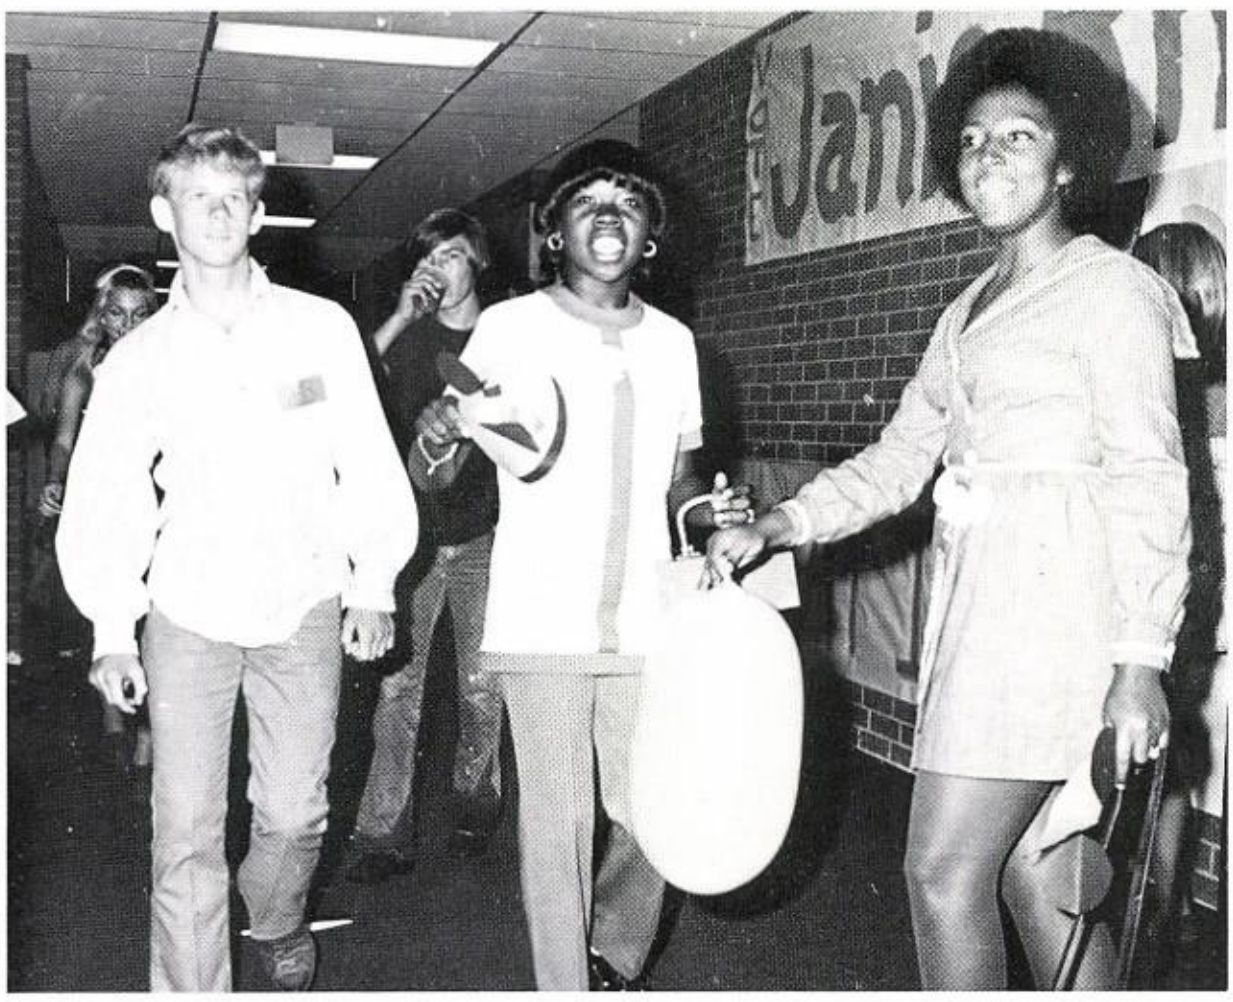
Luty Ferrando was presented with an "authentic" mock-up of the cover for the annual, and the '73 Cherokee was dedicated to Mrs. Frances Elick.



Seniors Debbie Nunnally, Pam Hughes, and Sandy McWilliams stop some girls to force them to sing before they have a chance to find security in their fourth period classroom.

Mike Patterson makes Terry Johannesen an offer he can't refuse at a weekly rally.

Sophs Suprisingly Last Through Howdy Day



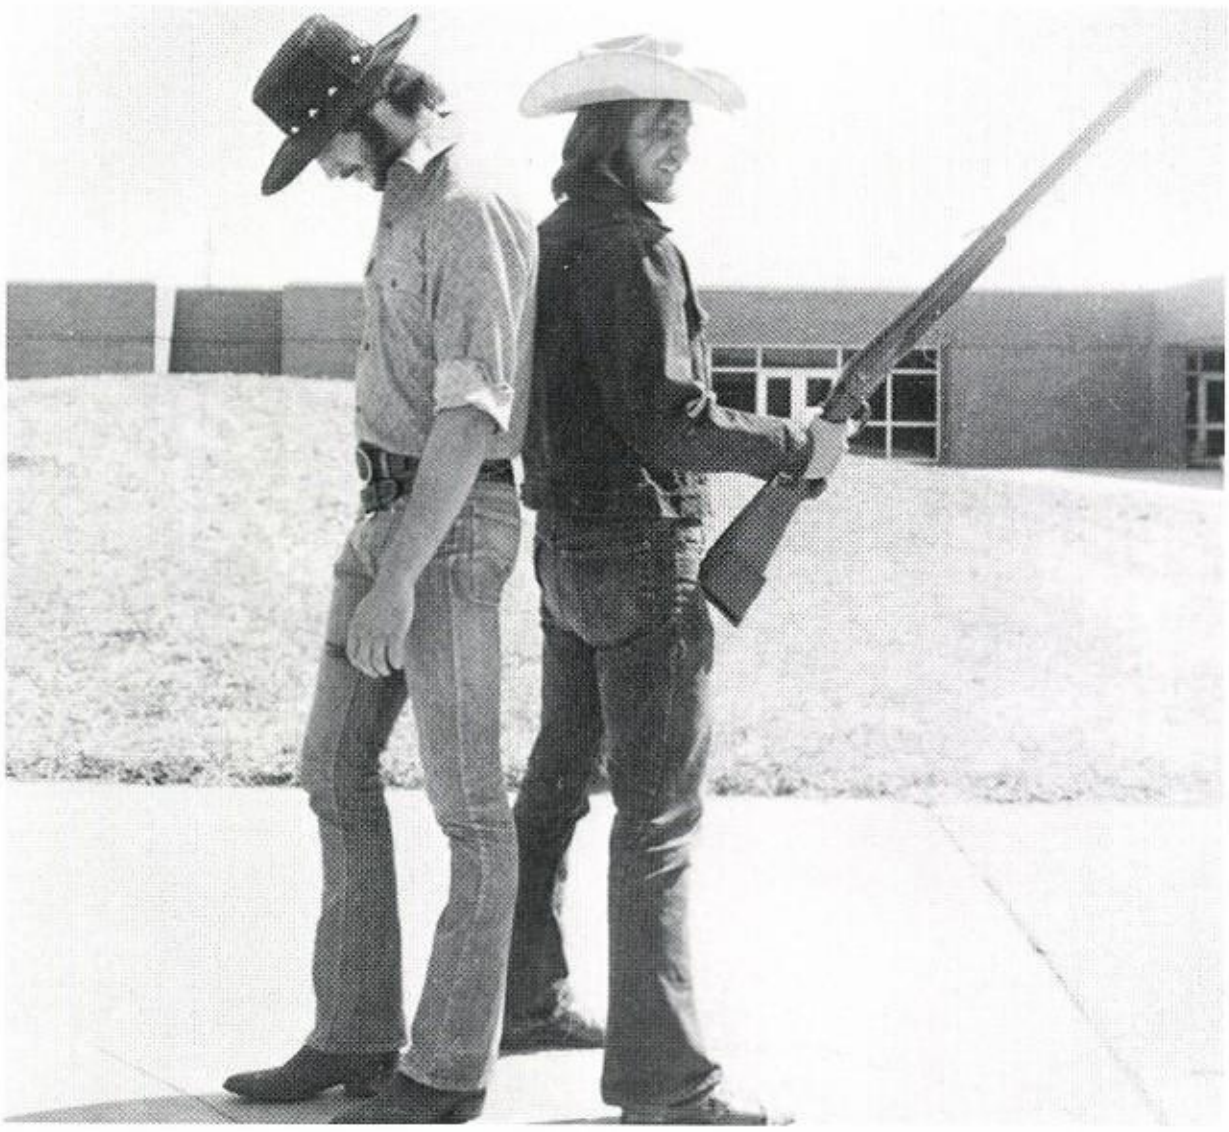
Completely ignoring the sophomore girls who are armed with balloons and beanies junior Rusty Pedigo hurries to catch a "friend" who is awaiting him at the end of the hall.

With the announcement that a package was ready for the Sophomore Class by Dennis Malcolm, the " '72 Howdy Day" began. The sophomores were given beanies and mouse ear badges to show their classification.

The rules for Howdy Day were set by the Student Congress. Any upperclassmen could make a sophomore sing, while seniors could corner any junior for a song, too. The teachers could request a song from seniors, so the fight song was heard throughout the school. Students were fined for not wearing the proper identification telling of their year in school.

At Friday's pep rally, the "Mickeys" were initiated as Big Sam Texans. A skit was shown based on "The Godfather."

First Texan Day Carnival Held at Night



Practicing for a shoot out on Texan Day, Hank Angell and Bobby Arnold meet back to back for a duel. Shoot-outs were only a small part of the courtyard carnival's activities.

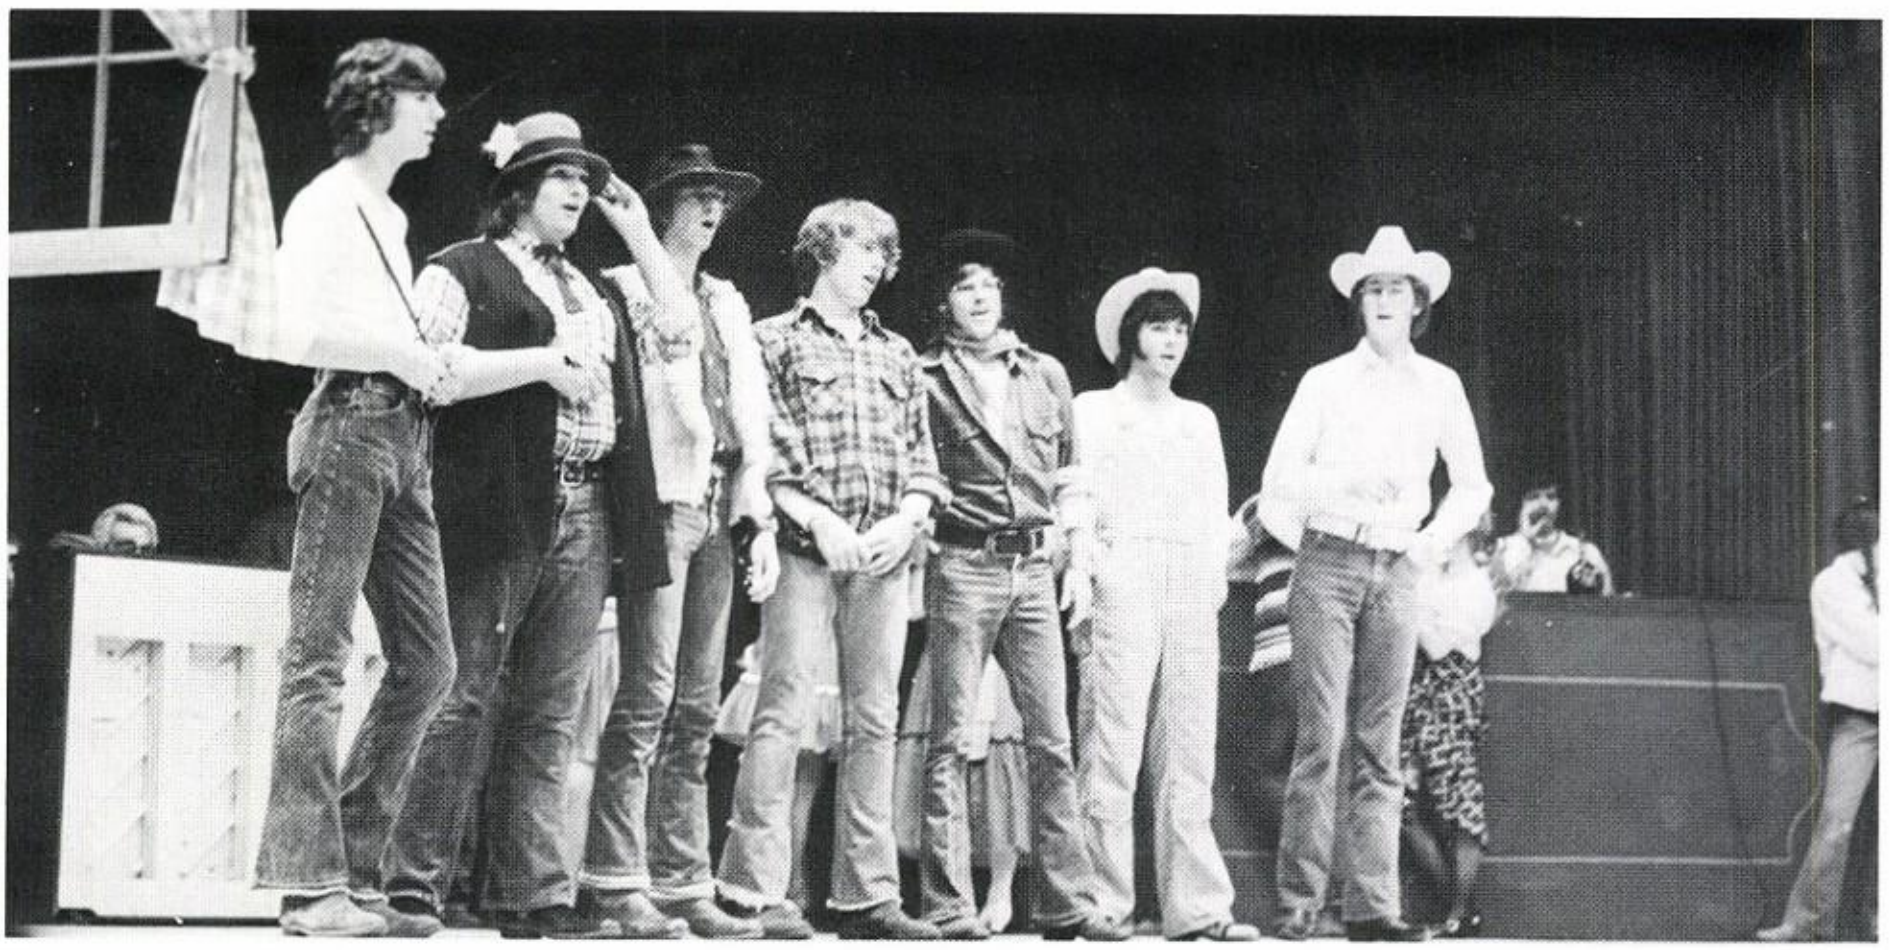
March 23 was the date for the first Sam Houston Texan Day Carnival. In spite of the ugly weather, the evening did prove to be a success.

With 19 organizations and some 800 people participating in the festivities, the "Old West" was relived by the students.

The sheriffs and deputies helped to keep order with a jail built by the Senior Class. Gunfighters brought the scene to life with the guys in the white hats not always winning.

A Cappella Choir presented live floor shows in the auditorium, and marriage licenses were issued by AFS. The Journalism Department provided a roulette wheel, and the Sophomore Class held a nickel toss.

Other activities included a car smash, a dunking machine, a tricycle race, and an egg toss. Cokes, cotton candy, and snow cones were available.



The Texan Day saloon show was performed four times with two different shows Friday night. Singing a western song during one of the shows were seniors Elmer L'Roy, Jay Sabatucci, Dave Arinder, Randy Mayfield, Lee McKinney, Larry Wilkinson, and Troy Bradley.

Second Follies Production Raises $558

Playing Dr. Hook and the Medicine Show were Mike Smith, Mr. Winter and Mr. Farmer. For promotional purposes Mrs. Fowler played Edith Ann during the "Follies" assemblies.

The second annual Faculty Follies was held on April 6 in the school auditorium. Any Sam Houston faculty member was invited to participate in the show, sponsored by the American Field Service.

Plans for the program began early in the year, while the actual rehearsals started only two weeks before the event.

The purpose of the show was to raise money for the Arlington Chapter of AFS and $558 was made. In addition to this the show proved to be a lot of fun for all those involved on or behind the stage.

Following the performance, a cast party was held at the home of Mrs. Marjean Kitts.

Senior English teacher Mrs. Barbara Baldwin tries to convince the audience that her new soap, Grrrrr, is the grreatest soap to buy.

Mrs. Patsy Allen of the cafeteria staff demonstrates the skit which won them a second place prize from the Food Service Association.

Sophomore Pam Hindman and senior Melanie Hill get it all together in anticipation of Calliope's first sales. The magazine was the only one published by an Arlington high school.

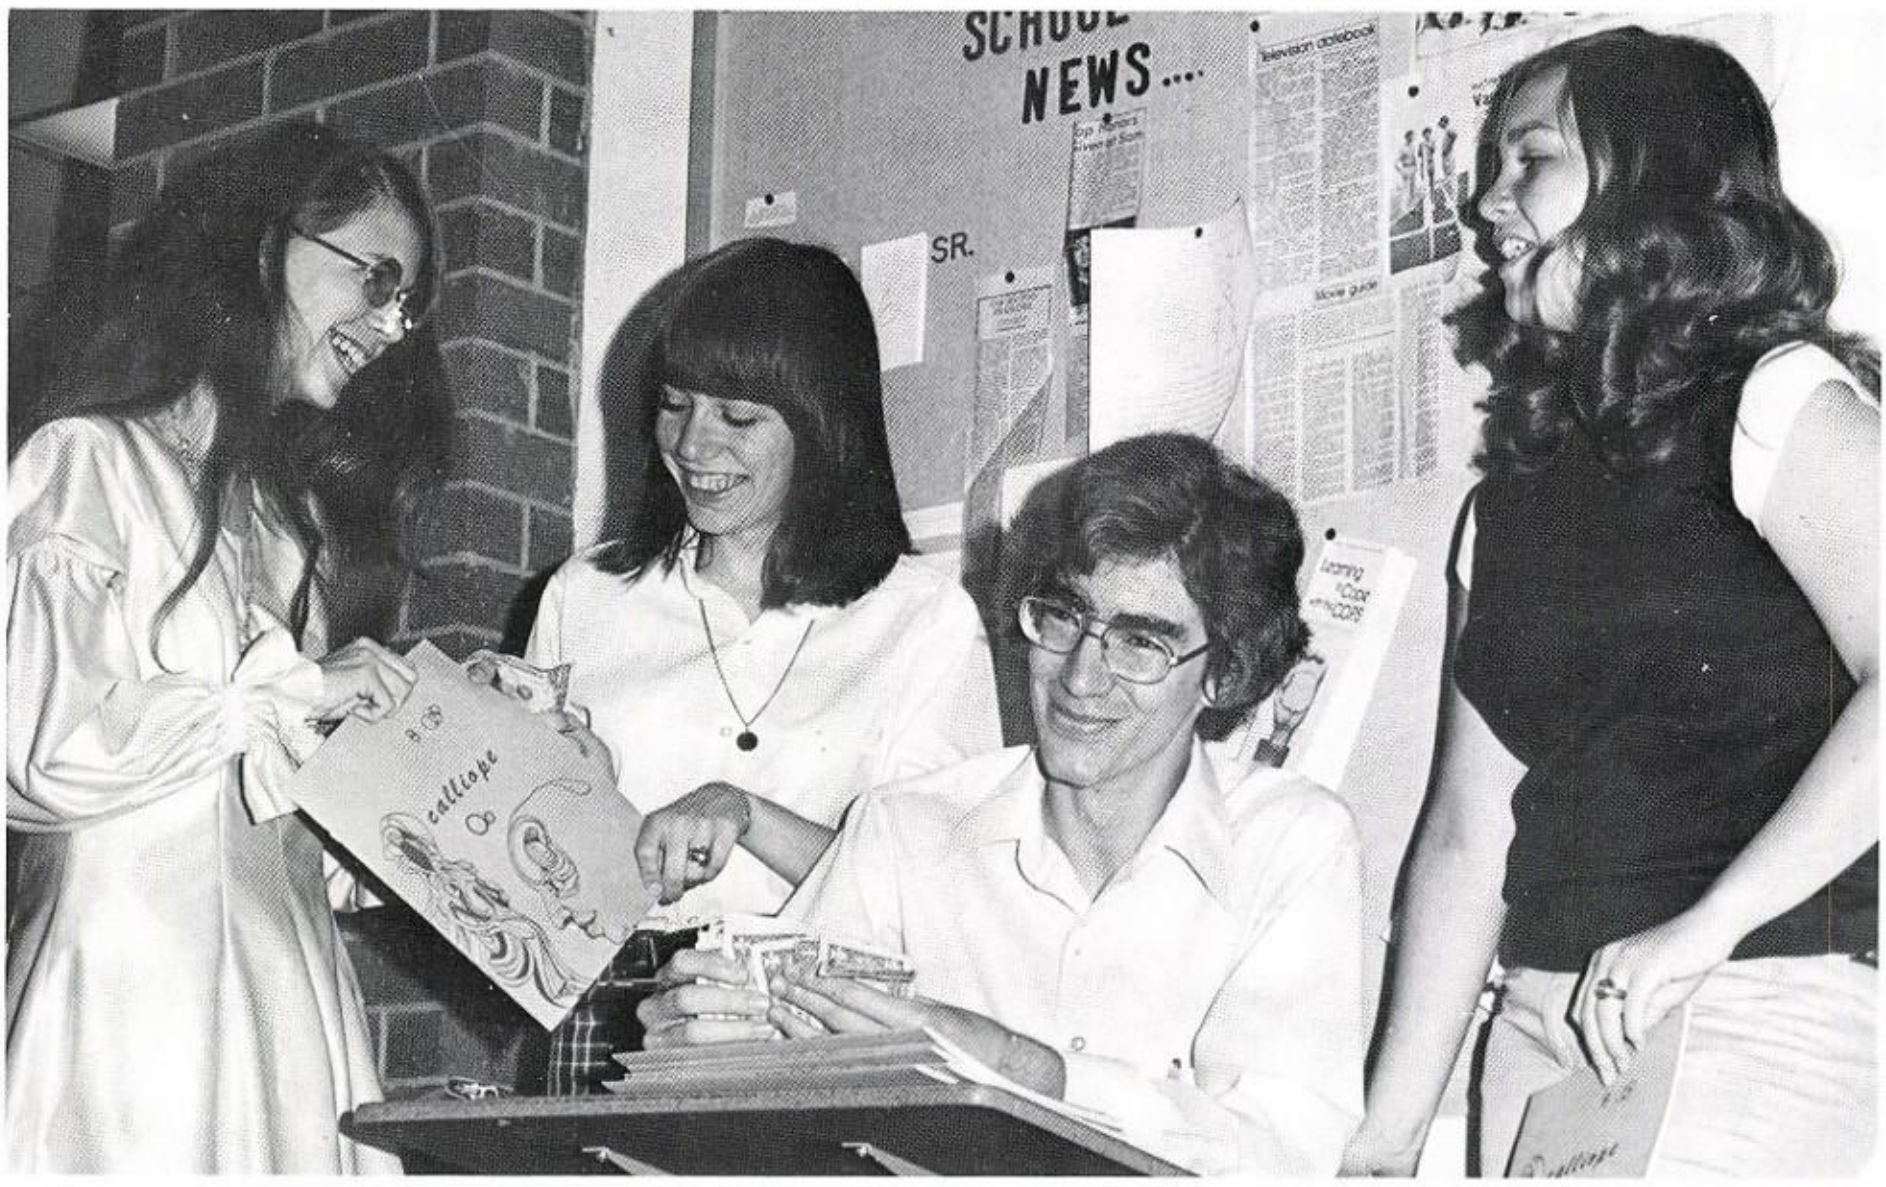
Book Proves Big Success

The first literary magazine at Big Sam in several years, Calliope, was published by the Creative Writing Club.

Charmaigne Woods served as editor of the publication, the only one of its kind published by an Arlington high school.

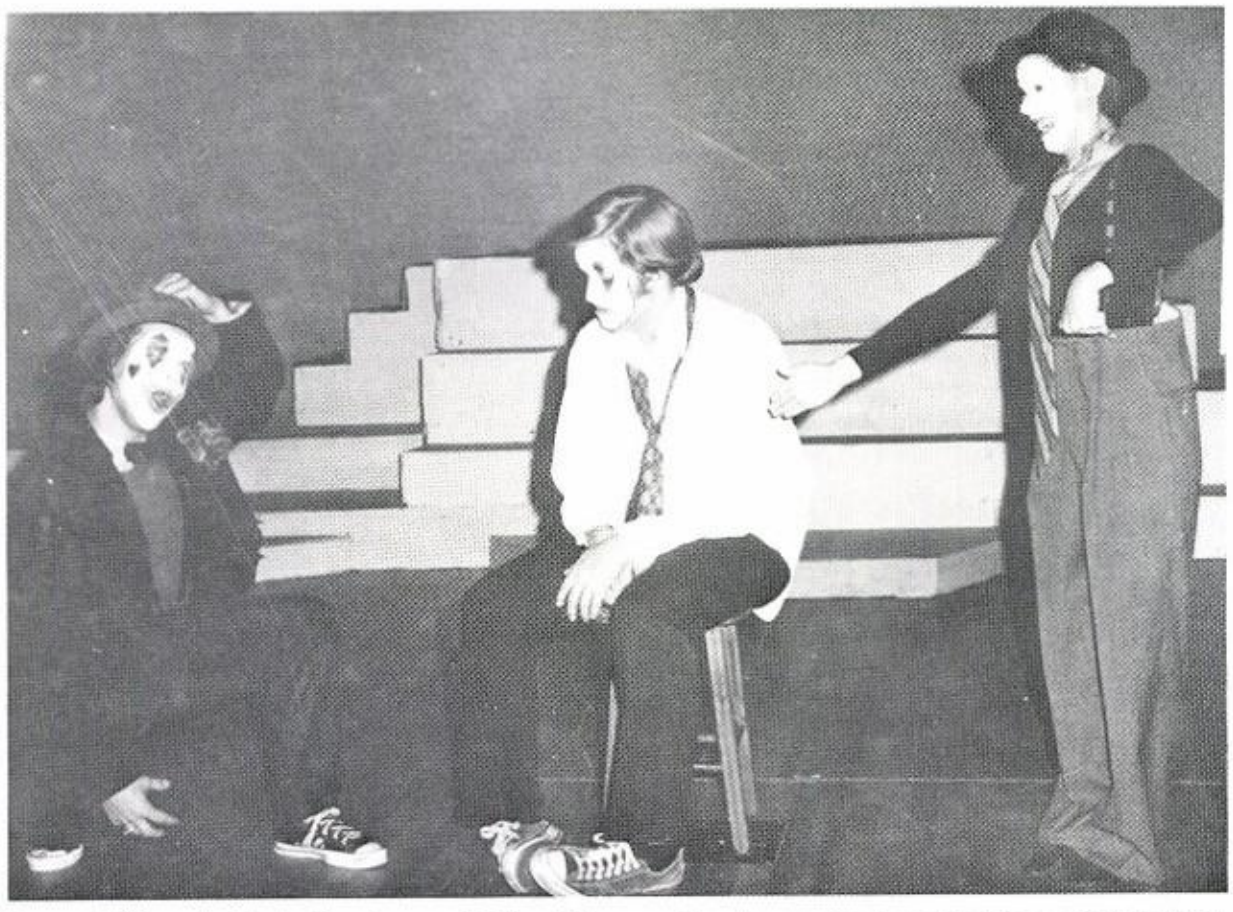
A sophomore, James Thornton, was assistant editor and in charge of sales and publicity. The rest of the staff was made up of members of the Creative Writing Club. Mrs. Jeannine Crill was the sponsor.

The name Calliope came from the god of heroic poetry in Greek Mythology. Material for the book was provided by a creative writing contest.



Cindy Grinstead and Robin Wilson thumb through a copy of Calliope while James Thornton counts money brought in by its sales. Editor Charmaigne Woods supervises. The literary magazines were sold in May for 65 cents by the Creative Writing Club, who published the book.

Showing off their talents in a girls' quintet, Carolyn Burton, Carrie Brown, Pam Pridemore, Dixie Johnson, and Pam Wall sing at the Sophomore Talent Show, which was held May 21.



Bruce Richards, Kelly Roche, and Julee Moore act out a pantomime for Dance '73. In this show, the Drama III students choreographed all tap, jazz, pantomime, and modern dances.

Kenny "Elvis" Burgett does his own version of "Blue Suede Shoes" at the show.

Dance '73, Talent Show Held in May

Some of the talent at Sam Houston was displayed during the month of May. Students prepared Dance '73 and a sophomore talent show.

Dance '73 was presented by Drama III students on May 18 in the theatre. The program consisted of dances put together by the students. Modern dance, tap, jazz, and pantomime were among the performances.

Sponsored by the Choral Department, the Sophomore Talent Show was held on May 21. The students composed their own acts for the performance.

Dance Slated for Sophomore Class Social

"Snowrise" played the music for the Sophomore Dance, held on May 4. The dance, open to the entire Student Body, was held to raise funds for the Sophomore Class.

The four-man group played before a crowd of around 45 people, earning the Sophomore Class about $30. The event took place in the Cafeteria from 8 to 11 p.m.

The admission for the dance was either $1 per person or $1.75 per couple.

Preparations were made by class officers, Roger Peterson, Steve Martindale, Dixie Johnson, and Carol McElree.

Dixie Johnson, sophomore, and junior Nicky Logan rock out to the music while their friends seem more interested in watching.

Six Flags, Lobo Give Seniors Fun

Some rules were overlooked, as these "little kids" rode on the mini-mine train.

The all-night party at Six Flags over Texas was the senior social. It was held May 25 from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. Tickets were sold during both lunches in the cafeteria. The cost was $6.50 a ticket which included the cost of parking.

The party was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher-Student Association. The park was open to any senior in this area. No senior was allowed to leave the park after entering.

The rain did not hamper the fun of the seniors. Their favorite rides were the Monster and the Runaway Mine Train.

At the all-night party at Six Flags, some seniors found the Sombrero Ride fun. The park stayed open from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m.

Senior Prom Takes on Patio Atmosphere

As a means of celebrating the end of 12 long years of studying, the seniors of '73 held their annual prom on Saturday, April 28. The festivities were held on the patio of the Club Southwest at the Inn of Six Flags.

Approximately 215 students and teachers attended the occasion formally celebrating the closing of the school year.

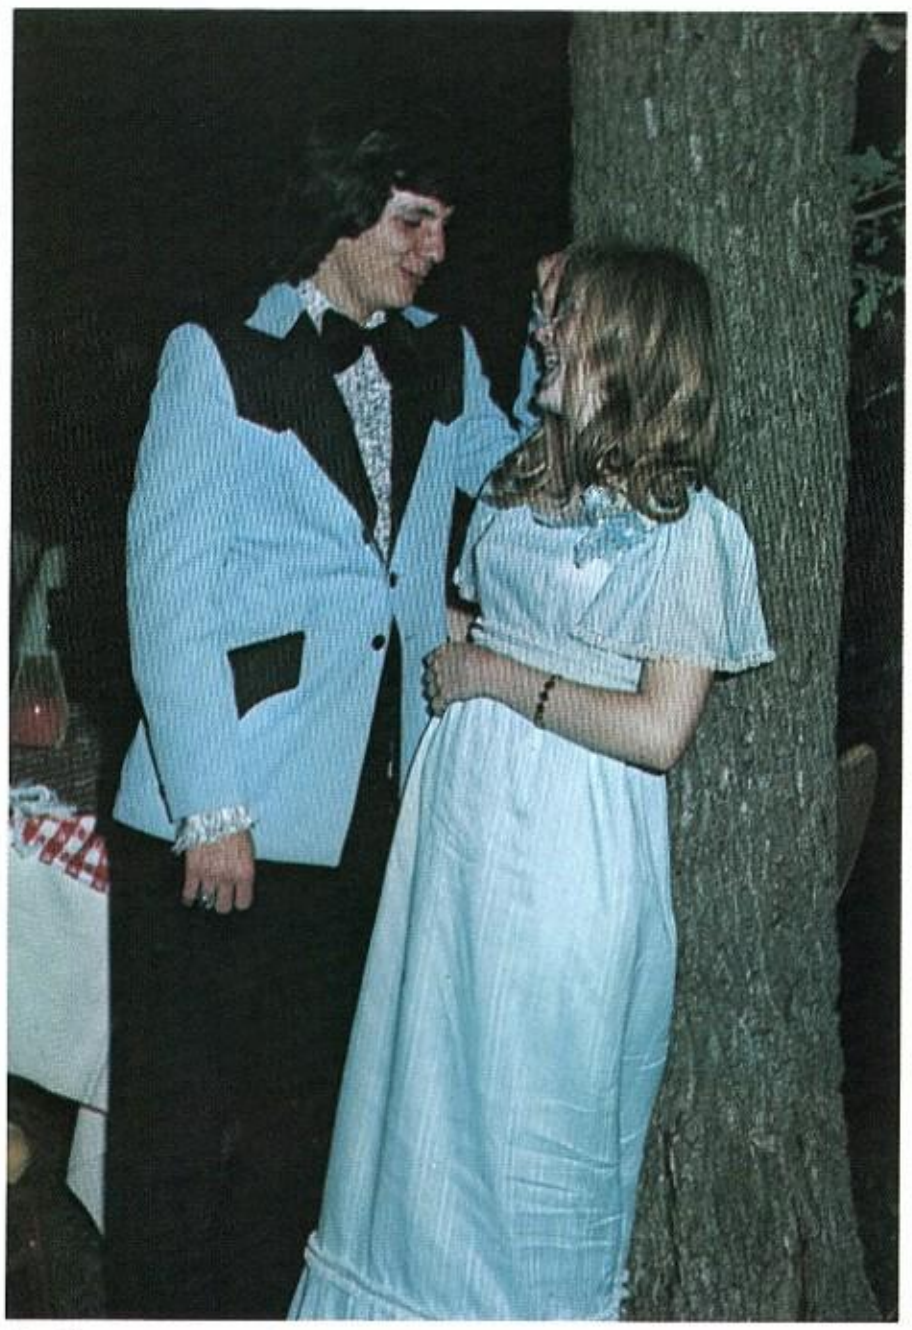
Senior Class president Craig Brinker welcomed the guests at the dinner preceding the dance, while social chairman Dennis Malcolm led the invocation.

The patio, which enclosed a fountain type swimming pool, was decorated with Chinese lanterns.

Having to watch their step so that they did not fall into the pool, Blake Gable and Julee Moore, as did everyone else, found it easy to keep up with Lead Stamp, a local rock group.

Taking time to rest between dances, Paul Endsley and Kelly Haas watch as others dance. Also sitting down to enjoy the music are Jean Ann Nivens and Troy Bradley, Jo Lynne Kitchens and Jay Sabatucci. Everyone liked the idea of an outside dance held on the patio by the pool.

Getting ready to have their pictures made, Russ Reinoehl sits patiently as Robbie Alford straightens his tie. Colored pictures were taken by Tony Bearden, photographer, for those who wanted a memento of their night out. Pictures included two 5 × 7's and four wallet sized.



Finding a tree nearby to rest against, David Bushart and Starlyn Sherman break away from the crowd to talk about plans afterward.

John Ashlock and Kim Tinberg figure everybody must be having a good time so they make their way to the dance area to join the fun.

UTA Hosts Baccalaureate, Commencement

Baccalaureate services set the 1973 seniors on the final road toward graduation. The service was held on Sunday, May 27, at Texas Hall.

The Senior Class officers presented the service beginning with vice-president Hank Angell delivering the invocation. President Craig Brinker gave the welcome followed by the A Cappella Choir. The reading of the Scriptures was presented by class secretary Susan Manifold. Dennis Malcolm, social chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Father Gerard Scholl. Following the address, social chairman Debbie Gowin gave the benediction.

Commencement exercises were held Tuesday, May 29, also at Texas Hall. The invocation was given by Student Congress president Mike Patterson, and salutatorian Kathy Williamson gave the welcome. After the A Cappella Choir sang, Doug Maner gave the valedictory address on the topic, "The Certainty of Uncertainty."

Immediately after the choir sang the Alma Mater, Mr. B. H. Remynse introduced two other speakers, School Board President Dr. Truett Boles and Superintendent of Schools Mr. James Martin.

Valedictorian Doug Maner talks before a crowd of 4,000 people, while 610 seniors wait for the chance to get their diplomas.

Mr. Remynse and Mr. Bicknell bide their time until their chance to perform.

Dr. Truett Boles represented the Board.

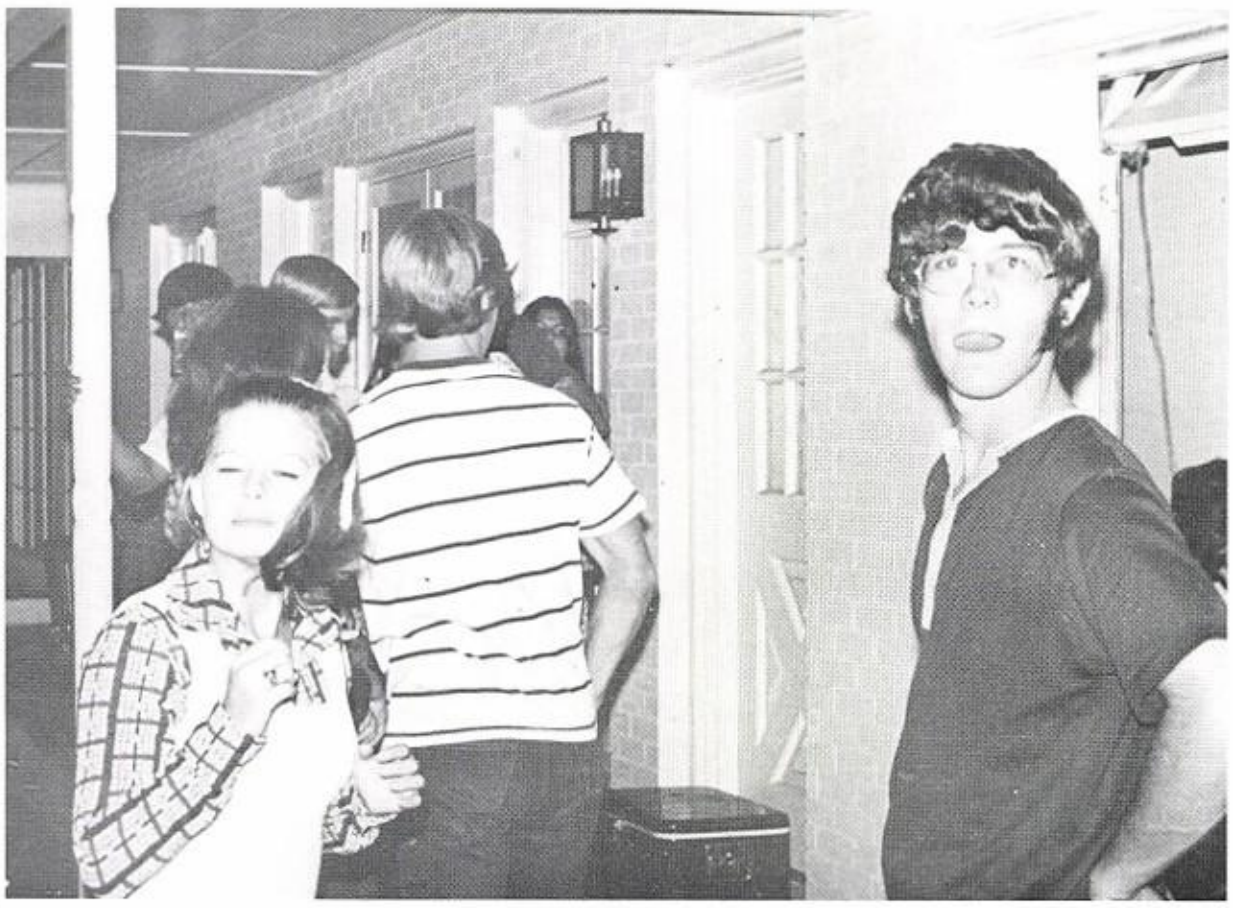
Student Congress Manages School Affairs



At the poster party sponsored by the Student Congress, Dennis Malcolm and Pam Jankowiak display their true feelings toward the surprise attack of the sneaky photographer.

Representatives to Student Congress were chosen September 19 from the homerooms. A total of 54 delegates was elected. These representatives composed the House, while the presidents of all the clubs and the class officers composed the Senate.

Leading both the House and the Senate in planning activities were president, Mike Patterson; vice-president, Richard Ivy; and secretaries, Sherry Haney and Janna Hopson.

Student Congress activities included Howdy Day, Homecoming, and a new project, the Texan Day Carnival.

To support these activities, representatives sold calendars, decals, license plates, and the class spirit links.

Getting together before leaving for the Kiwanis-sponsored Youth City Government Day are the seniors, Paul Taylor, Mike Smith, Al Reed, Bobby Arnold, and Lezlie Langham.

NHS Induction Ceremony Held March 13

Jim Johnston, a member of the Junior Class, receives his candle from treasurer Kay Jones at the National Honor Society Inductions. The ceremony was held in the theater on March 13.

The activities of the Honor Society were not all academic. Their activities included the Homecoming reception, Teacher Appreciation Day, the Texan Day tricycle races, and the Spring Banquet. At the traditional candlelight ceremony, March 13, 70 juniors and seven seniors were inducted into the club based on their service, scholarship, and leadership.

Club officers for this year were president, Taffy Davis; vice president, Denise White; treasurer, Kay Jones; and secretary, Gay Howard. Guiding the club were sponsors Mr. Ron Crowther and Mrs. Joy Mitchell.

New members of the National Honor Society repeat the oath during the induction ceremony as they are initiated into the honors club. The requirements of the National Honor Society are that all of the members must maintain a 9.5 or better grade average for each six-week period.

Club Hosts Rock Concert

To "enrich man's existence" was the theme of the national Key Club this year. So, the Arlington clubs made the promotion of the March of Dimes their main concern.

Among the activities sponsored by the Key Clubs were a can goods drive, a walkathon, and a benefit concert.

The officers for the club were Bobby Arnold, president; Charles Apel, vice-president; Hank Angell, lieutenant governor; Brent Turner, secretary.

Lead Stamp entertained the crowd at the benefit rock concert held on February 1.

National Poster Girl Paula Phiefer inspires the Key Club officers to back the March of Dimes for their project of the year.

FBLA Holds Season Party

FBLA was a club open to any student at Sam Houston taking a business course.

The club money-making project was selling typing paper to the typing classes. Their annual Christmas party was celebrated December 17 at the Arlington Steak House. The spring breakfast was held at the newly opened International House of Pancakes.

Officers for the club year were president, Barbara Acker; vice-president, Karen Fulton; and secretary, Lydia Behringer.

Sponsoring FBLA this year was Miss Doris Goff.

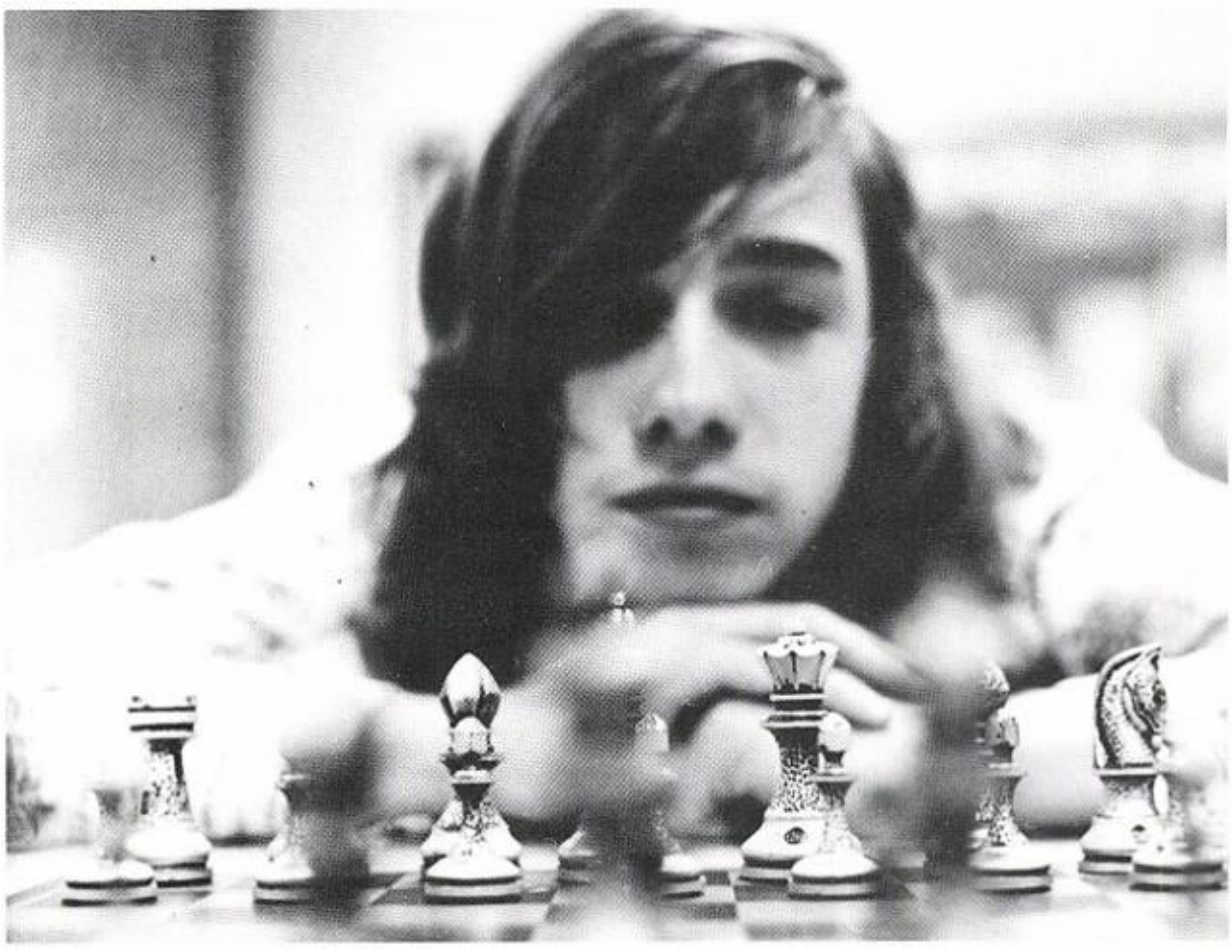
Three of the present members of the Future Business Leaders of America plan the spring breakfast. Making the plans are Sandy Petty, Barbara Acker, and Andrea Hearne, seniors.

Chess Club Competes in City Competition

The Chess Club consisted of 15 members interested in the game of chess. They met on Wednesday afternoons after school to practice. The members of the club challenged each other to determine position in preparation for tournaments later in the year.

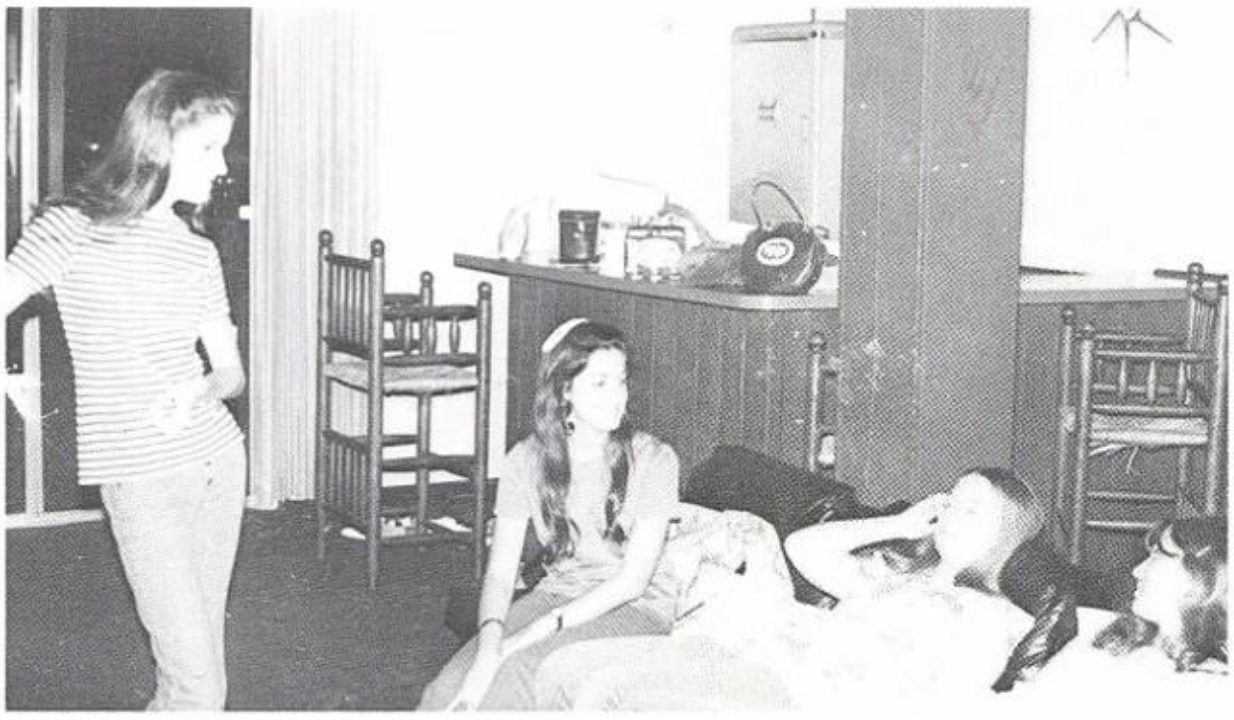
The only requirement for joining the club is an interest in learning the game. No former knowledge is necessary to belong. The club also welcomes card players who need playing partners.

Officers this year for the Chess Club included president, Robert Richer; vice-president, Phil Rushing; secretary-treasurer, Phil Parker; and acting as reporter, Tim Kevil. Mrs. Vaudrene Hunt was the sponsor.



Sophomore Chess Club member David Hofer spends a moment in quiet concentration, as he carefully plans the next move he is to make in order to put checkmate on his opponent.

Clean-Up Project Sponsored by Interact



Interact members, Kathi Payne, Mary Hairrell and Gay Howard, listen intensely to a very interesting story from Pam Drye at their party held at the Conquistador Apartments.

Interact is a service club sponsored by the Greater Southwest Rotary Club. Among their activities are park clean up, powderpuff football, and the main project, Youth to Youth. The members talk to elementary students on moral issues.

Serving as officers this year are president, Jean Ann Nivens; vice-president, Debbie Brackenridge; treasurer, Kathi Payne; and secretary, Kathy Williamson. Pam Jankowiak and Pam Drye serve on the board of directors. Mr. Robert Rober is Interact's sponsor.

Artists Plan Social Events

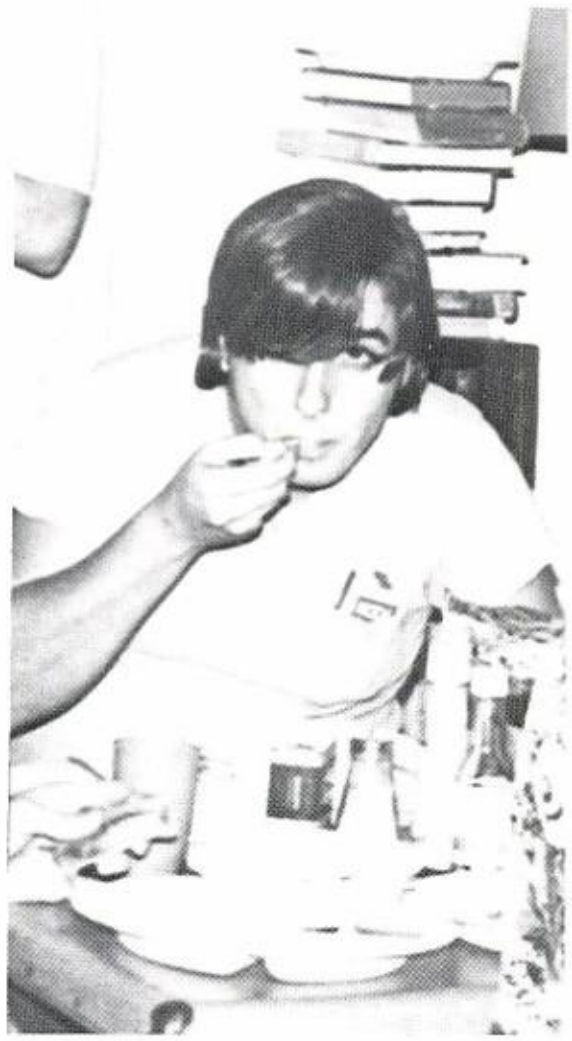
The Art Club is open to any student taking an art class. With evening and before school meetings the club held a poster party at the home of Miss Janet Slack, art sponsor. The Art Club also held its big Christmas party at Miss Slack's.

For its Texan Day project, the club sponsored a "Mystic Arts" Booth. The attractions of the booth included fortune telling and palm readings.

The officers for the '72-'73 Art Club were Karla Neal, president; Robert Aguilar, vice-president; Lea Ann Hudson, secretary; Lou Ann Underwood, treasurer; Tony Guadagnolo, project chairman; and Lou Ann Cable, parliamentarian.

Rhea Collier and Bryan Parks, both Art Club members, make plans for the "Youth Art Month" when their work will be displayed at the new main Arlington Public Library.

At the first meeting of the Foreign Language Club, the president Dennis Malcolm discussed a proposal suggested last year to subdivide the original club into separate language groups.



Alan Lane enjoys feeding his face with the Russian food at their club's party.

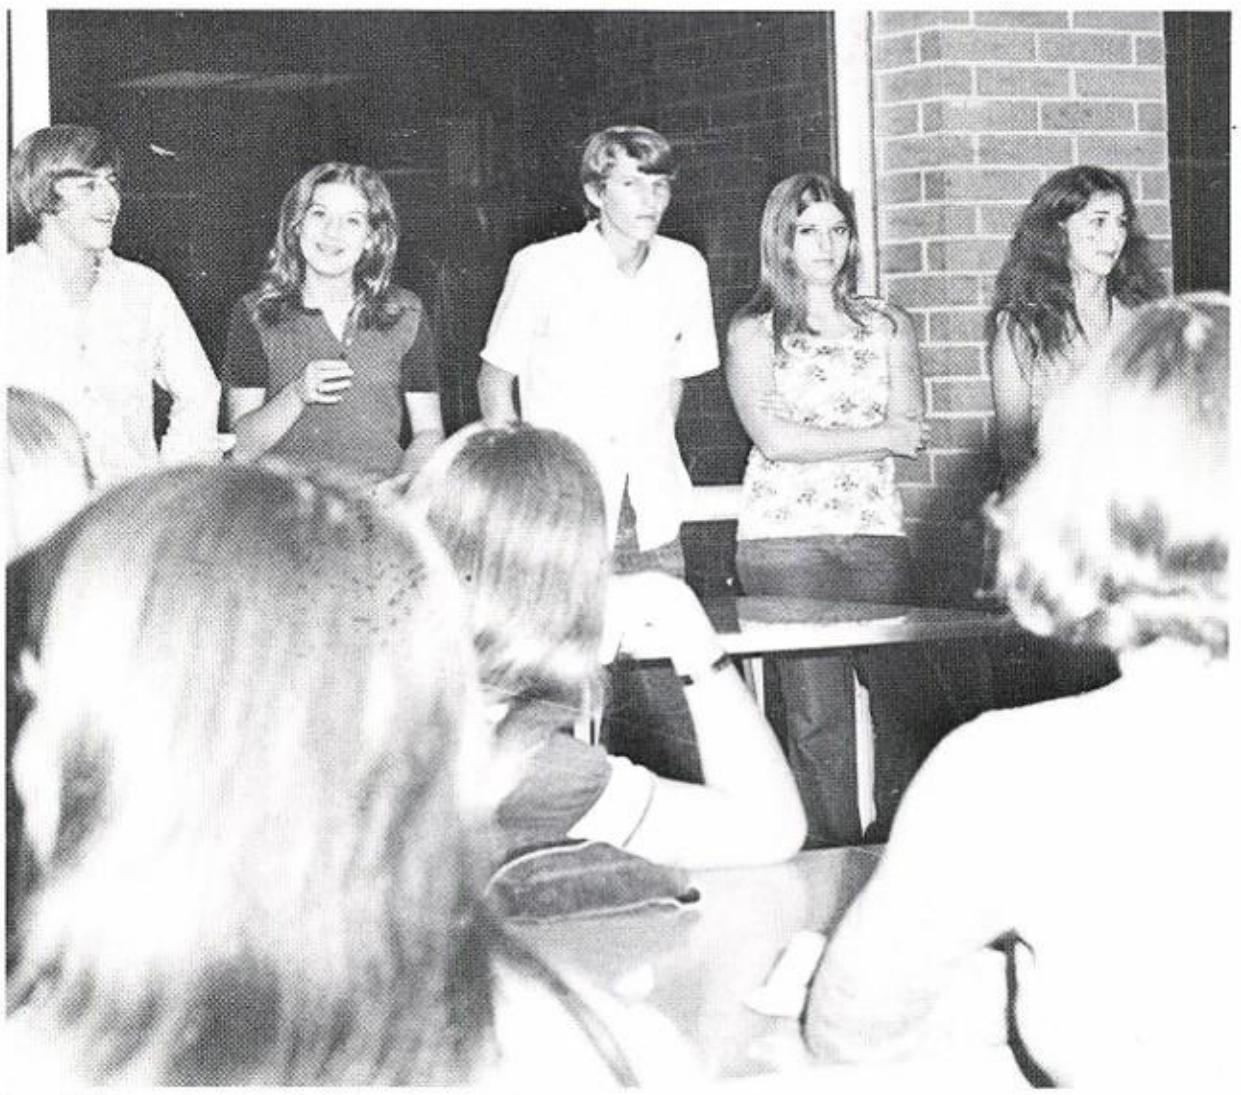
FLC Divides into Five Different Parts

Meeting on the third Monday of each month, the Foreign Lanugage Club tried something new this year. Only four meetings included the entire club.

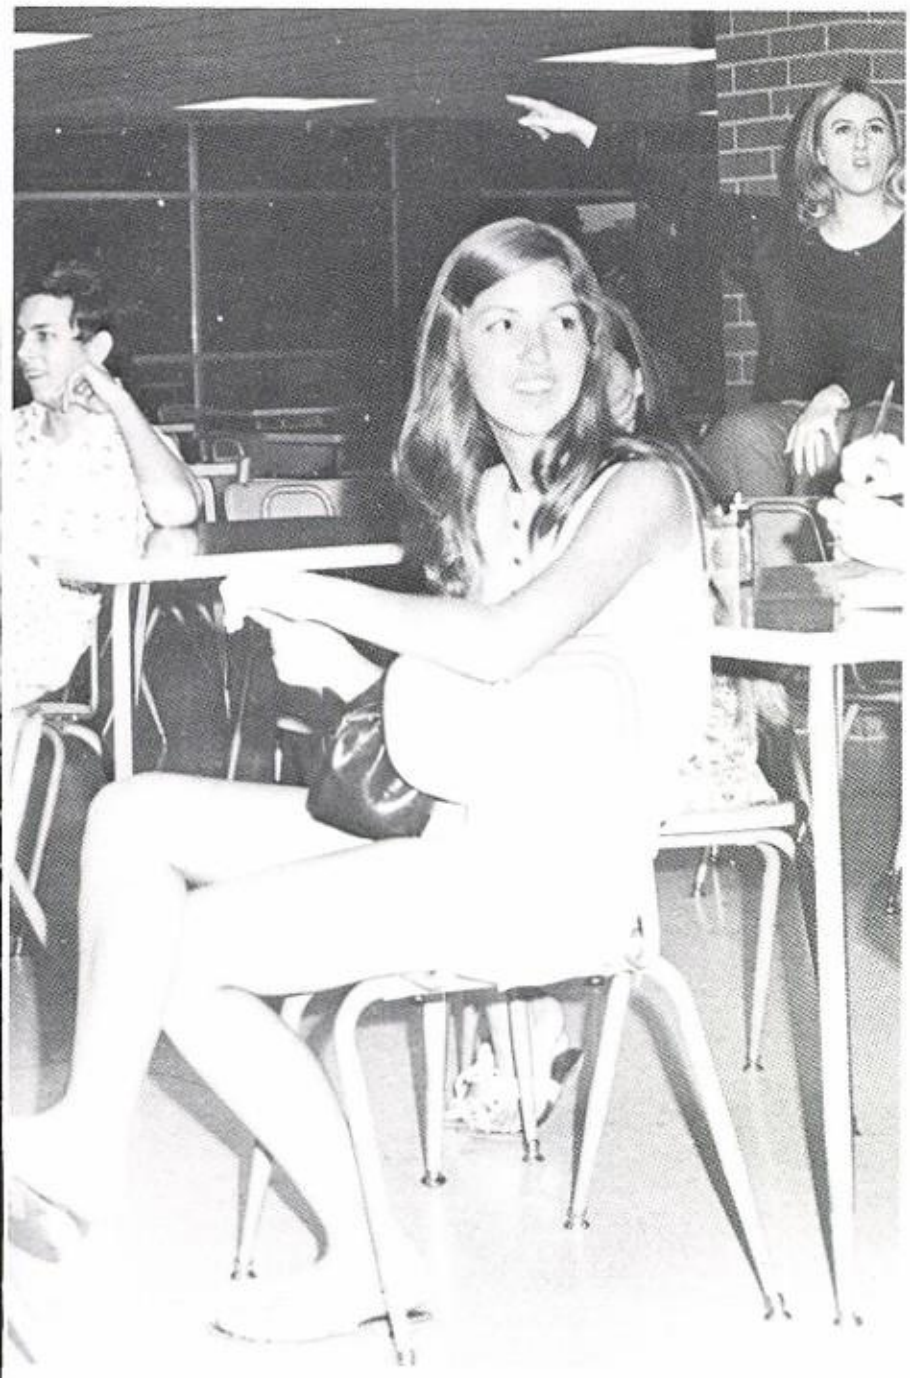
For the rest of the meetings the club divided into separate language groups. This enabled the planning of many activities enjoyable only to students who are studying the same language. A president and secretary were elected for each group.

As one of their club-sponsored activities, the Foreign Lanuguage Club began collecting can goods in each of the language classes. The cans, along with a ham and some toys, were taken to an unfortunate family.

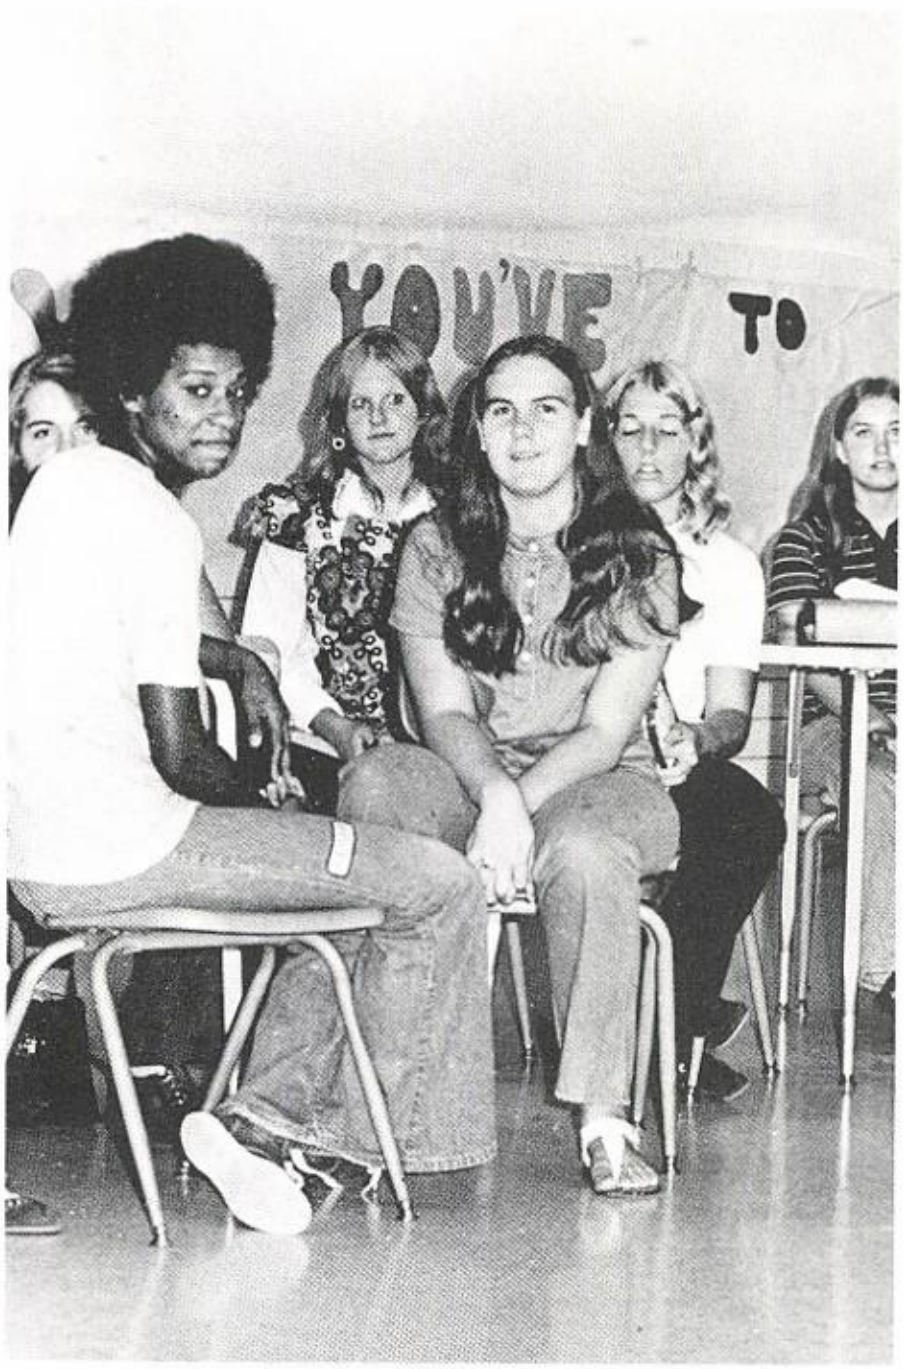
FLC officers are president, Dennis Malcolm; vice-president, Mary Ann Winters; secretary, Pam Jankowiak; and treasurer, Brenda Weems.



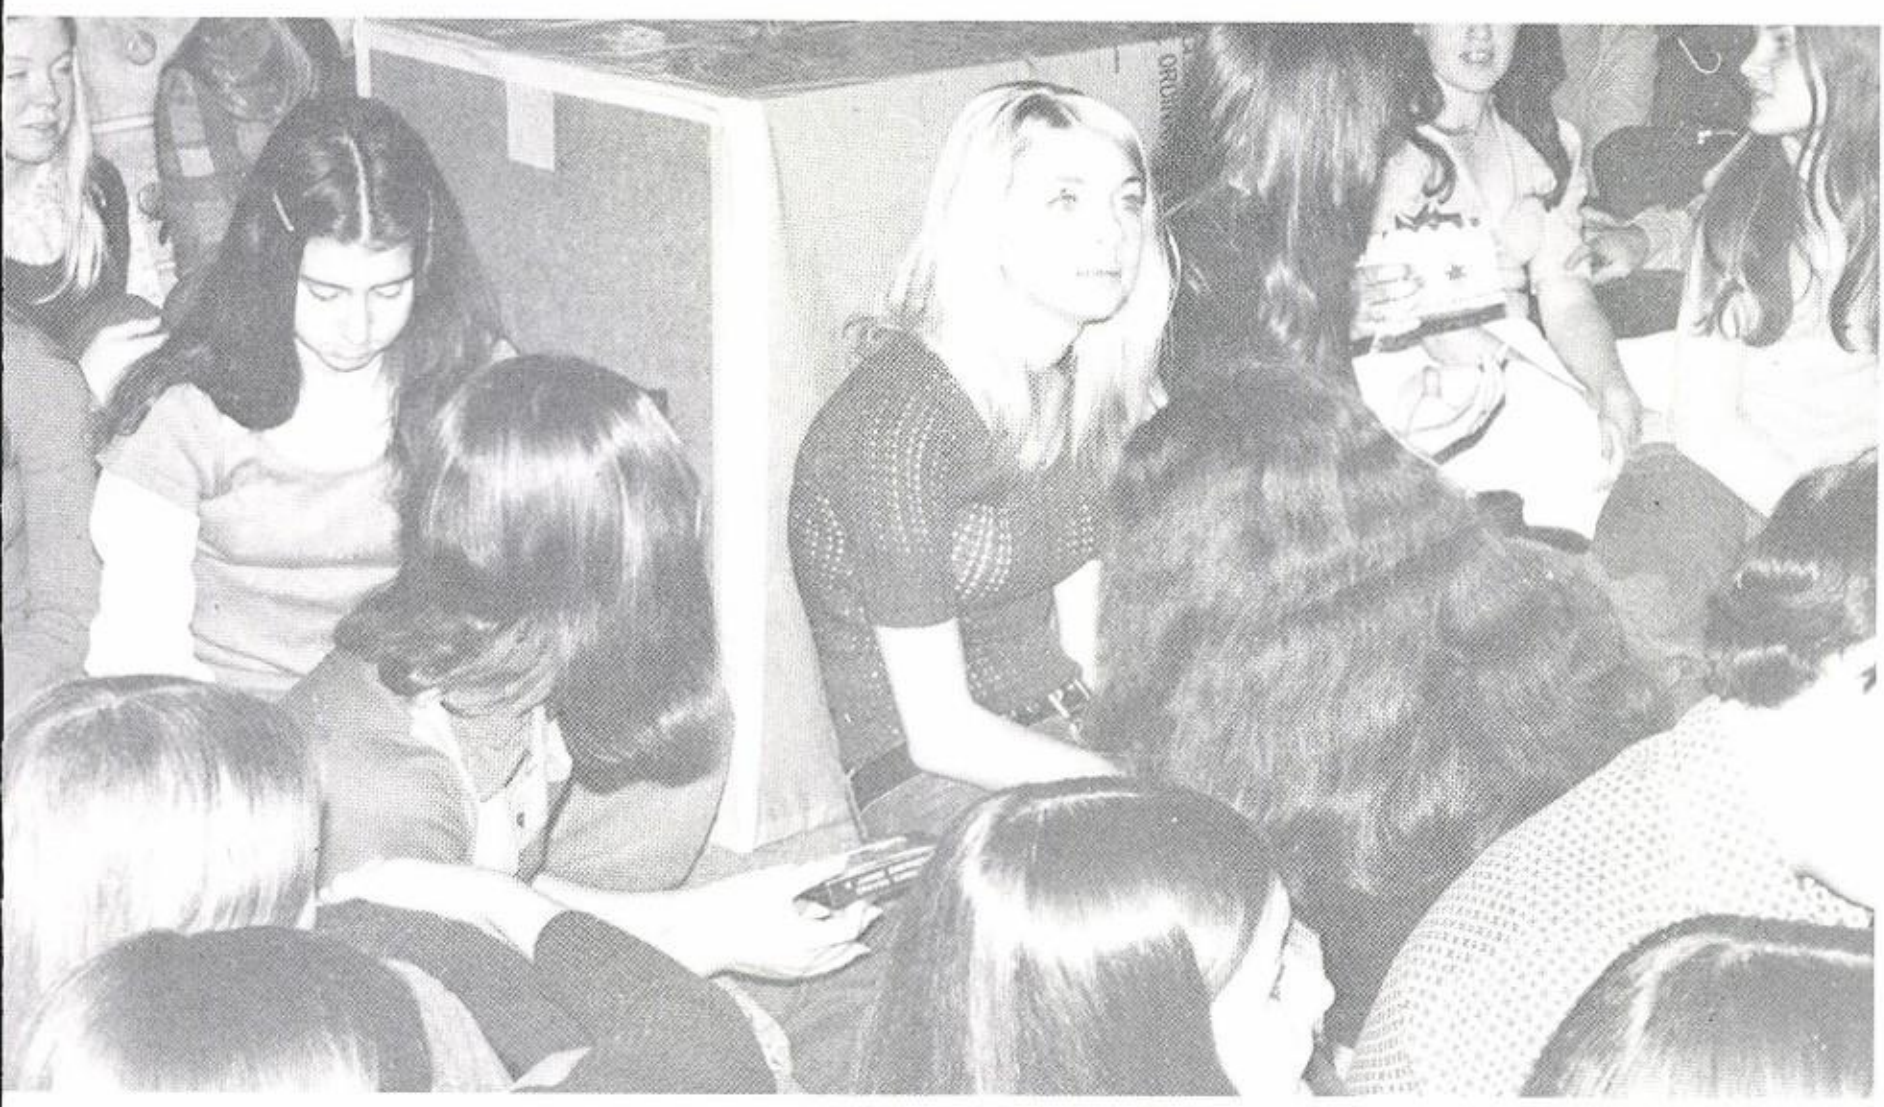
In a "lineup" before the Spanish Club members, nominees for offices wait for the election which will determine a president and a secretary for individual language groups.



"It's down the hall, second door on your right. You can't miss it!" exclaims Miss Jean Anderson, sponsor of the French Club.



Photographers get many different reactions from the members of the German Club, as they make plans for the upcoming year.



Pam Hindman enjoys the atmosphere at the annual Foreign Language Club Christmas party as she waits to receive her gag gift(s). The party, held on December 14, gave each member of the club a chance to sing "Silent Night, Holy Night" in the language which he studies.

AFS Brings Exchange Student from Chile

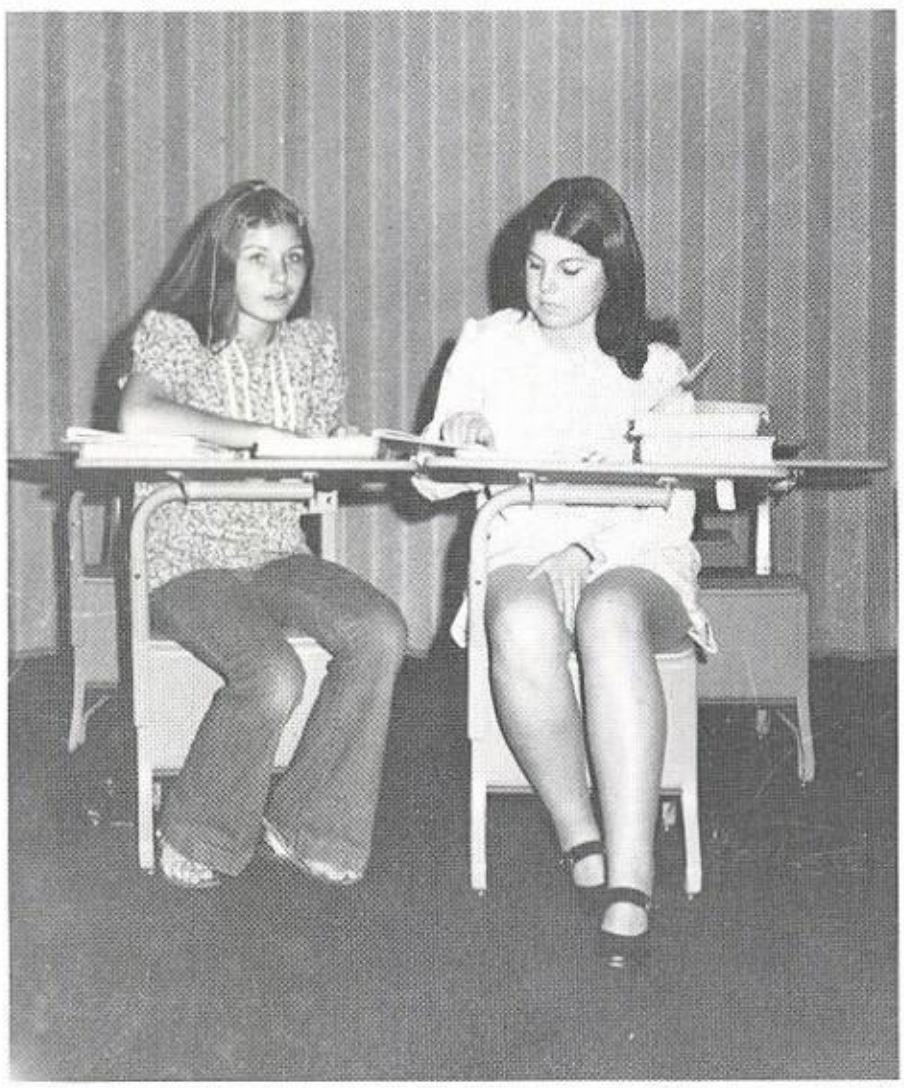
AFS enjoyed the duty of introducing Luty to America and its customs. One of the ways this was accomplished was by members escorting Luty to school events.

The main projects this year were the Texan Day divorce and marriage booth, FAS Day, and the Faculty Follies.

Denise White was the first Sam student to participate in Summer Americans Abroad.

AFS officers were Cathy Bourland, Debbie Brackenridge, Dennis Malcolm, Kathi Payne, Janna Hopson, Sherry Haney, Elaine Vaughn, Patti Crisp, Taffy Davis, Karen Mooney, Steve Massey, Larry Wilkinson, Lisa Gunter, Mike O'Donnel, Jan Isaac, Patsy Jankowiak, and Kay Jones.

Jasmin Allegakeon, a foreign exchange student from Indonesia, explains the school life of her native land. Jasmin is sponsored by the Lamar High School American Field Service.



Jens Kiokhs, the foreign exchange student from the Fort Worth Country Day School, explains the many customs of his country.

"The first thing you must learn about America is that there is always lots of extra school work to do!" exclaims Sherry to Luty.

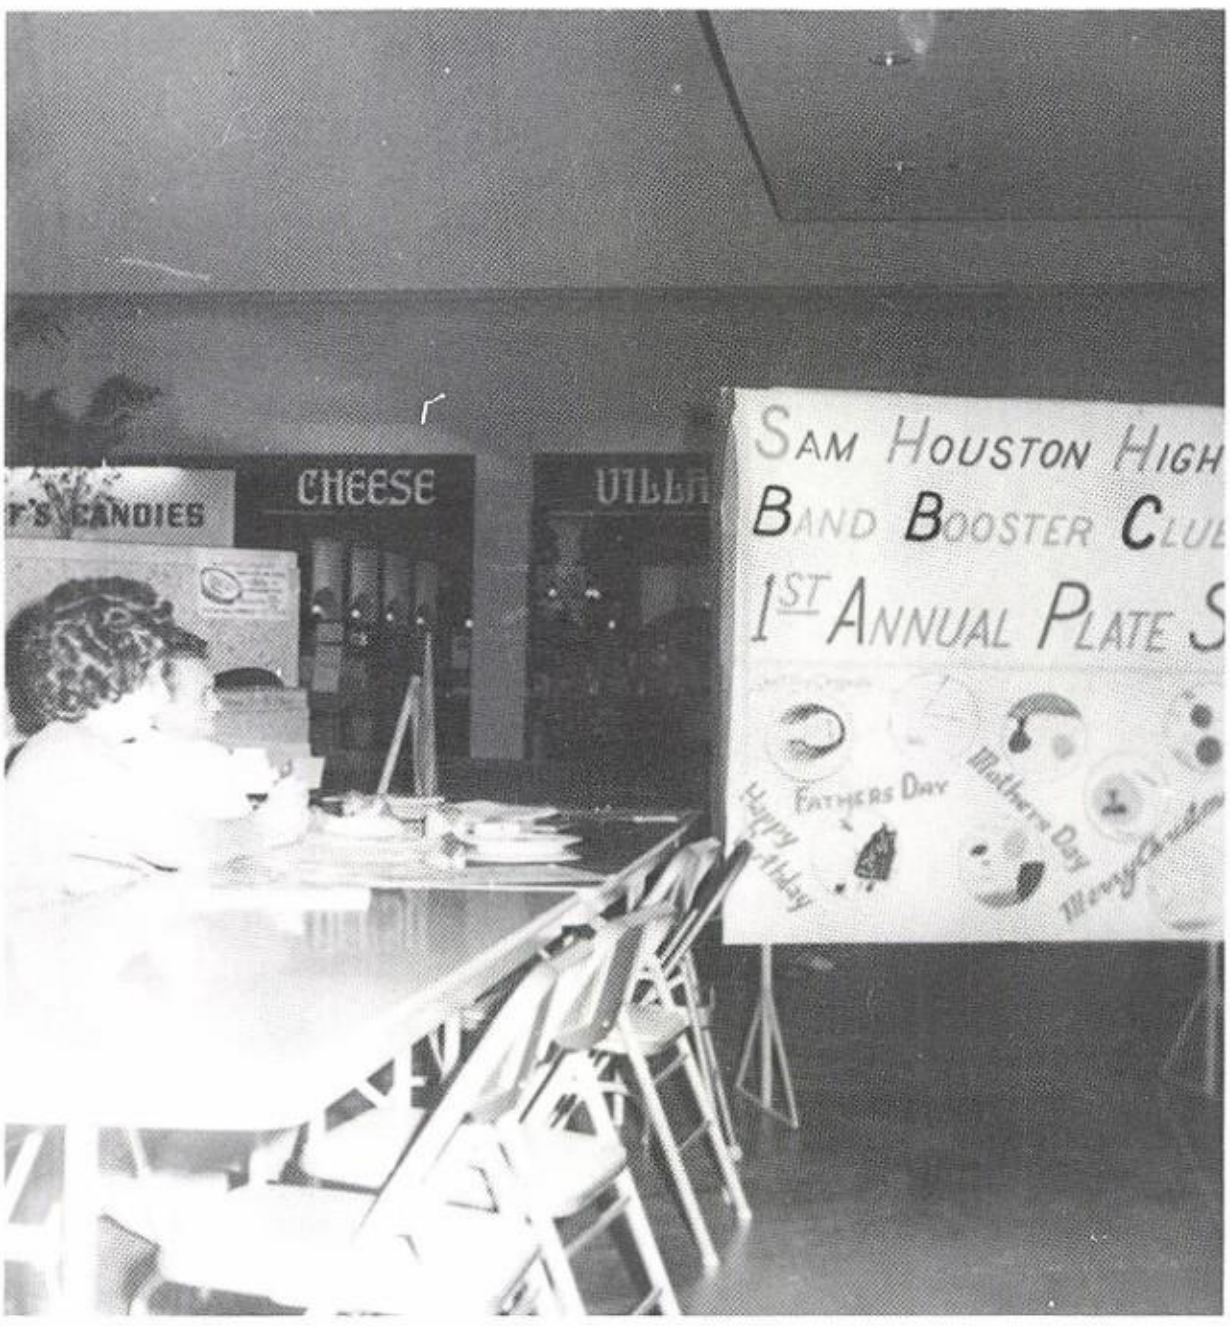
UIL Competition Hosted by Castleberry

Early morning band students find it very hard to adjust themselves and their band instruments to perform correctly for one of Mr. Rober's famous "before practice sessions."

At the Castleberry Festival the band received a II in concert and a I in stage band. This year five SHHS band students qualified to be in the 4-A All-Region Band as a result of the tryouts held in Lewisville.

The officers for the '72-'73 Sam Houston marching band were Stan Thomas, president; Kim Tinberg, secretary; Hampton Hager, sophomore representative; Judy Daugherty, junior representative; and Cindy Witt, senior representative.

Performing during halftimes, the featured baton twirlers for the year were Sheryl Hampton, Charla Glover, and Brenda Weems. The two drum majors were Larry Robbins and Becky Clark.



Members of the Band Booster Club volunteered their services to run the plate sale table at the Forum. The plate sale was the band's most successful money raising activity this year.

CVAE, VICA Plan Projects, Donations

The Sam Houston Vocational Opportunities Club of Texas was made up of students in CVAE I and II classes. The club met once each six weeks in a local restaurant. VOCT members began a clean—up program around the school. The club also sent Christmas presents to orphans.

The Industrial Cooperative Training Club was one of the VICA chapters. ICT sponsored the mum sale for Sam Houston Homecoming. Several members attended the district and state VICA contests. Among their activities, the club held a picnic at Grapevine Lake and they also attended two banquets.

Cosmetology students held a lab night the third week of each month, giving half of the proceeds to the VICA club. However, free hair cuts were given to ROTC members. The second year students made a trip to Austin for required state examinations.

Building Trades was a third chapter of VICA. The students started their house project in the middle of September and finished it in May. At the district VICA contest the Sam Houston Building Trades took three first place ribbons in the project division. At the state contest they won three third places for the same projects.

A fourth chapter of VICA, Auto Body Repair, was designed for students who wish to make auto repair their career. As it was done in regular repair shops, the students gave estimates before beginning work on a car.

Auto mechanics was a course designed to teach students the manner in which cars work.

The sixth chapter of VICA, Radio-TV, studied how to repair these items and their use.

Sandy, Robb Win State in DE Competition

DECA members spend much of their time earning money to send contestants to area contests. Ways they have done this include selling tickets and programs to all home football games, selling stationery and cards at Christmas, and selling candy at school.
highlight of the year. Robb Poe was elected state honorary president and Sandy Petty won the title of Texas Girl of the Year. Four members went on to the National Conference.

The presidents of Chapters I, II, III were Robb Poe, Vicki Langley, and Sandy Petty, respectively.

DECA president Sandy Petty speaks at the annual Employer-Employee Banquet held at UTA Student Center. The guest speaker was Dick Cobb, president of Psycho-Cybernetics.

Area winners were Barbara Acker, job interview; Sandy Petty, student of the year, sales; Vickie Langley, public speaking; Robb Poe, public speaking, student of the year; Henry Gray, advertising; Cathy Bourland, sales; and Bart Cox, job interview. Contests were held all year.

Military Ball Held at UTA on April 27

ROTC cadets were constantly on the go this year. The cadets toured many military outposts. Members also visited American Airlines Flight Academy and the Air Traffic Control Center in Fort Worth.

Highlighting the social activities of ROTC was the traditional Military Ball. The ball was held on April 27 at the UTA Student Center. Senior Sherry Haney was crowned Military Ball Queen. The cadets also sponsored a party for needy children.

To finance their activities cadets sponsored fund raising projects throughout the year, such as curb painting, ad selling, and ushering at all home football games.

Sgt. Billy Carter and Col. Clyde Kelsay were sponsors.

The annual AFJROTC Military Ball was held on April 27 at the UTA Student Center. Preceding the dinner one student from each class was chosen as the most outstanding cadet.

Another one of the many duties of the ROTC cadets is to present the colors during the pre-game activities of all the football games.

Flight sweethearts Jan Isaac, Barbara Acker, and Sherry Haney were elected to assist the ROTC cadets in presenting the colors.

St. Patrick's Day Party Held by LARK

The Library Club, known as LARK, has attended many conventions this year. At the state executive meeting Patty Currie was elected to the office of social chairman. The club also flew to El Paso for the State Convention of TALA.

LARK also sponsored a St. Patrick's Day party for all faculty members.

Serving as officers were president, Richy Hodge; vice-president, Jo Utley; secretary-treasurer, Sally Warren; historian, Matthew Braun; and social chairman, Patty Currie. Mrs. Jimmie Russell and Mrs. Louise Clark sponsored LARK.

Parents, Teachers Sell Six Flags Tickets

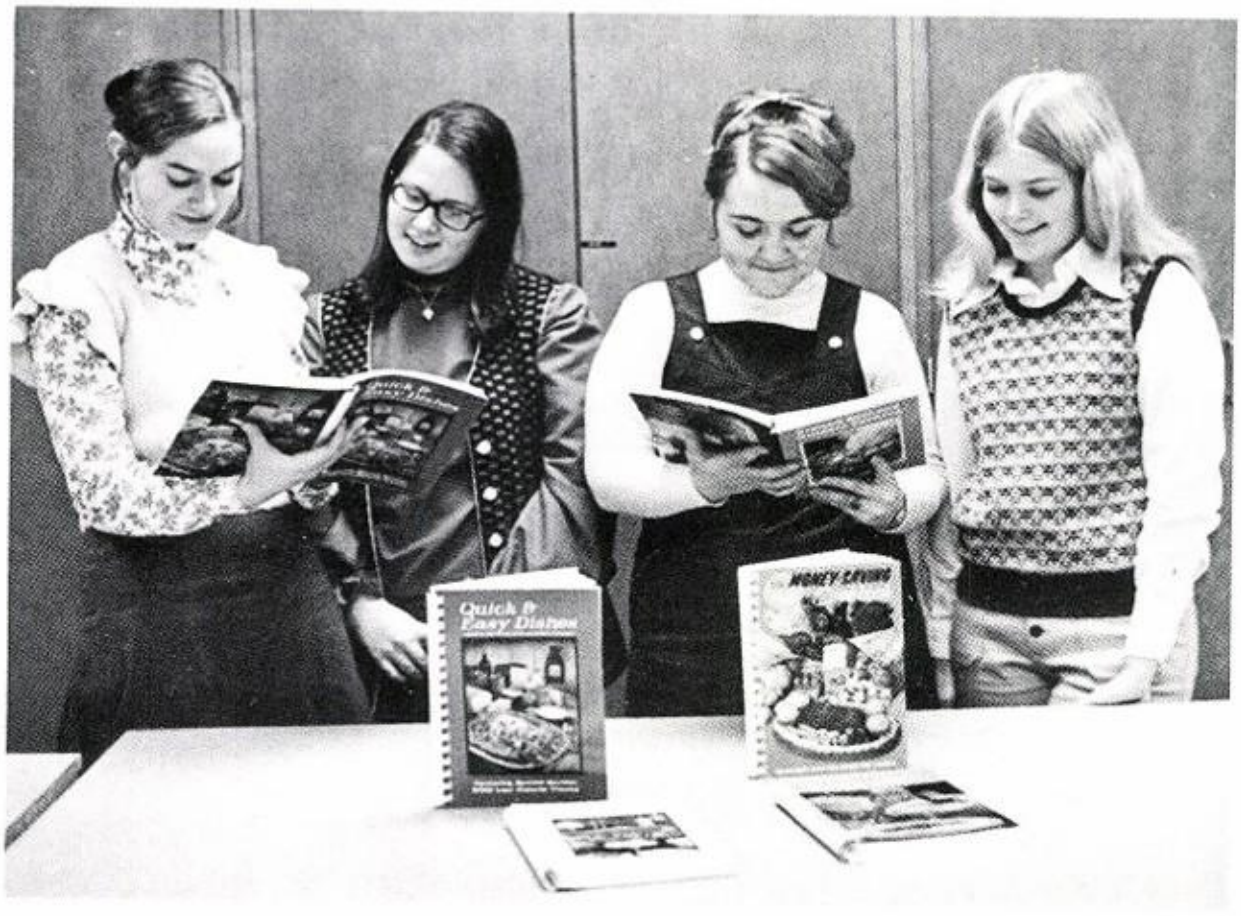
Mrs. Johannesen, Coach Cantrell, and Mrs. Reed sell tickets for Six Flags night.

Sam Houston was the only school in Arlington to have student members and officers in PTSA this year. The students who joined in PTSA were directly involved in planning and carrying out the year's program.

PTSA's main project was open house. It was held twice this year on October 23 and March 8. PTSA also sponsored study courses on family life each Monday in January.

Mrs. Dorothy Hughes served as president for the year with student officers assisting. Student officers were public relations, Cindy Dake; spiritual life, Craig Brinker; and membership, Richard Ivy.

Cookbook Sale Keeps FHA Members Busy



FHA members skim over cookbooks to be sold as the annual money making project.

FHA was open to every girl having had at least one year of homemaking. The club held many parties and had several service projects.

In October the girls gave a Halloween Party for their younger brothers and sisters. At the Sweetheart Banquet FHA named Richard Ivy their beau.

Carrying out their jobs as officers for the Sam Houston FHA were Cathy Parker, president; Denice Gregory, first vice-president; Ruby Hanak, second vice-president; Sheri Dodson, third vice-president; Christine Parker, fourth vice-president; Pam Wall, secretary; Linda Nairn, treasurer; and Liz Autry, historian.

Halloween Party Given by Cherokee FHA

Members of Cherokee FHA met on the second and fourth Mondays of every month in the Family Living Room.

In December the club held a covered dish supper in the Homemaking Foods Lab. Every member was invited.

For Valentines Day in February, several of the members went to the Southwest Heritage Nursing Home and entertained the residents.

Cherokee FHA officers were Mick McCollum, president; Gary Jones, vice-president; Karen Fulton, secretary; Marla Gerald, treasurer; Cindy Fanning, historian; co-social chairmen, Debbie Dansby and Brenda Weems.

Pop Group Included in Choir's Curriculum

The Sam Houston High Choral Department sponsored five individual choirs and one pop group. The directors of these musical groups were Mr. Louis Harris and Miss Pamela Sewell.

On December 18, the choirs held their Christmas Concert in the school auditorium.

Nine Sam Houston students represented this area at the all—state choir competition, and three of Sam's seniors were selected to participate in the choir activities.

In February the Choral Department presented "The Sound of Music," the all-school musical. More than 35 students were involved in the program. In May the Singing Texans and the Texan Belles attended the third Southwest Choral Festival held in Galveston.

Serving as the president for each of the individual choirs were Randy Mayfield, Singing Texans; Joan Collier, Chorale; Pam Boyett, Texas Belles; Troy Bradley, A Cappella; and Judy Adams, Sophomore Choir.

Office Education Sells Magazines, Candy

Sheryl Boykin and Paula Rudd practice dictation in hopes of improving shorthand.

OEA members performed many school services for teachers and club organizations throughout the year. They typed the school directory, the senior invitation orders, and the literary magazine, Calliope.

Money making projects for the year included selling assorted candies and magazines.

Activities for the club included a Christmas Supper at the Stoneridge Community Room, an Employer-Employee Banquet at the UTA campus, March 22, a picnic for new OEA members, and a Spring Lunch, May 22. Members also attended OEA breakfasts held monthly.

Officers for the year were president, Sheryl Boykin; vice-president, Georgette Tipton; secretary, Debbie Gross; treasurer, Brenda Taylor; historian, Kathy Rose; parliamentarian, Brenda Lee; and reporter, Donna Riddle. Sponsoring the club was Mrs. Betty Brown.

Senior club members, Don Ballard and Pat Clay, along with vice-president Teresa Condron, display an ecology banner made by Amy Currey, a member of the 1972 organization.

Ecology Club Plans Drives

Meeting on the first and third Wednesday of each month the Ecology Club had speakers and films concerning community and world involvement in the ecology move. Members held recycling drives and sponsored many creek hikes and local park clean-ups. The club members also joined with other area high schools and junior highs to form an All-City Youth Ecology Club.

Ecology Club officers were president, Miles Henderson; vice-president, Teresa Condron; treasurer, Merlyn Henry; and secretary, Julee Moore.

Dinner for Q and S Members Held on April 17

The Sam Houston Quill and Scroll, an International Honor Society for high school journalists, is based on a point system. The students receive points for participating in the various journalism sponsored field trips.

The new club members were inducted April 17 during a progressive dinner. An appetizer was served at Debbie Brackenridge's and a salad at the home of Joanne Baldridge. The main course was served at Jan Isaac's, and Joe Barnett furnished the dessert.

Quill and Scroll officers for '72-'73 were Cindy Dake, president; Jan Isaac, vice-president; and Lezlie Langham, secretary. New officers were elected in April.

Philip Parker gives his version of a campaign speech for the presidency of Quill and Scroll. The club elected officers at progressive dinner held on April 17 at homes of four members.

Garters Made by Tex-Annes

It was the third year for the Tex-Annes, and one filled with many performances.

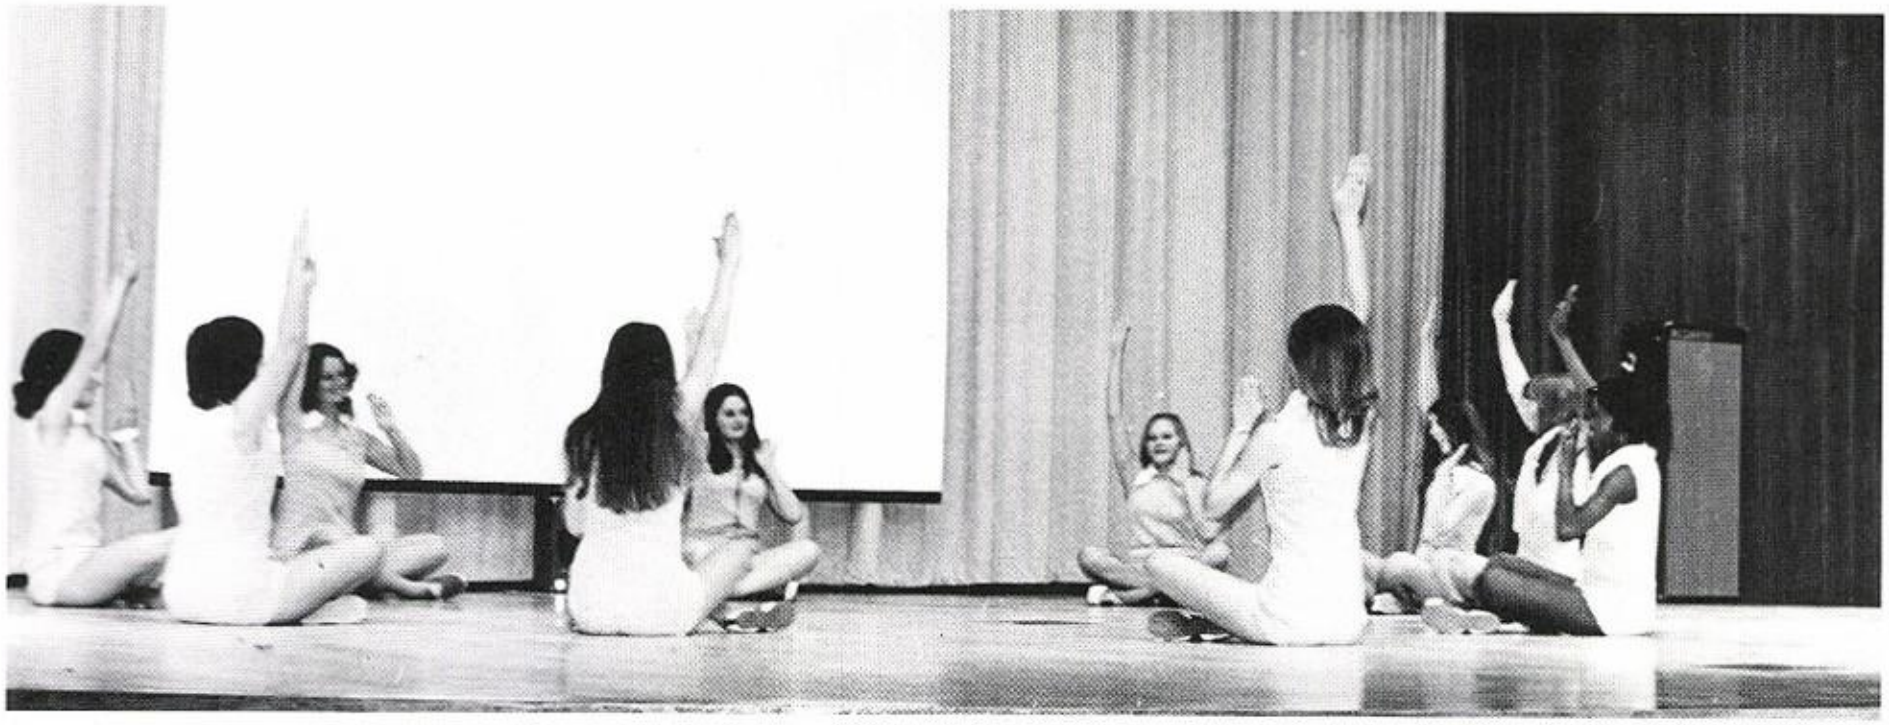
During football season, the drill team performed at each of the varsity games and the morning pep rallies. In addition to this the girls made the traditional garters for the varsity players. They also helped with the decorations for the weekly games.

Throughout the busy football season the Tex-Annes were led by officers Tess Barton as captain, Melissa Stephens as co-captain, and Robbie Alford and Debbie Day as lieutenants.

Last summer the Tex-Annes attended a camp at the University of Houston, where they were awarded a trophy in the fancy drill competition.

In the spring the Tex-Annes visited the local junior highs to present assemblies for the ninth grade girls. It was decided to let sophomores try-out for the drill team instead of just juniors and seniors.

Tex-Annes are Terry Nicholson, Stephanie Morris, Sharon Colbert, Debbie Day, Martha Griffin, Debbie Coker, manager Denise Corente, Sherry Ray, Leanne Keagan, Andrea Hearne, Mary Poe, Terry Gagan. Not pictured are Debbie Davis and Cheryl Calloway.



At an assembly given by the Tex-Annes to inform interested sophomores and juniors about drill team, present members perform an Indian routine to the tune of "Cherokee Reservation." Later, slides were shown giving examples of activities such as camp and fund-raising projects.

Cheryl Jiles, Denise Corente, Debbie Davis, Martha Griffin, and Debbie Day find that practicing their routines for upcoming pep rallies is a lot easier on a full stomach.

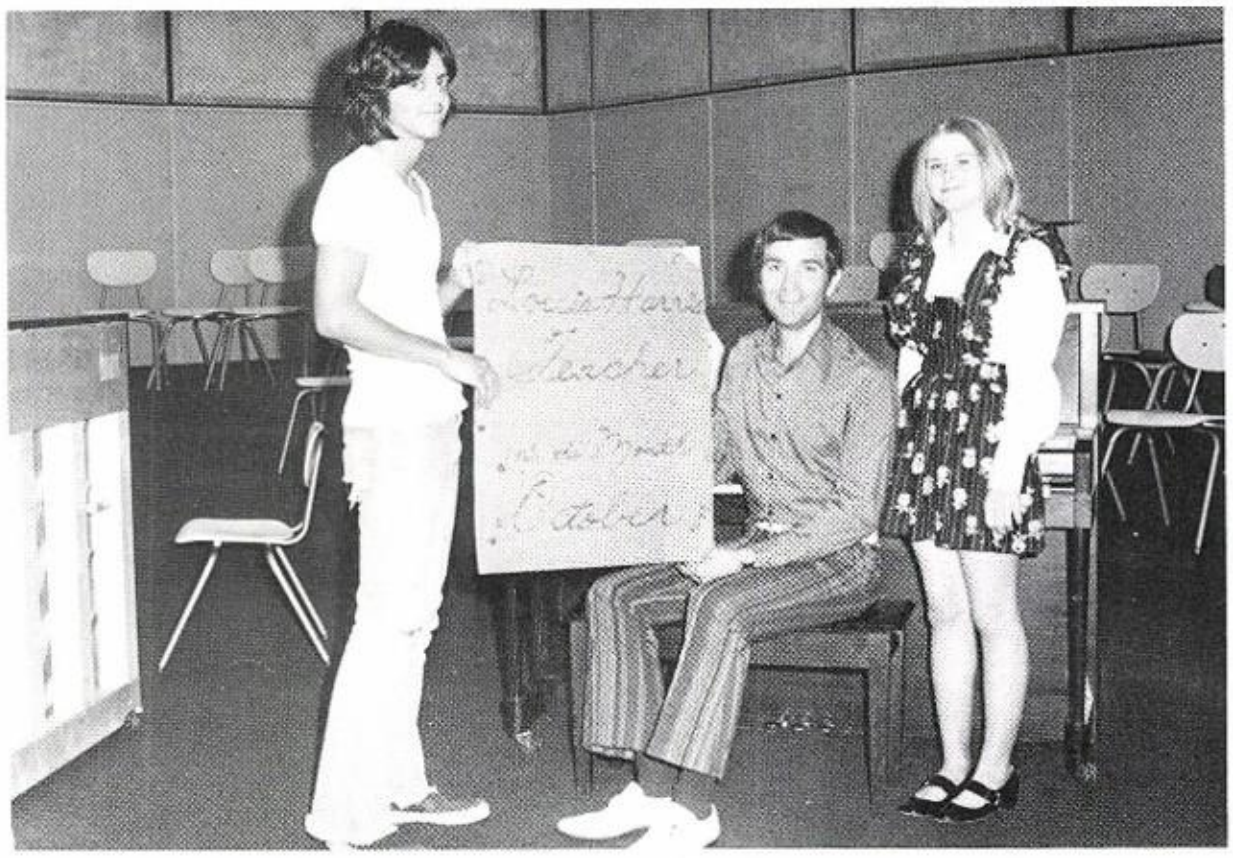
Enthusiastic members of the Tex-Annes perform routines for all the pep rallies which they have perfected during the previous week.

Teachers of the Month Named by Thespians



Mark Ramirez and Starlyn Sherman present Mr. Harris with a monthly Thespian award.

To be eligible for membership in Thespians, students were required to earn a minimum of 10 points. Points were earned by participation in tournaments and plays.

Thespians were active in area and state tournaments and brought home many trophies. Members also sponsored Teachers of the Month and the Mr. B. H. Remynse Breakfasts.

Thespian officers this year were president, Craig Brinker; vice-president, Mike Patterson; treasurer, Taffy Davis; secretary, Barbara Renfro; and Thespian clerks, Dennis Malcolm and Pam Boyett. Thespian sponsor was Miss Mildred Peveto.

NFL Promotes Speaking, Civic Functions

An honorary organization, National Forensic League promoted public speaking. The members of NFL were required to compete in tournaments and speak at civic functions.

The requirement for NFL was a minimum of 25 points earned through participation in various means of public speaking.

At both UIL District and Regional, Elaine Horner won first in persuasive extemporaneous speaking. She placed fourth in state.

The '72-'73 officers for the National Forensic League were Philip Rushing, president; Richy Hodge, vice-president; and Elaine Horner, secretary.

At district Les Palmer and Philip Galyen got second place in debate.

HECE Sponsors Bake Sales, Poster Party

HECE students and their employers enjoy a meal at the Employer-Employee Picnic.

HECE was open to any student participating in a homemaking vocational program. The students had to be at least 16 years of age and classified as either a junior or senior.

The club's activities consisted mainly of monthly breakfasts and an Employer-Employee Picnic. The picnic was held on April 10. Members also sponsored a poster party for the Denton football game.

Bake sales provided the income to finance the club's activities. Members baked and sold assorted goodies to hungry students before school.

HECE officers for the year were president, Gail Martin; vice-president, Teri Roberson; treasurer, Scott Krueger; secretary, Diane Degner; parliamentarian, Gayle Philips; and historian, John Farmer. Mrs. Linda Frank was the sponsor.

THE 1973 TEXANS TALK STAFF

Society, Paper Cite 'Talk' For Excellence

In addition to being a Journalism III student and editing the bi-weekly Texans Talk paper, senior Lezlie Langham writes a column on activities at Sam for the Arlington Daily News.

The Texans Talk staff presented Sam Houston with 10 newspapers and two magazines this year.

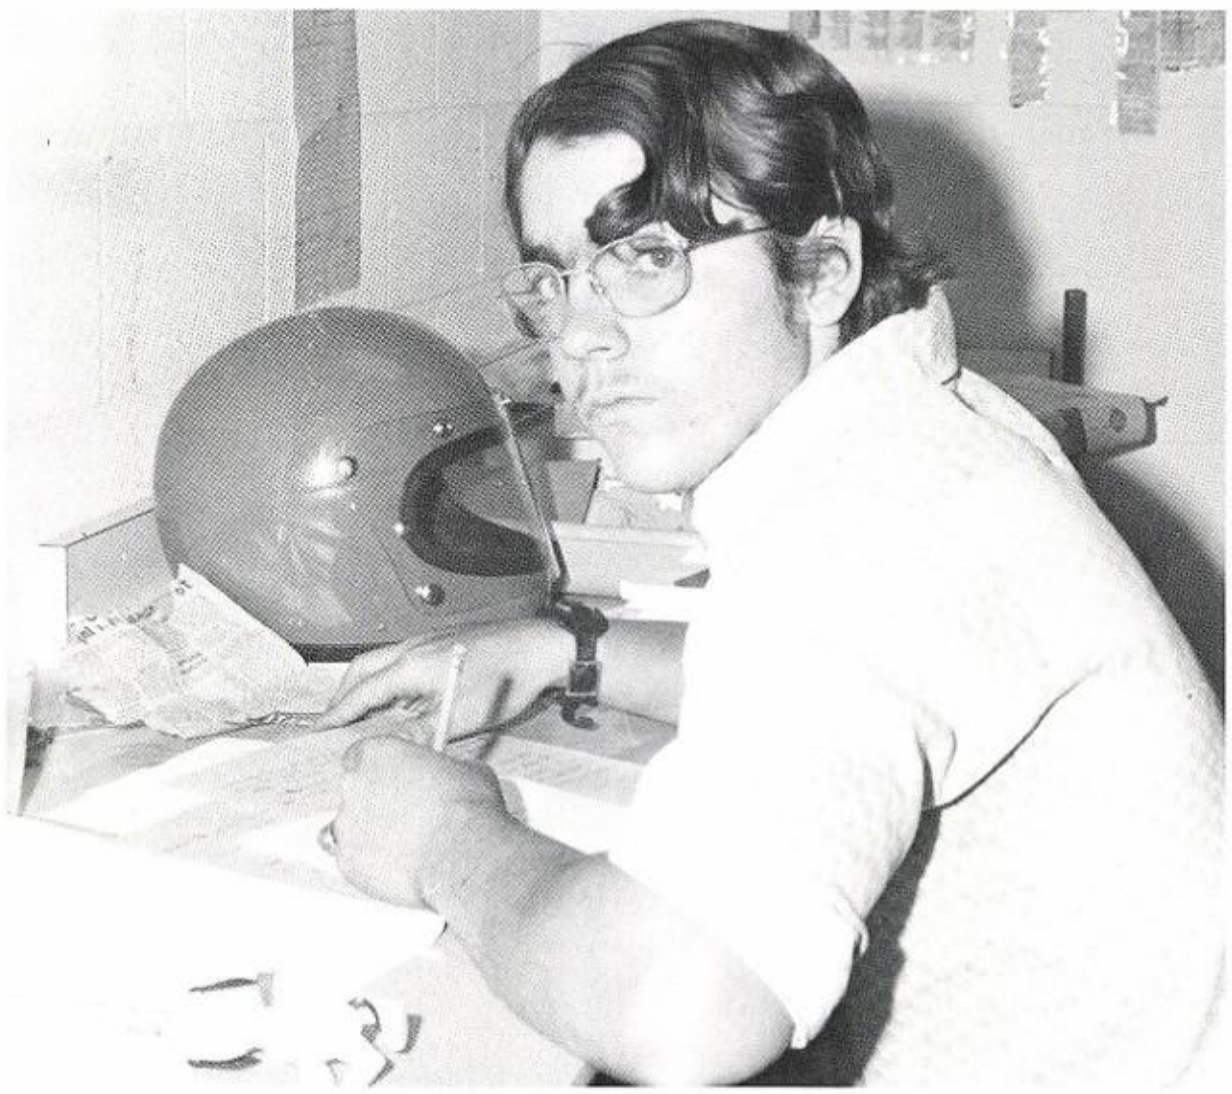
Also, first year journalism students published their own Texans Talk paper in May.

The Texans Talk received an All-Texas Honor Rating at the Texas High School Press Association, State Newspaper Contest in Denton.

The 15 members of the newspaper staff attended a seminar at Texas Christian University, and the Interscholastic League Press Conference in Austin.

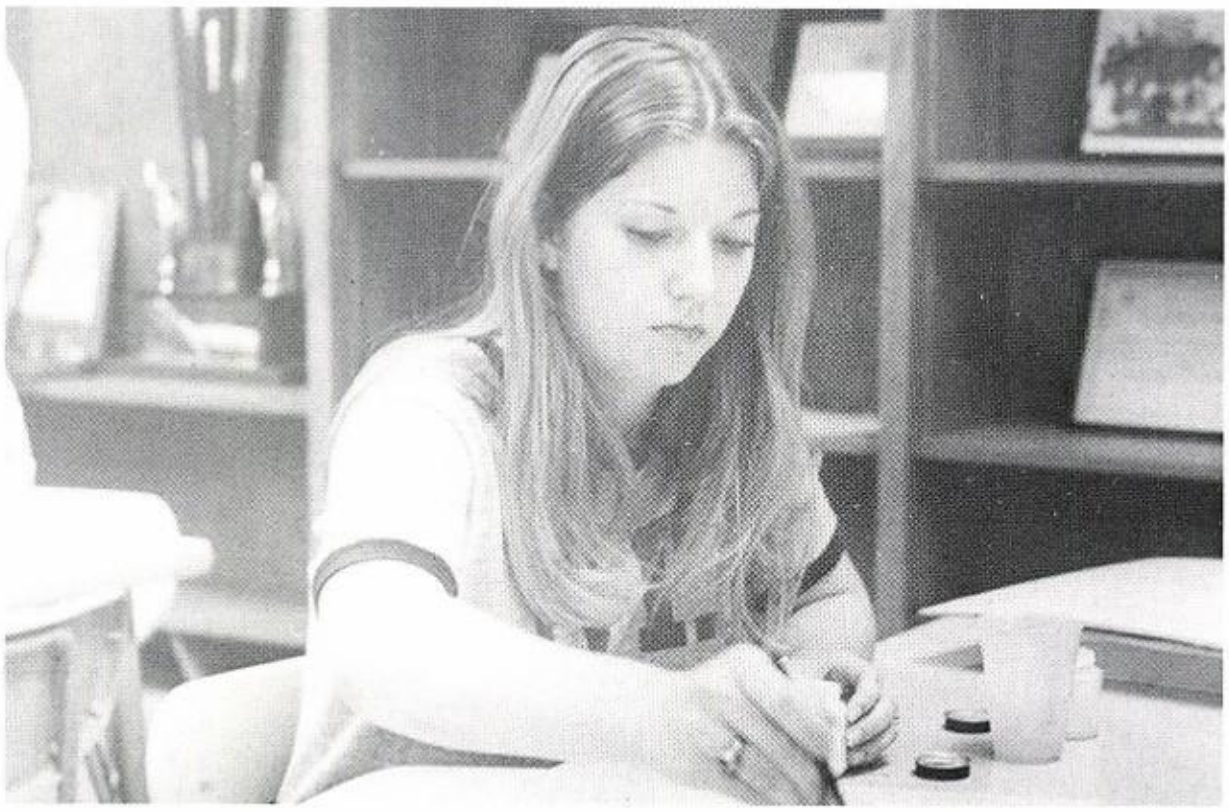
The staff also visited the Southern Methodist University Journalism Day, the WBAP television station, and the Fort Worth Star Telegram printers.

"Now look, I want those proofs by second period!" threatens Donna Arnett.



Texans Talk sports editor, senior Don Somers, prepares a story of Big Sam's football game for the next issue of the paper. Don has been on the paper staff for the past two years.

Annual Staff Attends Seminars, Workshops

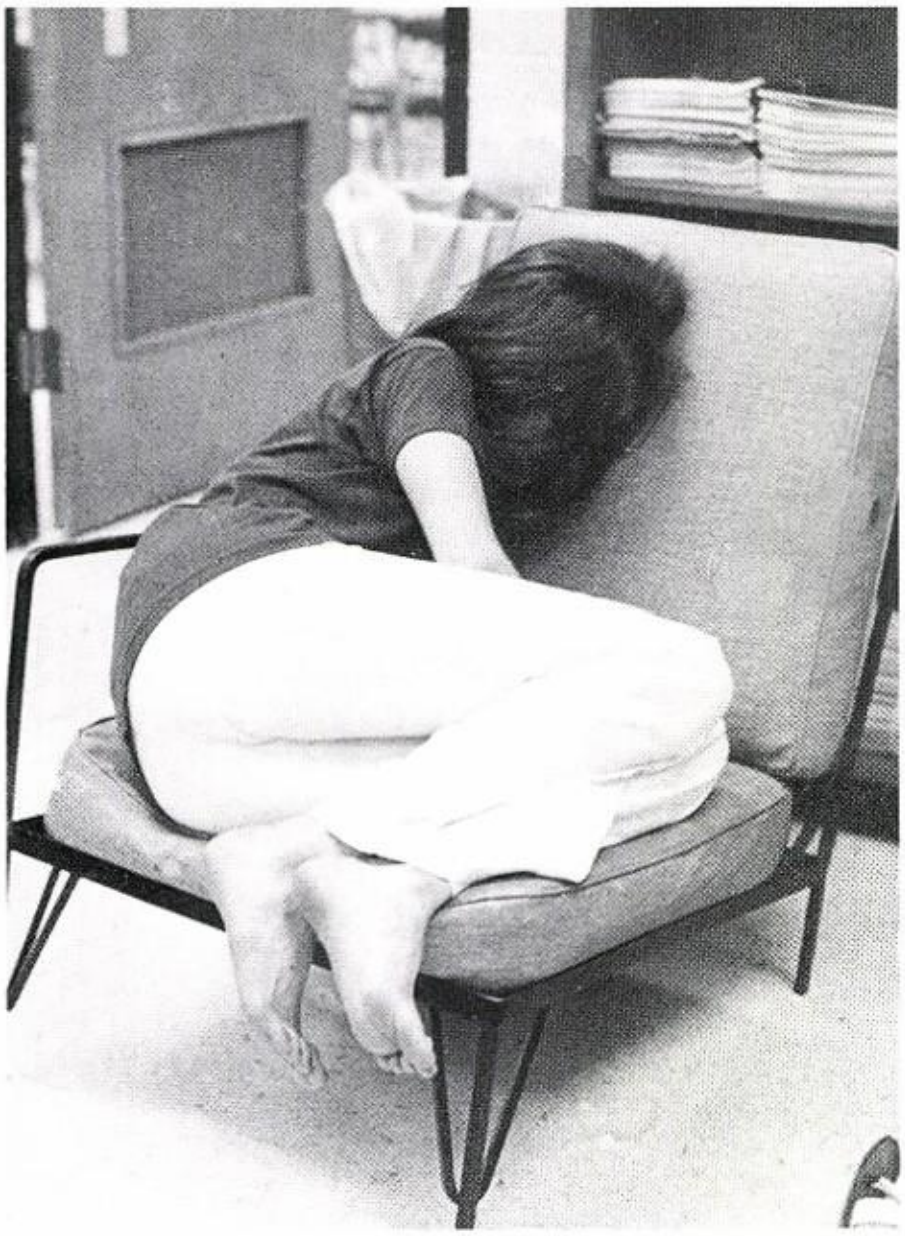


Jan Isaac, the editor of the 1973 Cherokee, makes some posters for the ninth grade orientation, encouraging future sophomores to inquire about joining the annual and paper staffs.

The 1973 publication of the Cherokee took much hard work and a considerable amount of time. Selling package plans, meeting deadlines, and setting up pictures kept the 17 staff members busy.

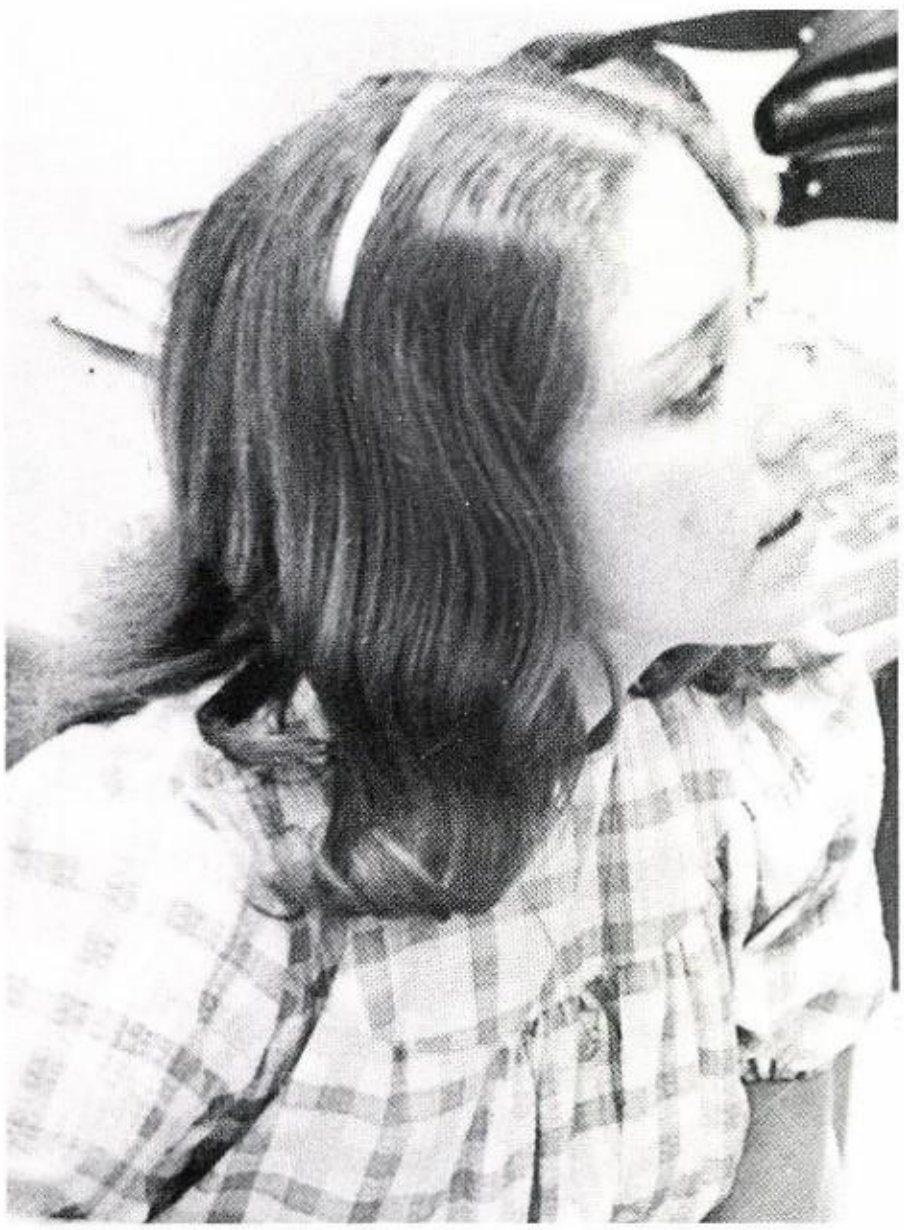
The staff attended several journalism workshops and seminars during the year. This included sessions at Denton, Austin, and an advertising clinic held at TCU. The staff also visited Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas to get new ideas for the annual. Miss Lina Davis was the sponsor.

THE 1973 CHEROKEE STAFF



Junior Mary Ann Winters "sacks out" in the newspaper room after finishing several columns of club copy for one of the big deadlines.

"Now wait a minute! You can't talk to me like that just because I'm the only soph on the staff!" cries a frustrated Glen Furtardo.



"Miss Davis, I understand what picas, quad-paks, crop masters, pix, and dummies are, but what's a deadline?" asks Debbie Way.

Miss Lina Davis, the yearbook sponsor, takes a brief moment to collect herself in order to cope with the typical annual problems.

Texans Compile 3-1 Non-District Record

Making escape totally impossible, defenders Danny Jones and Derek Mott box in a Richland running back to stop a first down.

After the first three games the Texans were ranked eleventh in state, scoring 77 points to their opponents' 6.

On September 8, Sam shutout the Southwest Rebels 14-0. Tailback Ronald Burns ran for 188 total yards and both Texan scores. Veterans Mario Azios and Mike Phillips led Sam's able defense to devastate the Rebels.

The following Friday saw Sam opposite an old rival, L. D. Bell. Sam's staunch defense did its job well by keeping Bell scoreless.

Shortly after the half, quarterback Terry Johannesen was injured forcing Reuben Tomlin to substitute. Tomlin ignited the offense to a 21-0 romp over the Raiders and 366 yards total offense for win number two.

The largest win of the year came on September 22, against the Richland Rebels.

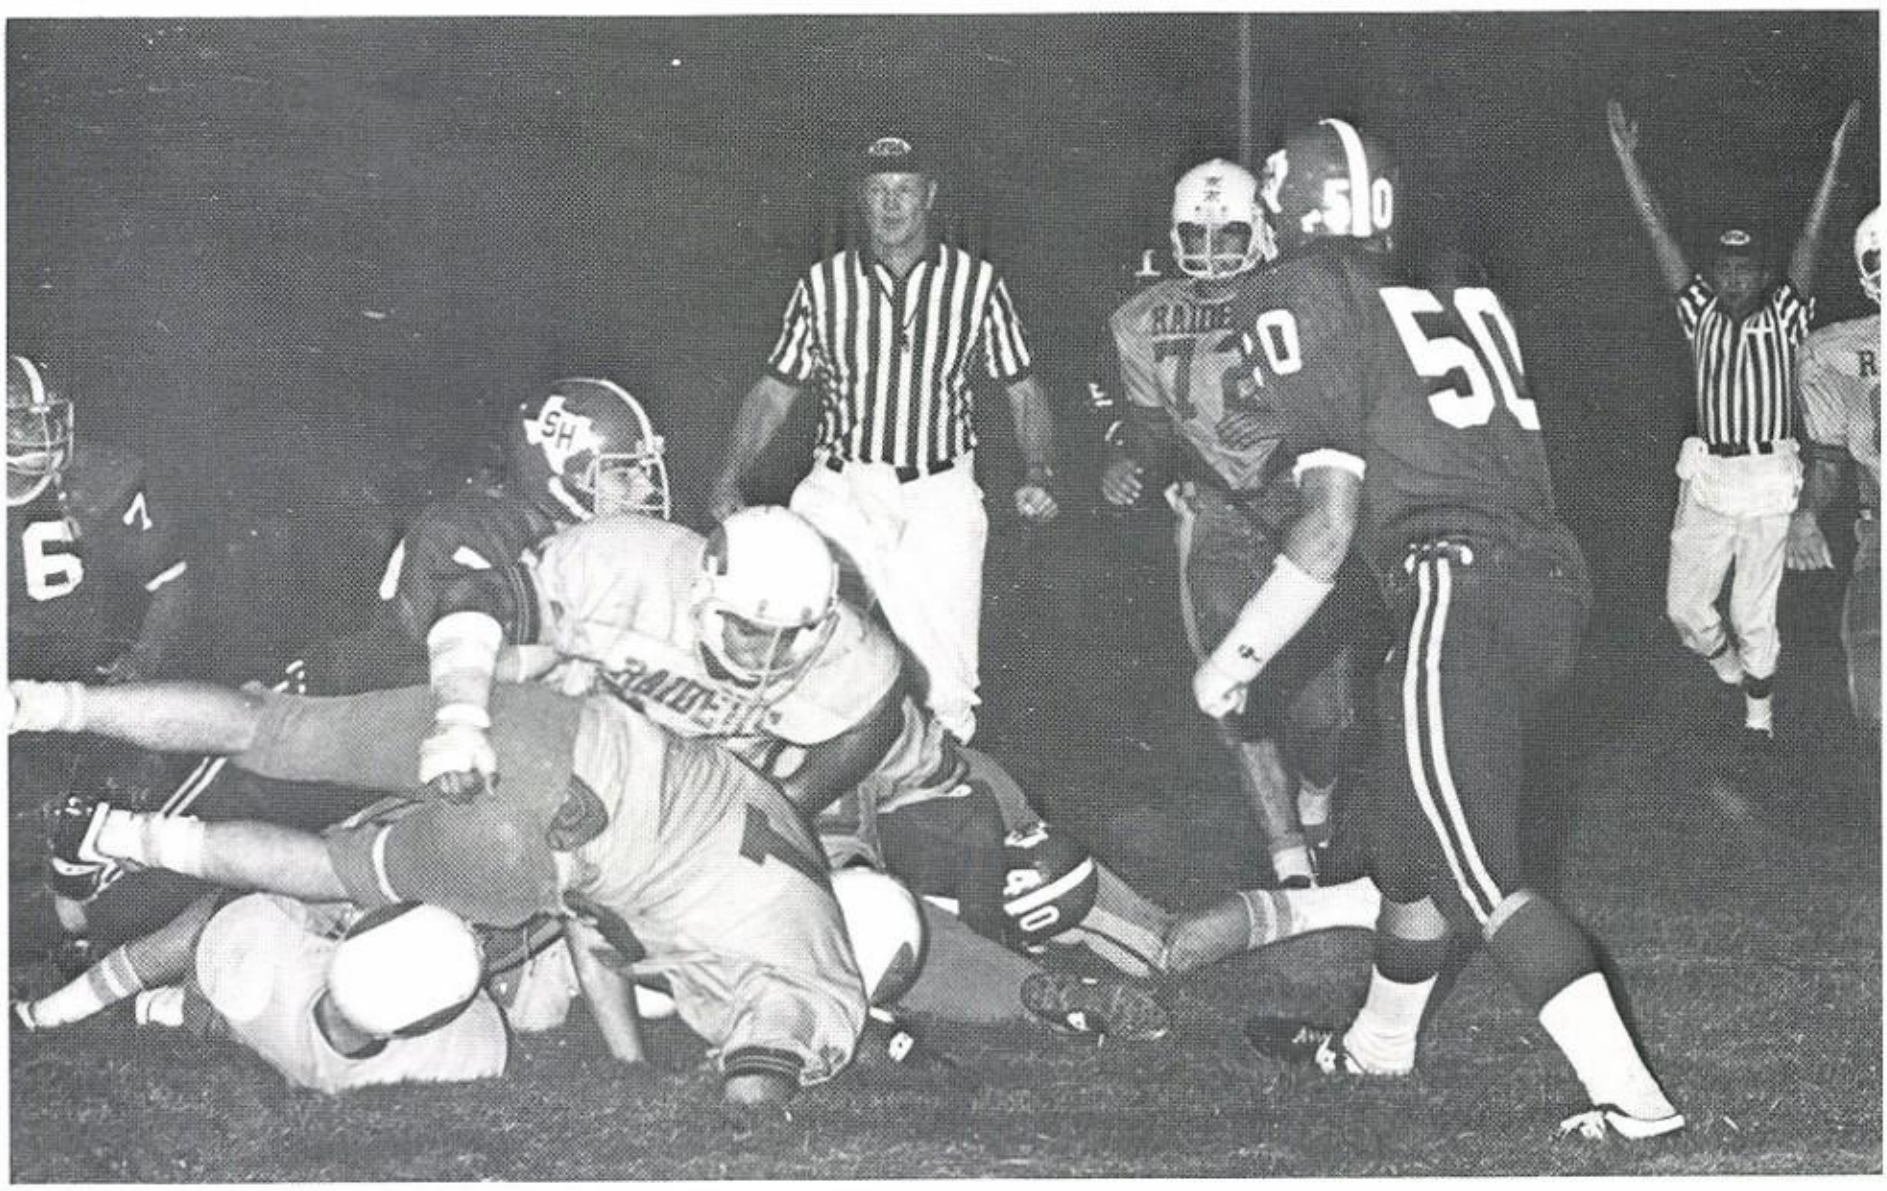
Tomlin threw for three touchdowns and 248 yards.

Other scores came from Sam running backs Barry Bartos and Ronald Burns. Sam's defense, previously unscored on, watched as Richland scored 6 points.

Perhaps the hardest game of the season was on September 29, as they fell to the Denton Broncos, 32-7.

Sam's lone score came shortly after the half to put them in range, 12-7. An 84-yard Denton pass broke the Texan momentum and spirit. Denton went on to score three times.

Breaking away from a Southwest defender, tight end Bruce Loflin eyes another first down toss from Reuben Tomlin.

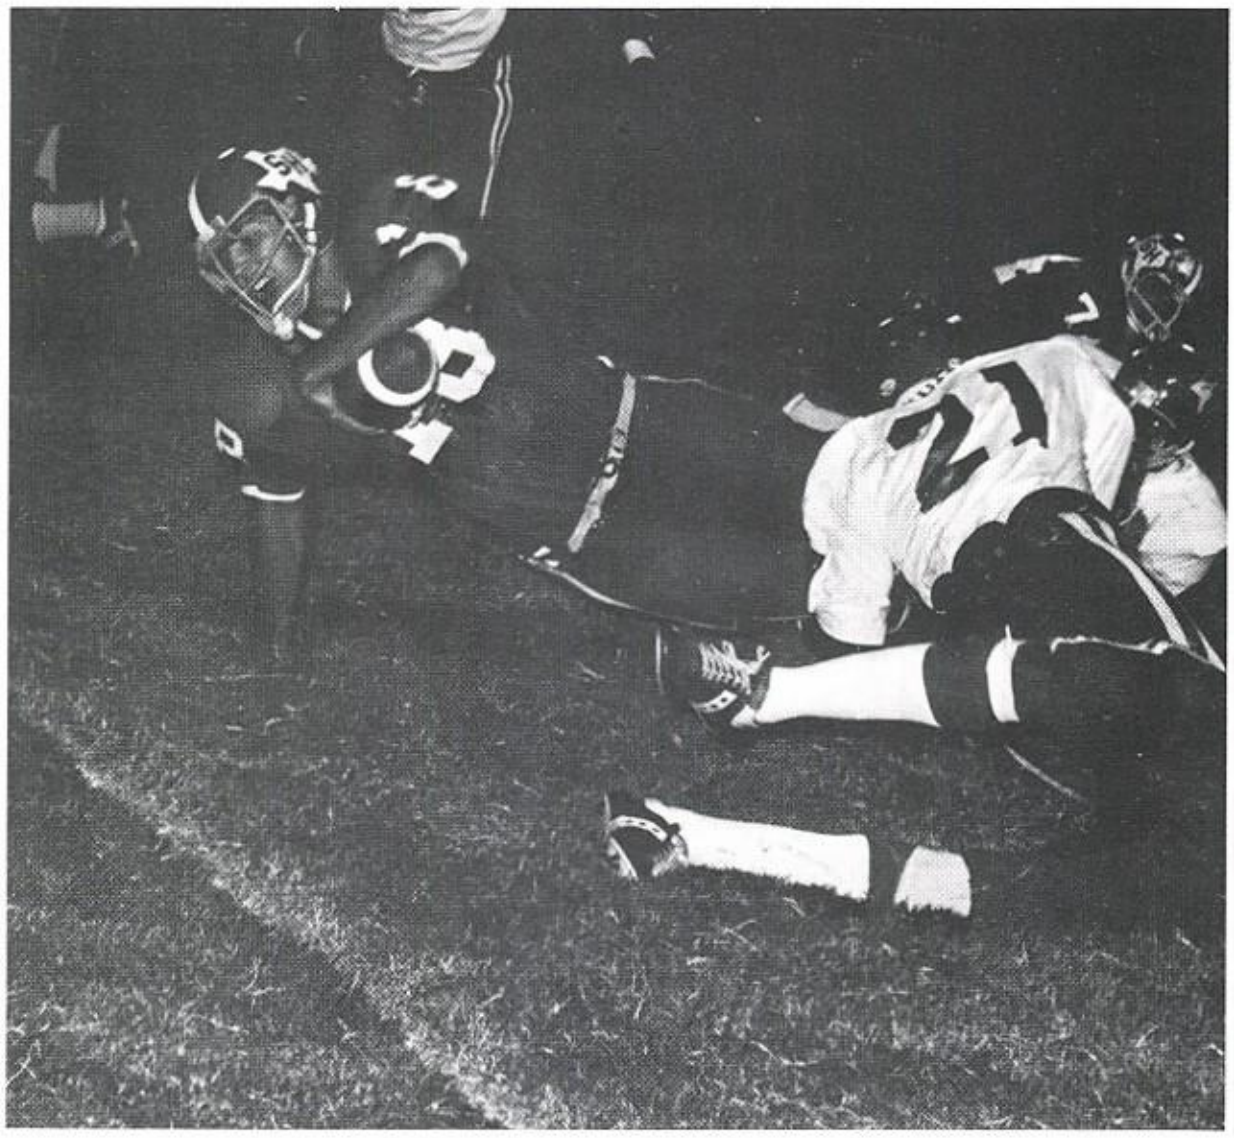


Mario Azios, Mark Krug, and John Smiddy, part of a young offensive line, make way for fullback Bartos' seven-yard touchdown.

Last Minute Proves Fatal

Playing the opening district game of the 1972 season, the inspired Texan offense scored 22 points in the first half to destroy the MacArthur Cardinals, 28-14. Steve Harris' 38-yard field goal started the scoring. On their next possession, Sam drove 47 yards for the score.

Tomlin threw for 273 total yards and two more touchdowns, hitting Glenn Jones for 52 yards and Kenny Butler for a 20-yard score. MacArthur scored twice, but it was all in vain.



Already leading in total offense, Tomlin adds to his record with this 16-yard run.

Making a tremendous stop, safety Ronald Burns and defensive tackle Eddie Davis put a surprised look on a MacArthur player.

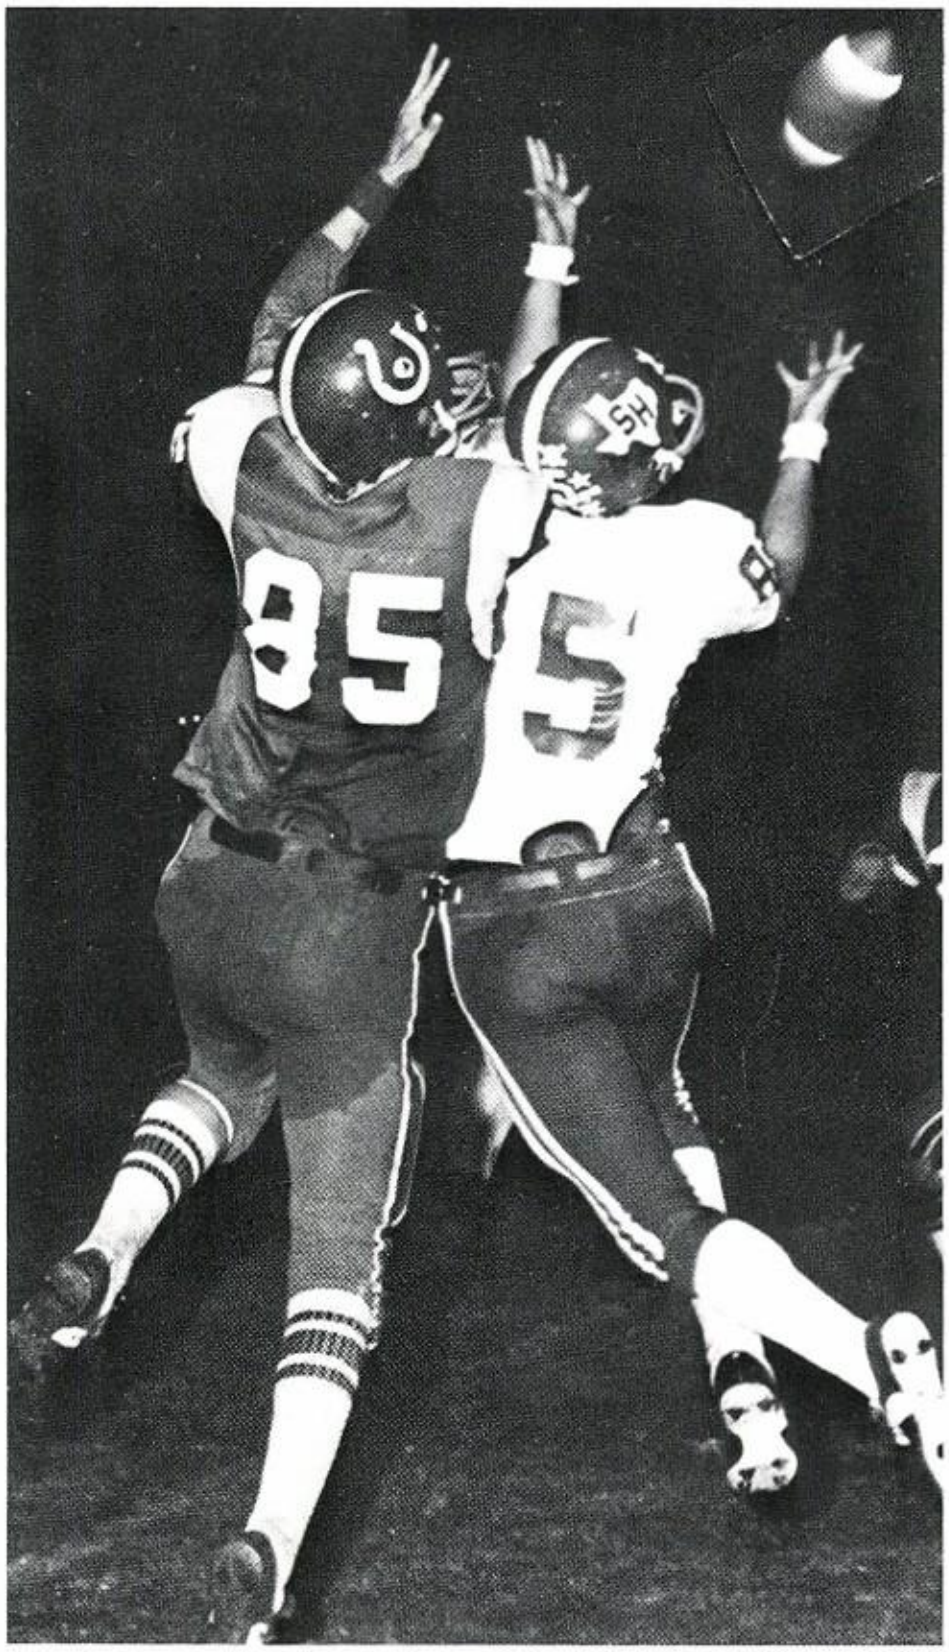
Trying fancy footwork to maintain his balance while under attack, running back Barry Bartos despairingly grits teeth after he finds out these two Gophers are not going to give in for any more yardage. The Texans rolled up a total of 168 yards rushing during the Grand Prarie game.

As Gopher defenders desperately struggle to penetrate the Texan offensive line, junior quarterback Reuben Tomlin hands off the football to the all-district tailback Ronald Burns.

One of the most discouraging and physically exhausting games of the season came on October 20 against Grand Prairie. The Texans saw their title hopes dim as they lost to the Gophers in the closing seconds of the game.

The Gophers took an early lead on a 51-yard drive. Less than a minute later the Gophers had scored again, gaining possession on a fumbled kickoff.

Tomlin came back with a 62-yard pass to Kenny Butler. Butler caught the pass on the 35 going in untouched. Sam scored again and added the 2 point conversion to lead 15-14, but with 42 seconds left in the game, the Gophers kicked a fieldgoal, winning by a score of 15-17.



Kenny Butler swiftly beats a Colt down the sidelines and gracefully leaps to pull in this long spiralled bomb thrown toward him.

After proving their equal capabilities with the supposedly mean green machine, tackle John Smiddy proudly congratulates a Colt.

Steve Harris' field goal try fell short with only 42 seconds left, as Sam played the Colts to a 7-7 tie. The tie put Sam out of the district race, and tying the cross-town rivals was small consolation.

It was the Texans who scored first on an endsweep in the second period. Terry Johannesen keyed the drive which led to the score by Bartos. With only 7:22 left in the game the Colts fluked a pass over the halfback to tie.

Drawing first blood, fullback Barry Bartos notches up six to put the Texans ahead. Bartos tallied the points on a sweep to the left side with 3:43 left in the half. The game was a tie.

Colts, Vikings Bring Tough Games to Sam

Sam's frustrations reached a peak as Lamar's Vikings played tremendous football against them to win 20-14. Lamar's determination won out over a more experienced Texan team. It was big plays that broke the game for the Vikings.

Lamar made the breaks come their way as they scored on a punt return, 66-yard run, and a penalty. Burns scored right before the half on a fumble recovered by Mike Phillips to tie the score 6-6.

The Texans never lost hope as Glenn Mead intercepted a Lamar pass on the 29 and ran it back to the 9 with only seconds left in the game. The Texans made it to the 3 in three plays, but could not score.

This was the first defeat for the Texans against Lamar.

With good downfield blocking by John Smiddy and Kenny Butler, Reuben Tomlin heads upfield for a sizeable gain against Lamar.

Homecoming festivities were climaxed on November 10, as the Texan fans watched their team run over the Irving Tigers 35-6. The Texan offense put it into high gear and scored three times in the first quarter. Two long drives were capped by 2 and 3-yard plunges by Bartos and Burns.

The Tigers were down by 21 points in the first period, but came back to make it 21-6 early in the second period. Tomlin, not to be outdone, immediately came back with a 41-yard pass to Kenny Butler. The Texans led 28-6 at the half. The game ended on a high note, as Burns intercepted a pass in his own endzone and sprinted 101 yards to score.

The Texans anxiously line up against Irving for Homecoming win.

Irving Destroyed Before Homecoming Crowd

Spotting an open receiver, quarterback Reuben Tomlin breaks away from Irving defenders and prepares to let loose a long bomb.

Causing a rushed pass, seniors Mike Phillips and Steve Foster penetrate the line.

Texans Defeat Nimitz 10-3

Sam Houston finished season play on November 17, defeating Nimitz on their Homecoming. The Texan offense drove through the mud and rain to score on their second possession on a pass from Reuben Tomlin. Nimitz got close enough to kick a field goal with no time showing in the half.

In the second half the Texans drove to within the Nimitz 10-yard line three times without scoring. Once more the Texans were stopped at the Nimitz 15 being forced to kick.

The soggy win left the Texans with a 6-3-1 season and a 3-2-1 district record. Tomlin gained 115 yards in 19 carries to lead the Texan offense.

Closing out the 1972 season with a 6-3-1 record, all-district tight end Bruce Loflin makes a diving catch against the Vikings.

17 Texans Receive All-District Honors

Mario Azios and Ronald Burns were named on the All-Tarrant County Football Team.

All-district teams were splotched with Sam Houston starters as 17 Texans made various all-district teams. The Texan football team, which at times showed brilliance, was picked eleventh in state by the Harris polls.

Chosen all-district were Rusty Rogers, Barry Bartos, John Smiddy, Steve Foster, Glenn Mead, Lee Krystinik, Eddie Davis, Mario Azios, Kent Jones, Mike Phillips, Bruce Loflin, Derek Mott, Ronald Burns, Reuben Tomlin, Kenny Butler, Hank Angell, and Steve Shoff.

Making the All-Tarrant County team were Mario Azios and Ronald Burns. It was these 17 players who led the Sam Houston varsity team to victory and a successful 6-3-1 season record.

Ronald Burns and Mario Azios were announced Most Valuable Back and Most Valuable Player respectively. Senior Charlie Apel was presented with the Sportsmanship Award.

On September 13, Sam's football squad held their annual football banquet. The meal was served by the Arlington Lions Club. A welcome was given by Lion President, Bob Johnson.

The city's number one fan, Mayor Tom Vandergriff, was the guest speaker. Mr. Vandergriff referred to himself as a "frustrated announcer." The Mayor, up until this year when it became impossible, announced every home game for Arlington during the last 20 years.

Mr. Vandergriff conducted an interview with Sam Houston players, cheerleaders, and coaches. The players were asked to recall the most outstanding moment in their career at Sam Houston. Mayor Vandergriff even interviewed Mrs. Hyden to find out her views about coaching. The banquet ended in a candlelight ceremony led by the cheerleaders.

Determination Prepares Novices for Varsity

The Texan B-team got off to a bad start, losing their opening three games. They played first at Southwest on September 7, then lost to L.D. Bell, and on September 21 Sam fell to Richland 21-7. The B-team broke their losing streak by defeating the Denton Broncos at C.H. Wilemon Field 8-7.

The Junior Varsity opened district play by edging MacArthur 7-6. MacArthur scored first but missed the extra-point leaving the Texans with their first district victory of the year.

The Texans made it three in a row as they downed the Gophers 23-13. Homer Sargent and Jeff Horton carried the ball for the fighting Texans.

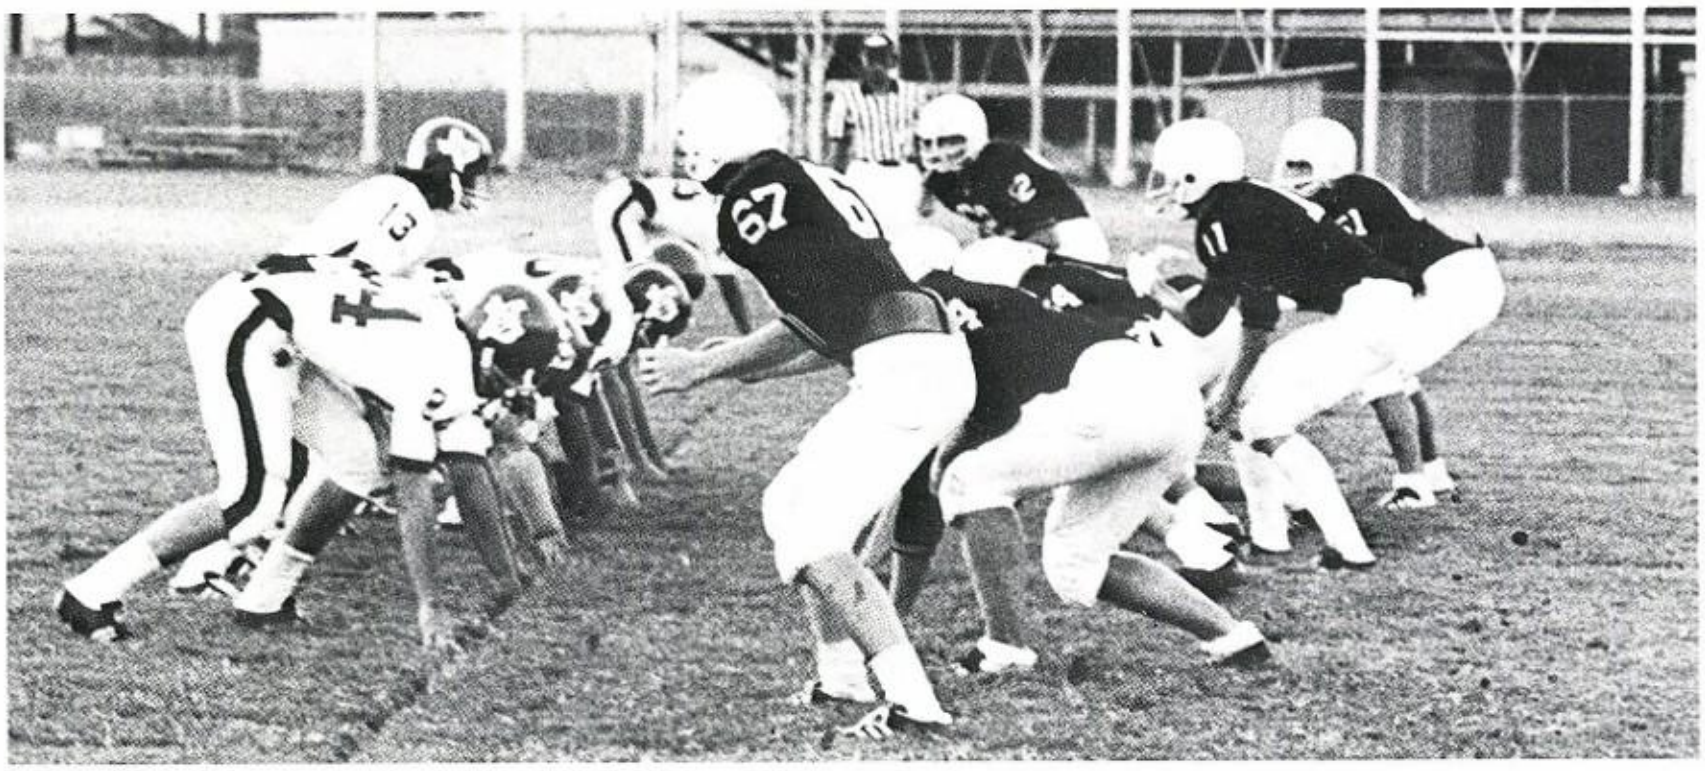
On October 26, the Colts stopped Sam's winning streak 29-13. Sam scored first, but it was the Colts from then on. The loss was the Texans' third, leaving them with a 3-3 record.

Lamar, vying for the city championship was next to beat the junior varsity. Jerry St. Cyr led the Texans with 6 of 13 passes for 98 yards. Homer Sargent scored the only T.D.

The Sam Houston B-team, withstood several comebacks by Irving to win 27-13. Sam amassed a total of 245 yards. Scoring for the Texans were Jeff Horton and Homer Sargent.

On November 16, the B-team whipped Irving Nimitz 31-6. Sam Houston scored all of their 31 points in the first half and then held off several Viking scoring threats.

In a clutch play, Homer Sargent desperately attempts to gain possession of a fumbled ball as five Southwest players look on.



Led by quarterback Jerry St. Cyr, the Texan offense prepares to move against Bell. The Raiders won the game 14-6.

Intramurals Provide Competitive Exercise

Winners of physical education's basketball intramural championship are Andy Fuqua, Donald Sweirc, James Baughman, Brian Cherry, Mike Carson, and Scotty Attkisson.

Sam Houston's physical education program emphasized physical fitness with their varied programs of class intramurals. P.E. coaches Vaughan and Cantrell conducted intramurals in football, basketball, volleyball, track, and baseball during the year. Eliminations were held in each event to determine the school champion except in track.

In November the two best football teams met to decide the championship. The opening score was made when fourth period was dropped for a safety. Second period came back to win by two touchdowns making the final score 12-2.

In basketball the boys were divided up into groups of six. Each day they competed against other teams in their gym class with each class's best team qualifying for the championship.

First Half Plagued with Injuries, Fouls

The first half of district 7-4AAAA play saw all-district player Terry St. Cyr on the bench because of an ankle injury. Other Texan starters like post-man Jimmy Danner were continually in foul trouble.

The Texans opened their season by falling to Lamar at Texas Hall 53-47. They then moved on to Irving to play the Nimitz Vikes. A Texan rally was stopped when two Sam starters fouled out.

Sam fell consecutively to the Irving Tigers and Arlington Colts. The Texans led the Colts for three quarters but fouls cost them the game.

Grand Prairie defeated the Texans 51-50 with a controversial call at the buzzer. The final game of the first half saw MacArthur the winner 53-49.

Texan Cagers Overpower MacArthur, Nimitz

The Texans started the second district half with 19 turnovers against Lamar, allowing the Vikings a close 49-44 win. Sam won their first victory against Nimitz as they played perhaps the best game of the year, winning on a 62-58 score.

Irving came to Sam on February 2 to defeat the Texans 78-49. Jimmy Danner was high point man for the Texans with 26 points. On February 6 the Arlington Colts downed Sam for the second round of the city championship 51-41.

Jimmy Danner scored a high of 24 points against Grand Prairie but the Gophers' fast break won the game 65-54. The Texans ended the season with a loss to MacArthur. The Texans played perhaps their best first half of the season but lost 50-49.

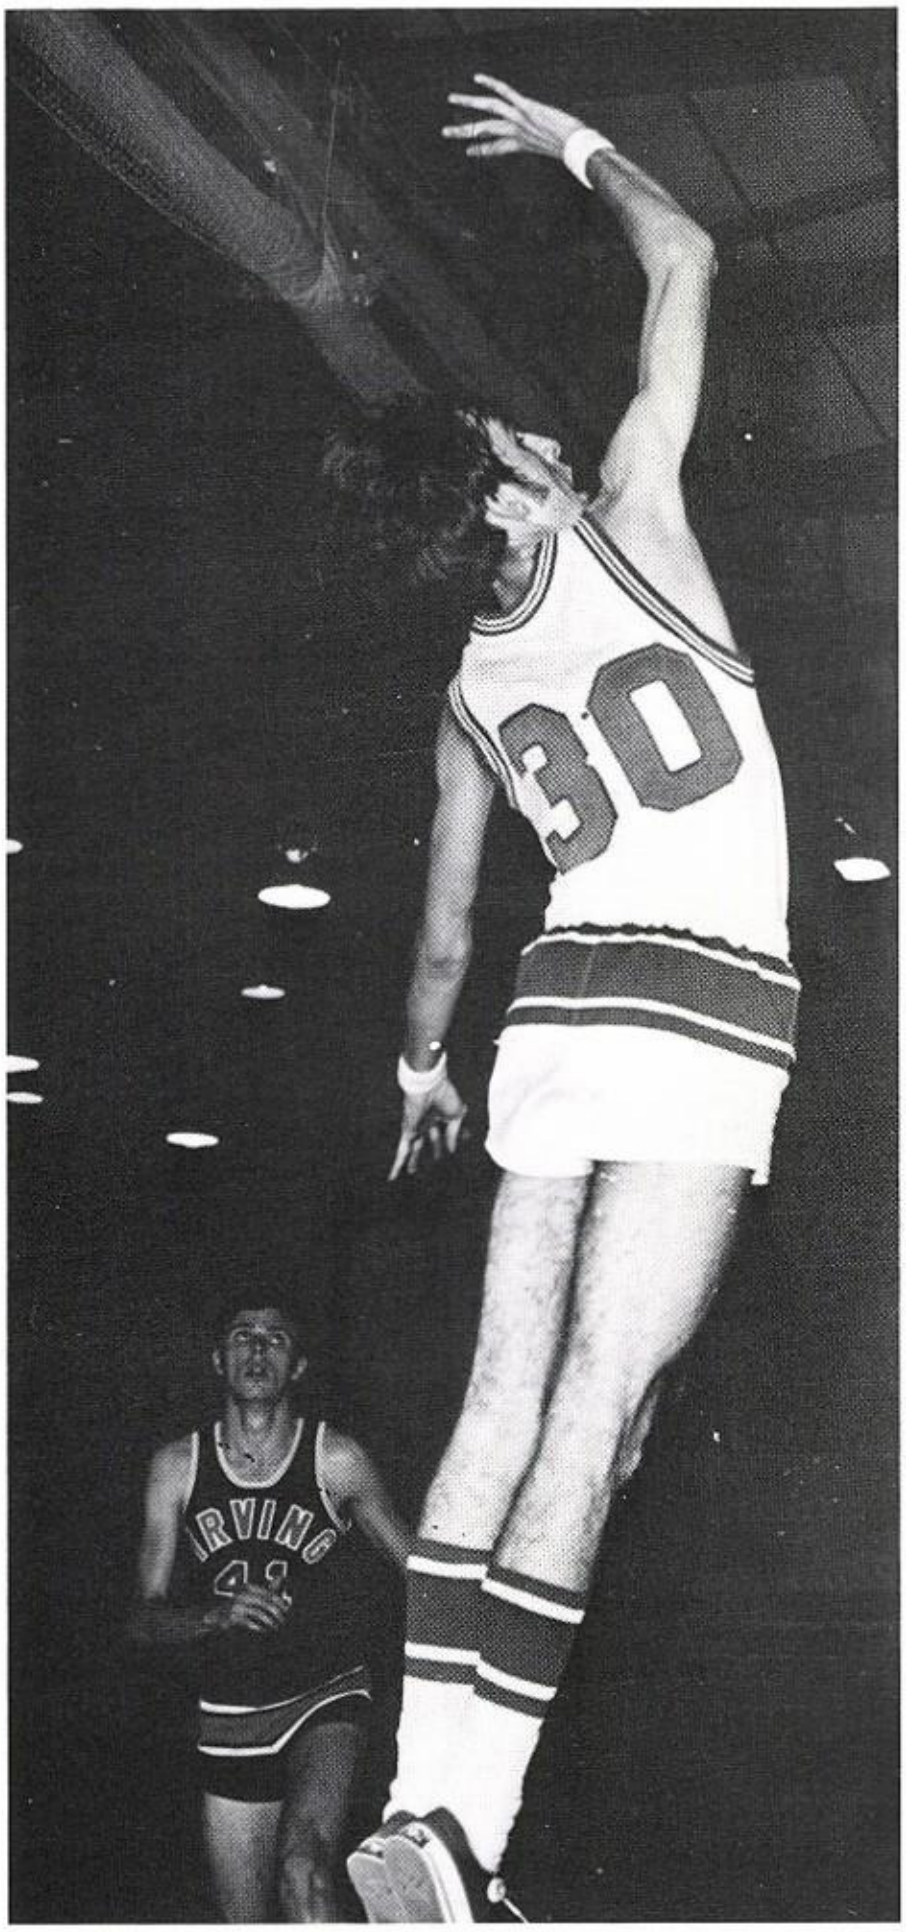
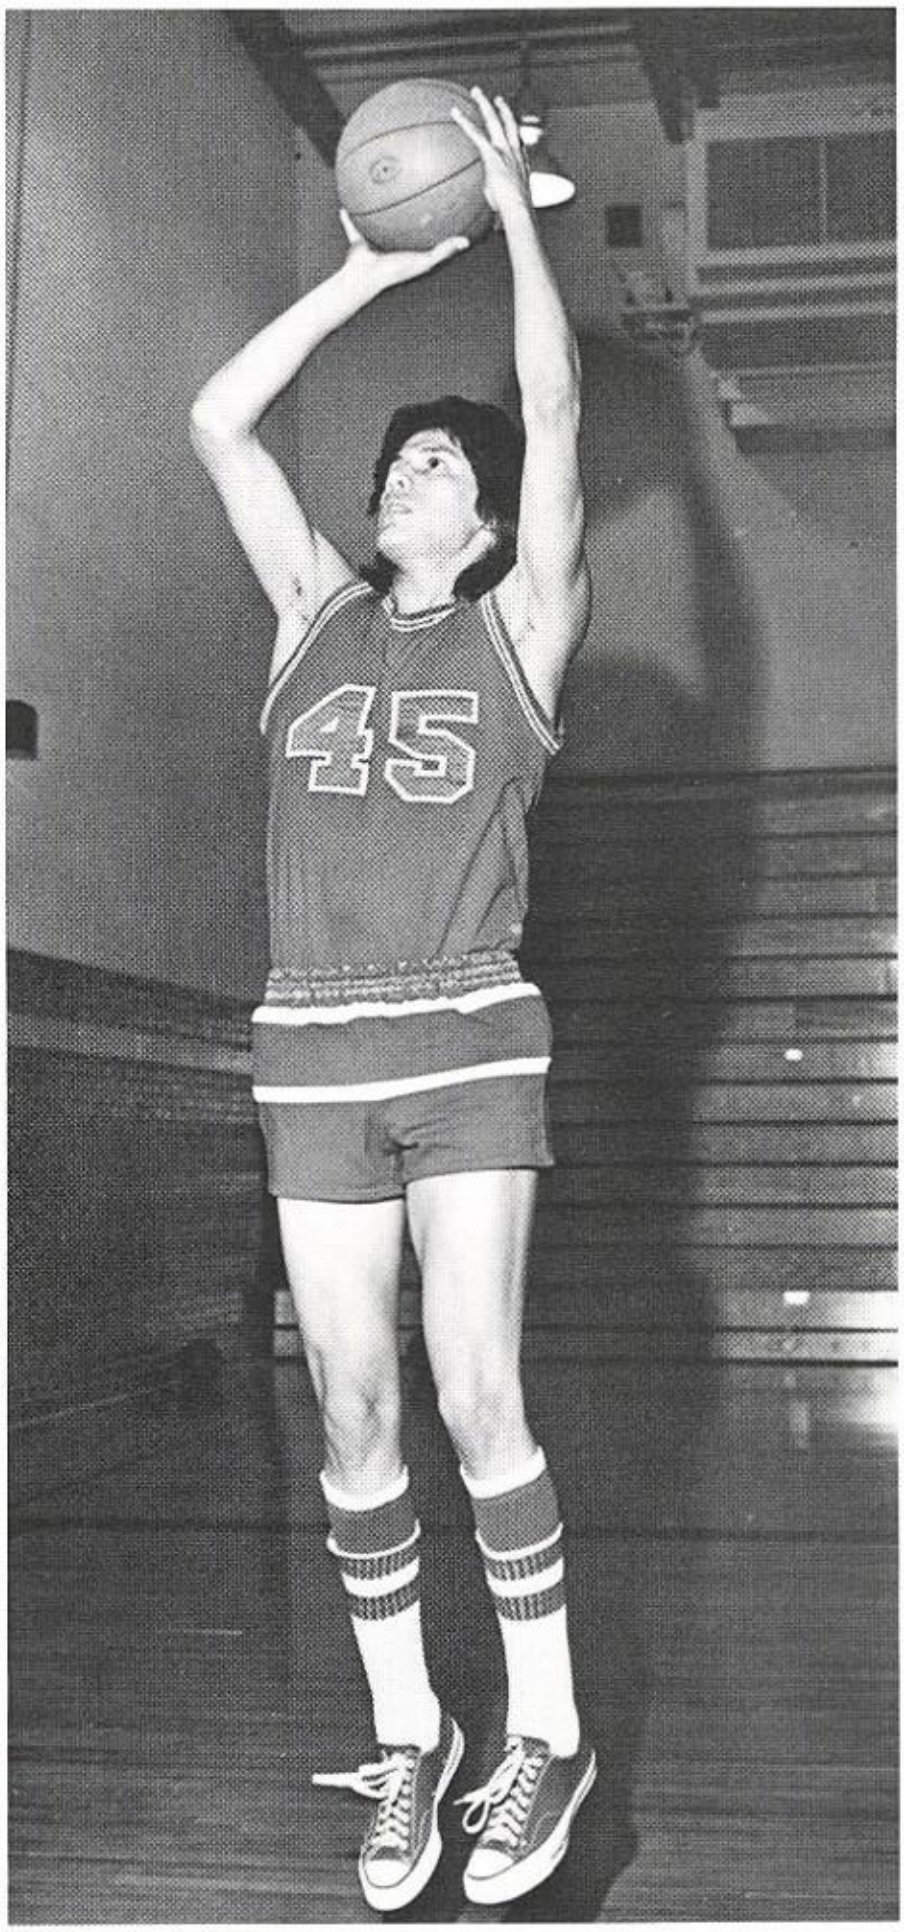
Danner, St. Cyr Move Up to All-District

Two Sam Houston cagers were named on the '72-'73 all-district team. Senior 6'-4" Jimmy Danner was chosen on the first team. Danner utilized quick moves and agility to make up for his disadvantage in height against the taller post men.

Chosen on the second team was 6'-2" senior Terry StCyr. StCyr led the Texan attack after coming off of an early season injury. Both Sam Houston players were instrumental in winning two second half ballgames.



Chosen on the all-district first team, senior Jimmy Danner led the Texans in scoring with an impressive 17.8 points per game.



Plagued early in the season by an ankle injury Terry StCyr came back in league play to make the all-district second team.

B-Team Out-Shoots Nimitz, Grand Prairie

The 72-73 B-team basketball team was thwarted by a continual change in lineup. The Texans started district play with a fresh lineup and headed for a 2-10 district record. Besides several starters quitting, Sam also lacked an outside shooter.

Both of the Texans' wins were cinched in the final seconds by good free throw shots. Madger Pittman sank two free throws to defeat Nimitz 49-46. The Grand Prairie victory was secured by Claude Miller's foul shots.

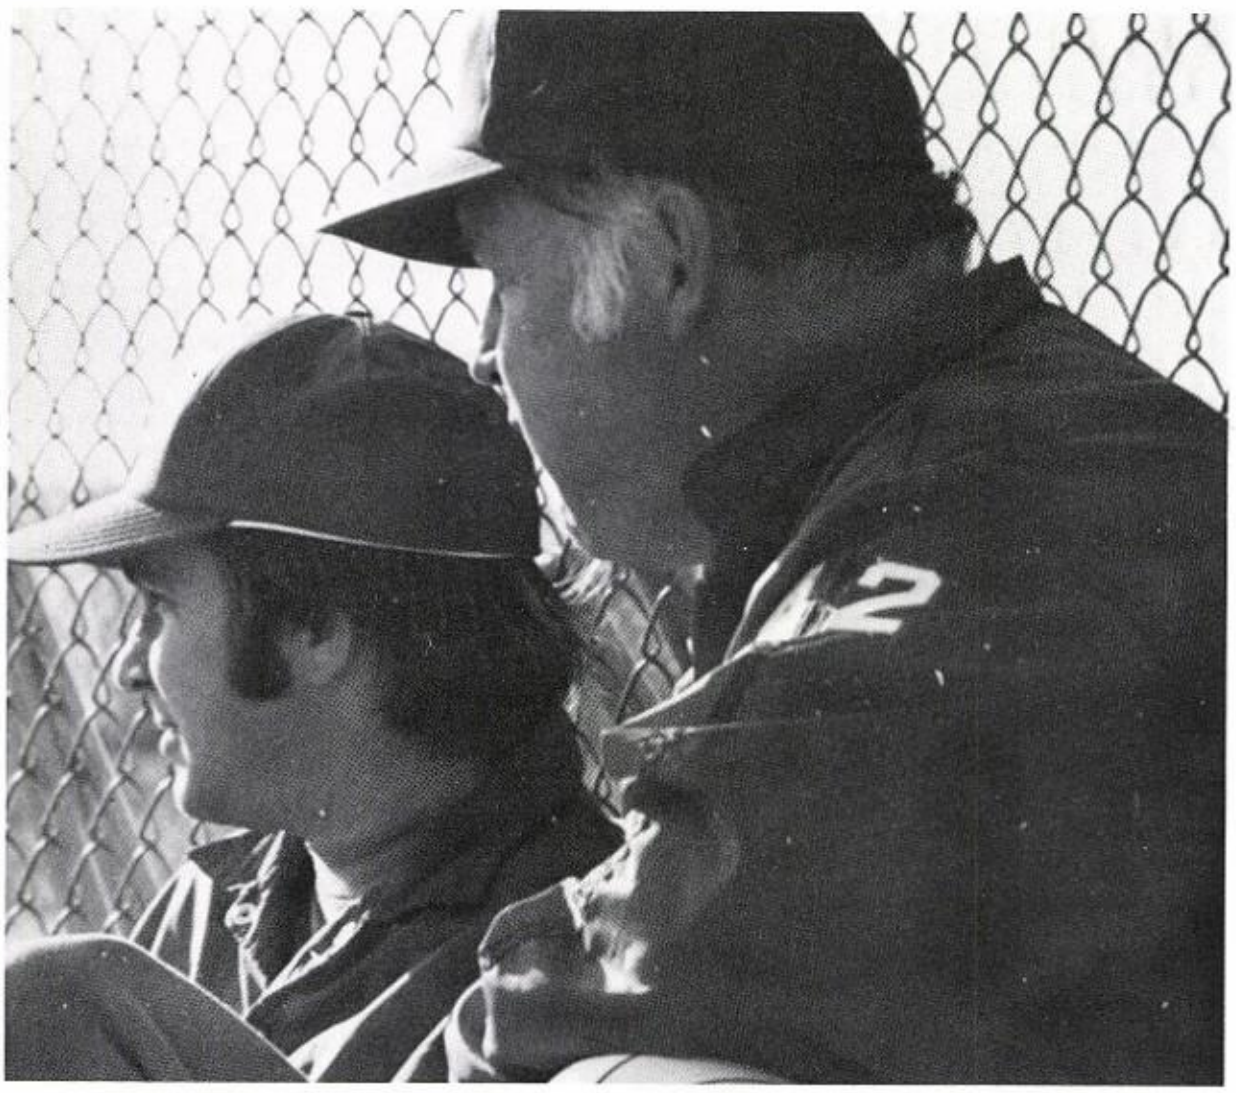
Irving Edges Sam in First Half Play-offs



Coaches Terry George and Tom Cantrell watch hours of practice pay off in the game.

The Texan Baseball Team came out of non-district play with a .505 so-so record. The coach, Tommy Cantrell, attributed their losing to lack of hitting. Sam started out district play with a win over MacArthur 6-5. It was a seventh inning comeback by Johannesen, Skinner, and Jones that won it.

The Texans defeated Nimitz, Lamar, and Grand Prairie, losing only to Irving and Arlington. They then went to district play-offs to face Irving.

The Texans went to district playoffs with a five-way tie for first place. The Texans met Irving in the first game, only to be out-slugged by the Tigers 4-1. Irving went on to win the first half district title with Arlington beating Nimitz and then falling to the Tigers 3-1.

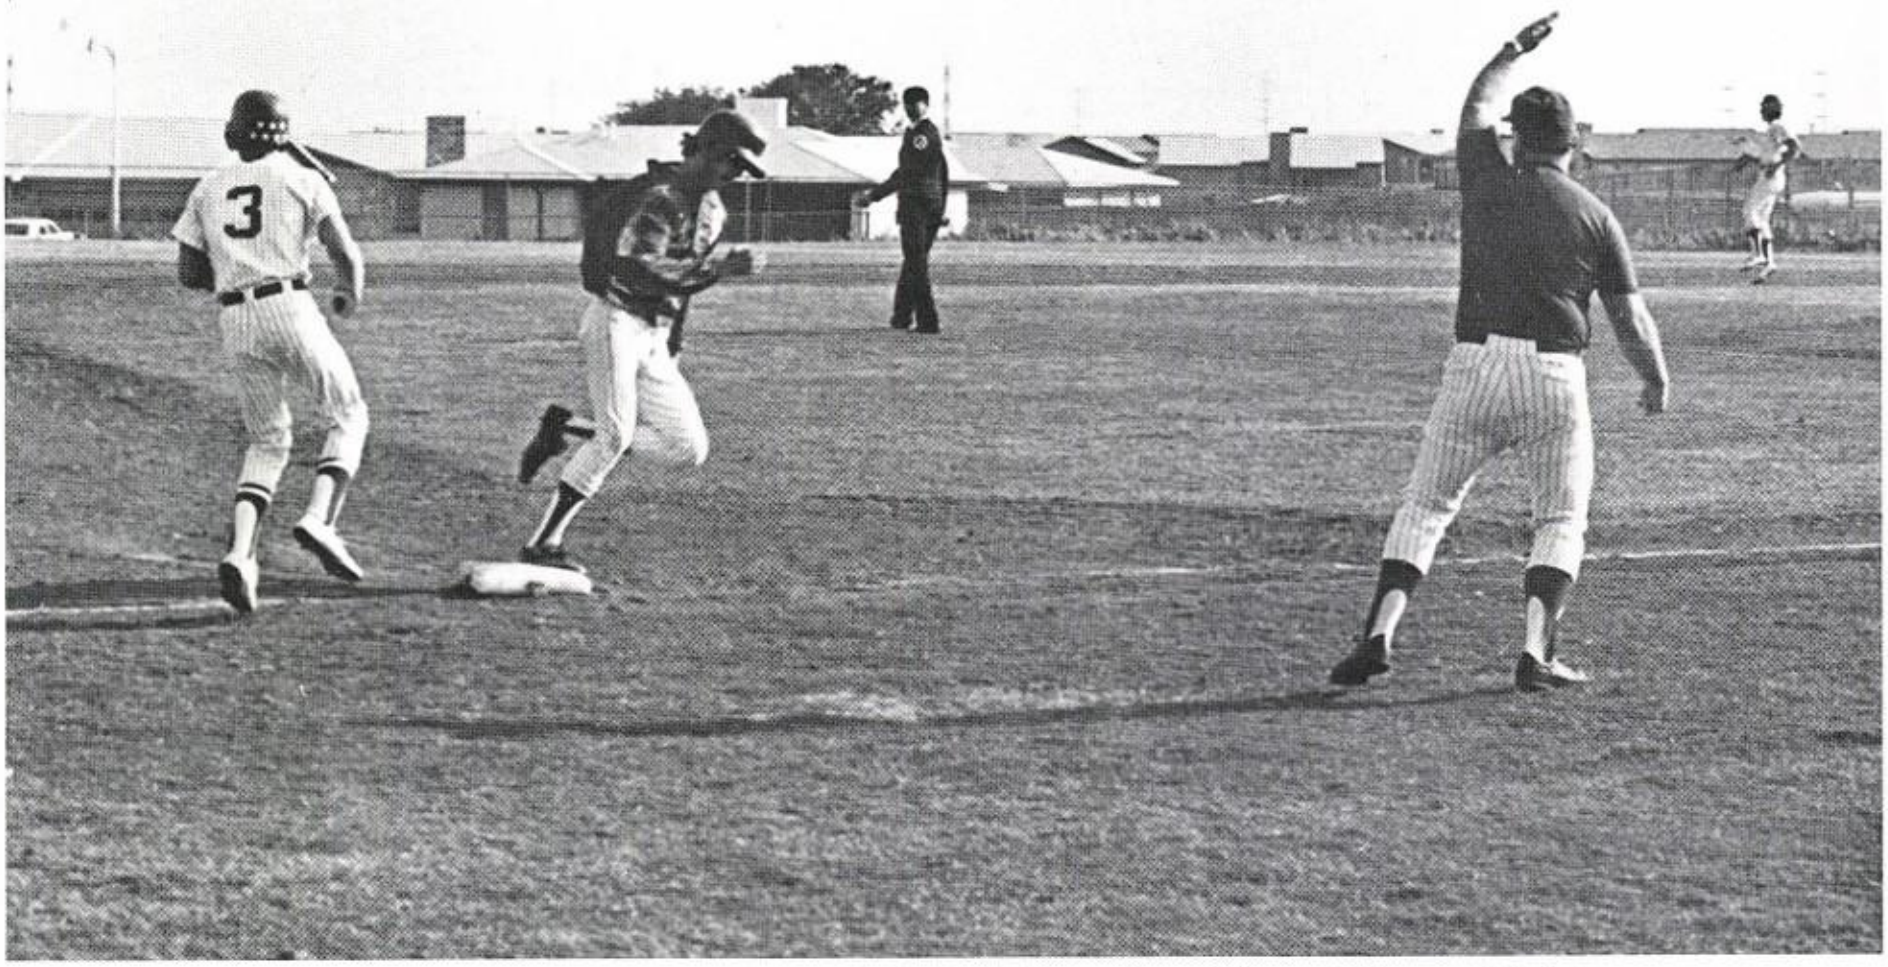
Texan pitcher David Hicks stays alert to hold the Lamar base runner on first base.

Sam went into the second half of district much like they played the first half, with a loss to MacArthur 5-4 and two close wins against Irving 2-1 and Nimitz 3-2.

The sleeping Texans then unleashed a hitting attack and exploded for 35 runs in the next three games. Sam Houston took a 9-1 win over Arlington, then shutting out Lamar 17-0, and finally destroying Grand Prairie 9-1. The Texans also began to put the ball out of the park with home runs by Butler, Skinner, Farrar, Tomlin, and two by Rogers.

The Texans stormed into the play-off game and by the top of the fifth it was Sam 12-8. The Cardinals rallied in the fifth and sixth innings and came back over Sam with a victory 13-12.



Reuben Tomlin scores from second on a long hit to right field. The Texans beat Arlington 9-1 in one of their better games.

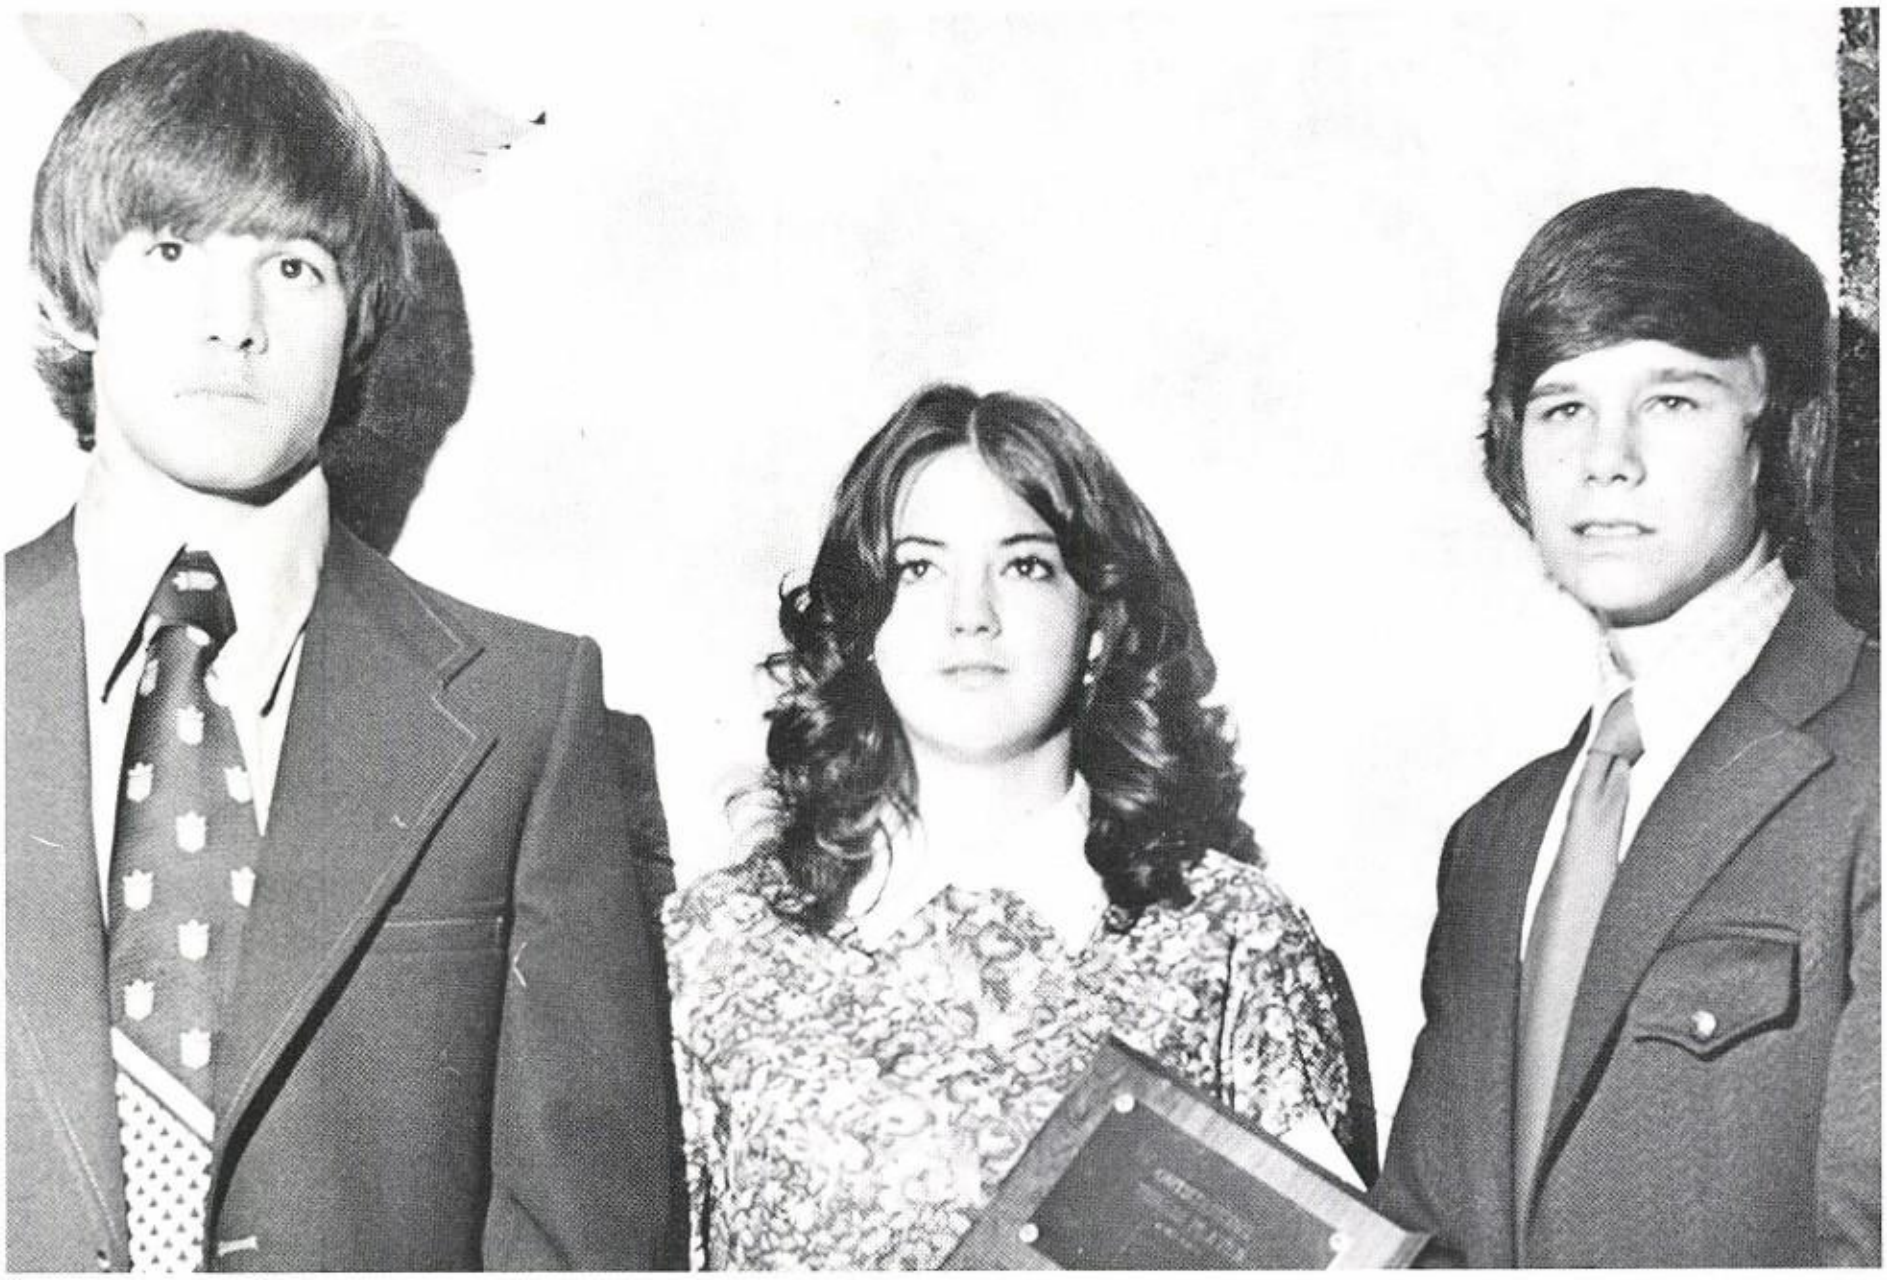
Eight Hardballers Chosen All-District

Eight were chosen for the 7-4A all-district team: Glenn Jones, Rusty Rogers, Terry Johannesen, Richard Guerra, Tim Skinner, Dino Urquidi, Wayne Farrar, and Reuben Tomlin.

Eight Sam Houston baseball players were chosen on the all-district baseball squad. The four Texan seniors were Glenn Jones, outfield; Rusty Rogers, catcher; Terry Johannesen, outfield; and Richard Guerra, second base.

Also representing Sam were juniors Tim Skinner, shortstop; Dino Urquidi, third base; Wayne Farrar, pitcher; and Reuben Tomlin who was chosen as both all-district outfielder and all-district pitcher. Senior Rusty Rogers was named as the team's most valuable player and led the Texans from behind home plate.

These eight Sam Houston all-district players led the Texans to a 9-5 district record and a victory against every district opponent.



Honored at the Sam Houston High School spring sports banquet for their outstanding individual performances were Steve Brinkley, (left), who was selected the outstanding trackster, and Debbie Dollar and Brian Showers, who shared honors for being outstanding tennis players.

Receiving honors at the sports banquet were Carol Easley, who was named outstanding in girls track, while Pam Morris, Kathy Summers, and Lisa Love received honors for volleyball. Kathy was outstanding player while both Lisa and Pam were named to the all-district team.

MVP's Announced at All Sports Banquet

On May 22, the Annual Sports Spring Banquet was held in the school cafeteria. The outstanding players of all spring sports were announced at the banquet.

Gaining recognition were Rusty Rogers, baseball; Jimmy Danner, basketball; Steve Brinkley, track, and Debbie Dollar and Brian Showers, tennis.

Outstanding in girls' track was sophomore Carol Easley; Kathy Summers won volleyball, and Pam Morris and Lisa Love were cited for being all-district.

Seniors selected by the Texan basketball and baseball teams for the Most Valuable Players were Jimmy Danner and Rusty Rogers.

The 1973 Sam Houston track team came on very strong in the field events and long distance runs this season. Three field eventers qualified for the annual Fort Worth Coaches' Indoor Meet held at the Tarrant County Convention Center. They were Ricky Neuman, shot put; Steve Brinkley, pole vault; and Billy Battle, high jump.

The Texan thinclads did not do as well as had been predicted, taking third place in district behind Arlington and Irving High Schools. Ricky Neuman and Steve Brinkley led the field events and went on to regionals to represent Sam.

Senior pole vaulter Steve Brinkley won at regionals and went on to the state meet to win second in state. He is Sam's first qualifier since 1968.

Cross-Country, Girls' Track Show Success

The seven-man Sam Houston cross-country team competed in eight meets for the 1972-'73 season but never managed to place. The highest qualifier was Sam Sexton, who finished ninety-sixth.

Making up the team were Sam Sexton, Bernard Wilcox, David Wade, Jerry York, Mark Horn, Mike Navin, and Gary Gattis with Coach Jimmy Brooks.

This year was the second year for Sam Houston's girls' track to compete in season tournaments. The team did well in the tournaments in which they competed.

The only second year runner was junior Tina Brown who led the two juniors and three sophomores in competition in six tournaments this season and ended with a winning record.

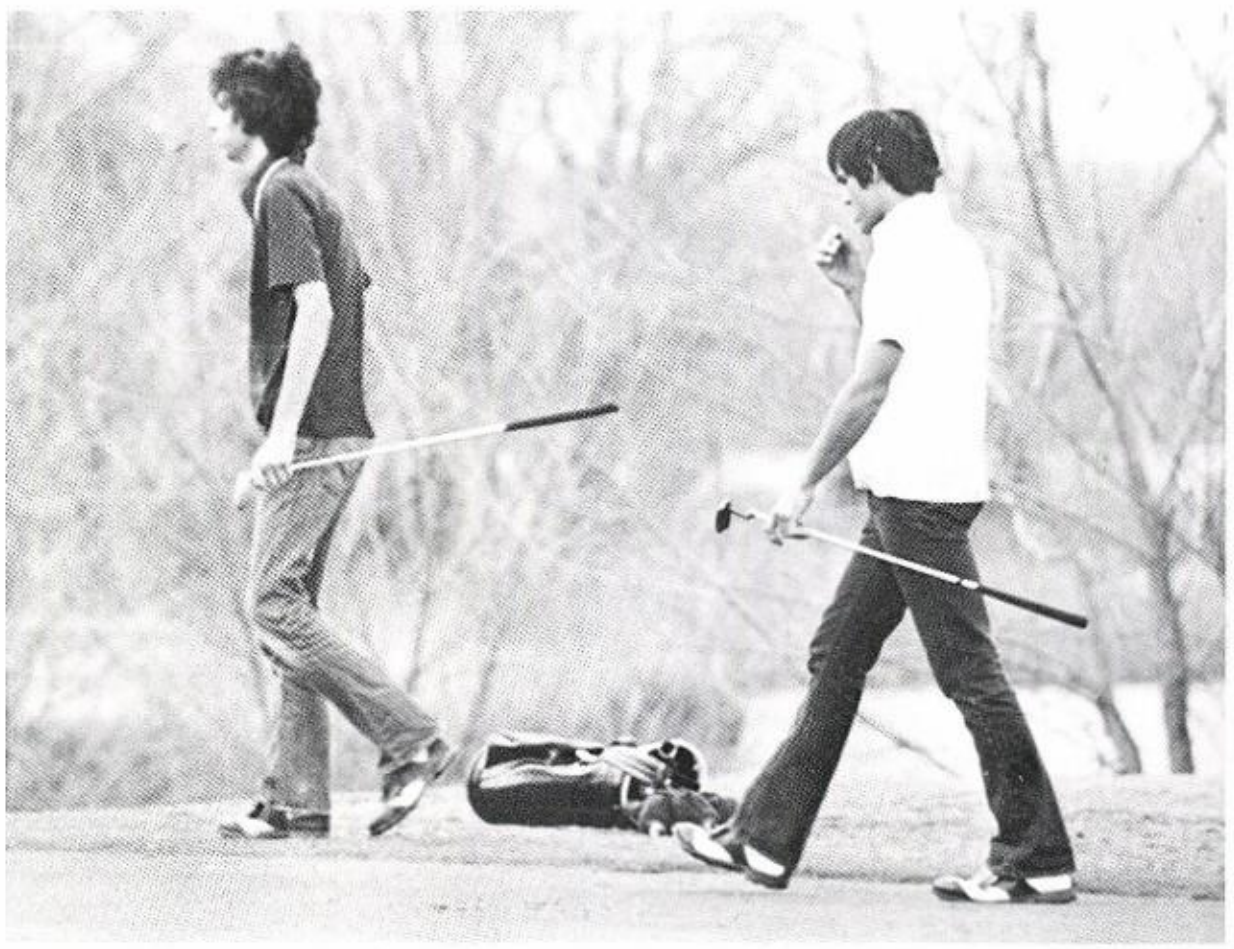
Golf Team Takes Third in District Meet

The 1972-'73 golf team took third place at the district meet, only one point behind second place finisher, Arlington High School. Irving High took a first in the tournament after coming from behind. The district meet was held at Grand Prairie.

The Texans competed in the Arlington tournament and finished in fifth place after leading the entire tournament. The Texans turned in the best performance of the year, but on the last 18 holes a Sam Houston golfer walked off the course, leaving Sam to finish fifth.

Leading the Texans were Russ Reinohl, who won the Lamar Tournament at Rolling Hills, Larry Crole, Carl Perkins, and Earl Merrifield.



Larry Crole and Carl Perkins represent Sam Houston in the District Tournament at Grand Prairie. The Texans received third place, only one point behind the Arlington High Colts.

Very often arriving before school to get in extra practice for the coming week's tournament, junior tennis member Debbie Dollar finished the year with a 10-5 district record.

Sam Houston's tennis team had a rebuilding year during the '72-'73 season. The team's only district win was over Nimitz, March 21 in a 9-6 upset. On April 5-6 the district meet was held with Sam Houston ending up in fifth place.

The best individual performances this year were turned in by Debbie Dollar who qualified for the Wrighton Cup Tryouts and Brian Showers who was cited for improvement and hard work by Coach Vaughan.

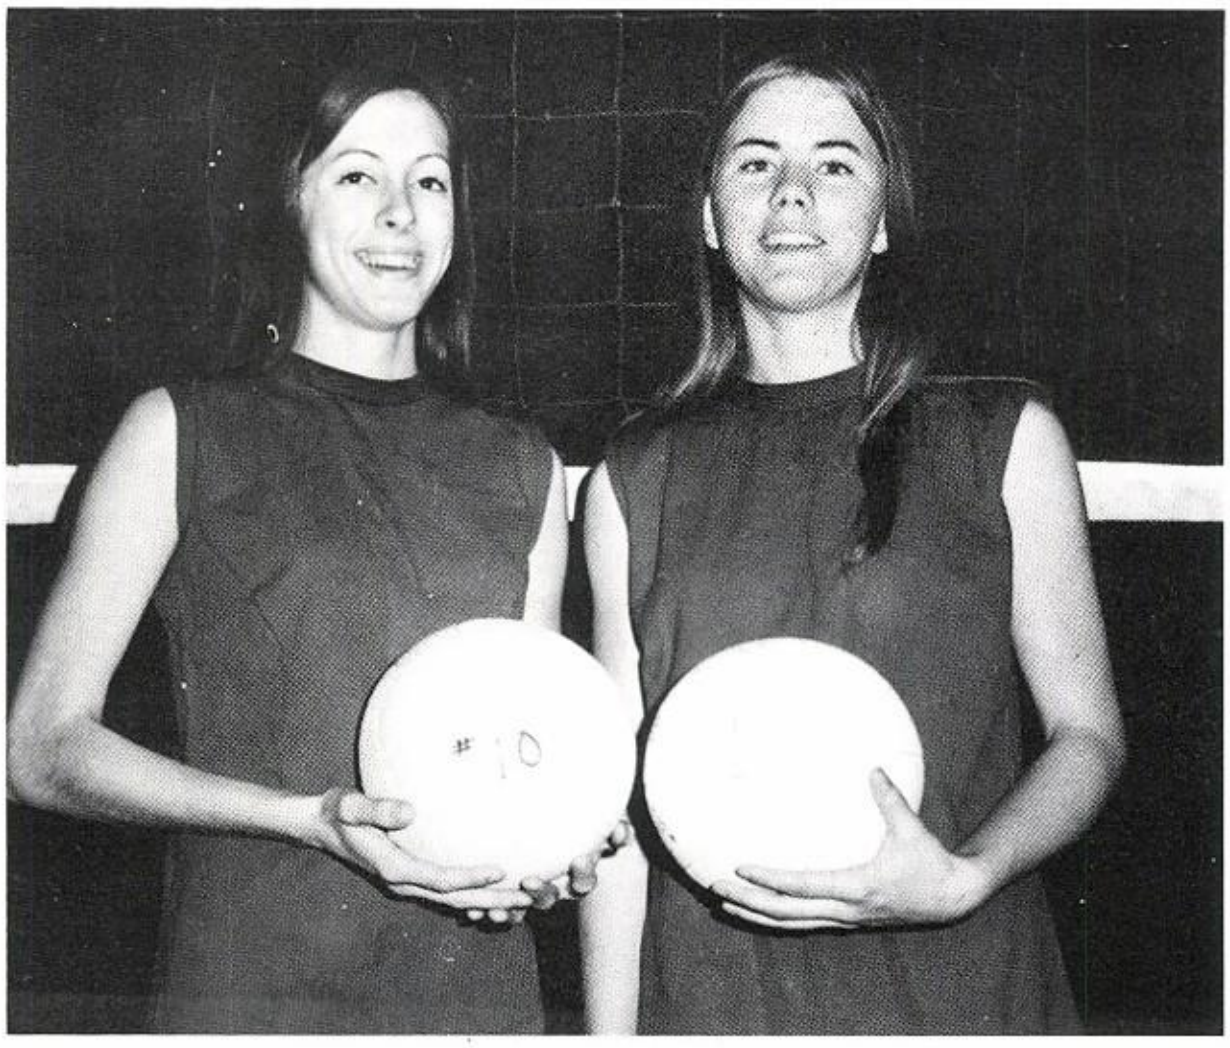
Castleberry Beats Sam — Title Hopes Dim



Texans Lisa Love and Pam Morris were chosen on the all-district volleyball team.

By March 1, Sam Houston's Varsity Volleyball Team was in second place behind Irving High School, after having defeated the Tigers in district play. The Texans stood with a 7-2 record, losing to Castleberry and Arlington.

On March 15, the Texans lost to Castleberry, knocking them out of the district race. Down 15-4 in the first game, Sam came back to win the second game 15-10, only to lose the third contest 15-8. Sam came back the next week to defeat Pierce High in two games.

The Texans closed their 11-5 season with a defeat at the hands of Irving. Irving, the district champs, took two decisive victories over Sam with scores of 15-1 and 15-7.

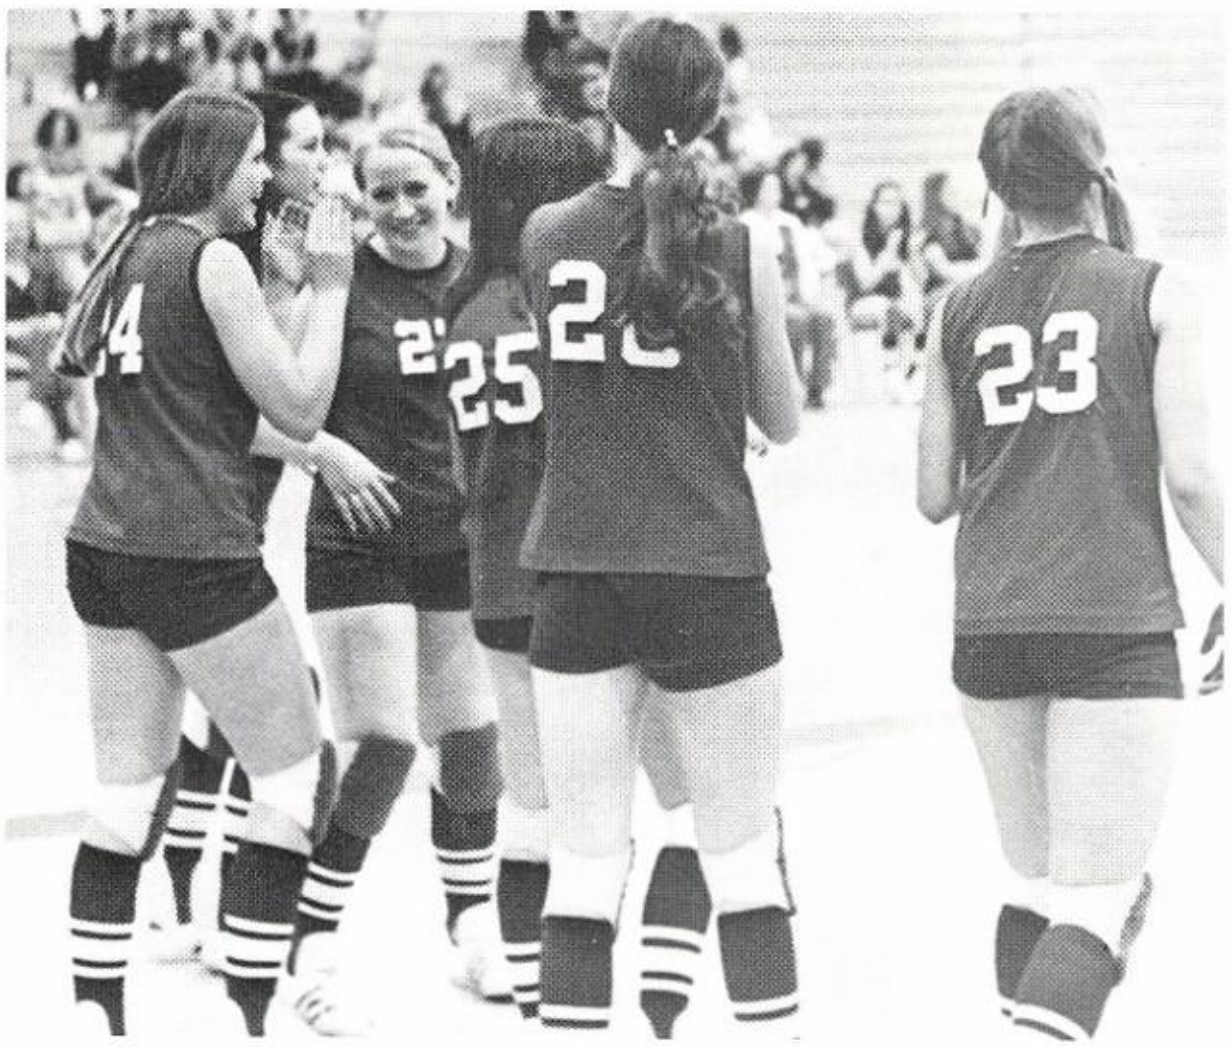
Texan Volleyball B-Team Defeats Irving

Practicing during the fourth period each day with the Varsity Volleyball Team the B-team squad was made up of nine sophomores and one junior. B-teamers mainly practiced learning the fundamentals on how to handle the ball softly with just the fingertips. One of the most difficult things for the girls to learn besides handling the ball softly was how to spike the ball.

The B-team started off to a slow start in district play by losing to Lamar's B-team in two games. Coach Sue Ellis said that her B-teamers showed much determination and willpower in learning from their mistakes.

Although there was no district champion in B-team volleyball, the girls beat highly rated McArthur who was undefeated before.



These B-team girls rejoice after scoring a point that put them ahead of Irving.

Administration, Board Plan School Year

Winding up another year as Superintendent of Arlington Public Schools, Mr. James Martin has ended his eighteenth term. His job is to supervise the entire school district.

Aiming to better Arlington's Independent School District, the Administration and Board of Education worked together to meet the needs of the students and teachers.

Heading the Administration, Mr. James Martin's job involved planning, supervising, and organizing the school district. Aiding Mr. Martin were assistant superintendents Mr. Woodrow Counts, education, and Mr. Roy Wood, finance. This spring these men chose the new curriculum and faculty members for summer school and the '73-'74 school year.

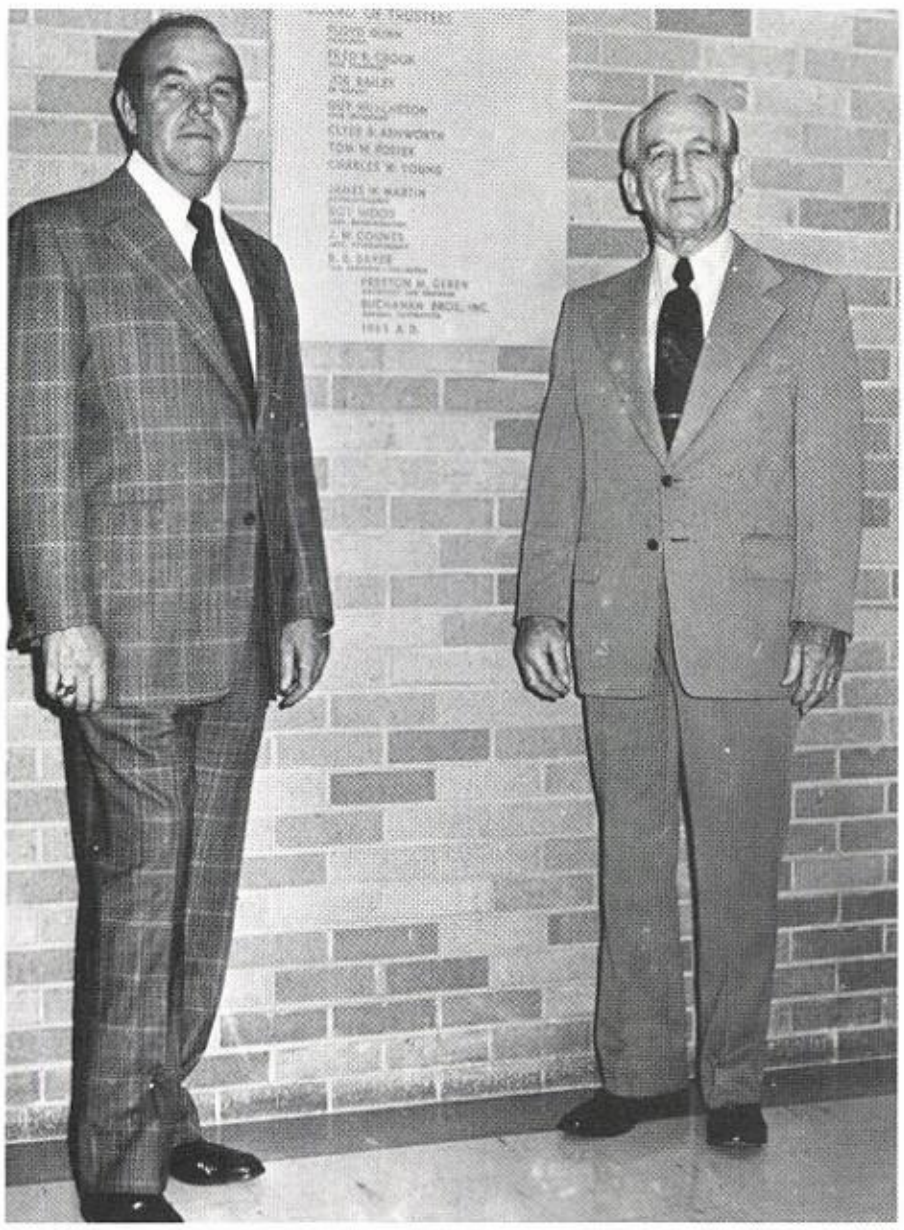
Making up the Public School Board were seven private citizens who acted as aides to the administration. This year the Board worked hard making plans for Arlington's fourth high school to open in 1974.

Specialties of the two administrative assistant superintendents, Mr. Roy Wood and Mr. Woodrow Counts, are finance and education, respectively. These men work with other administrators and Board members on planning.

Mr. Tom Foster completed his last term as the president of the Board in April.

Mrs. Tye Barnett and Dr. J. M. Farrell, vice secretary, represent the Arlington Independent School District. Both of these members help to improve the school board policies.

Dr. Truett C. Boles and Mr. Philip C. McGahey, both members of the Board of Education, keep busy with school programs.



Mr. Bill Bondurant and Mr. Charles Young are active members of the Board. They have served Arlington for several years.

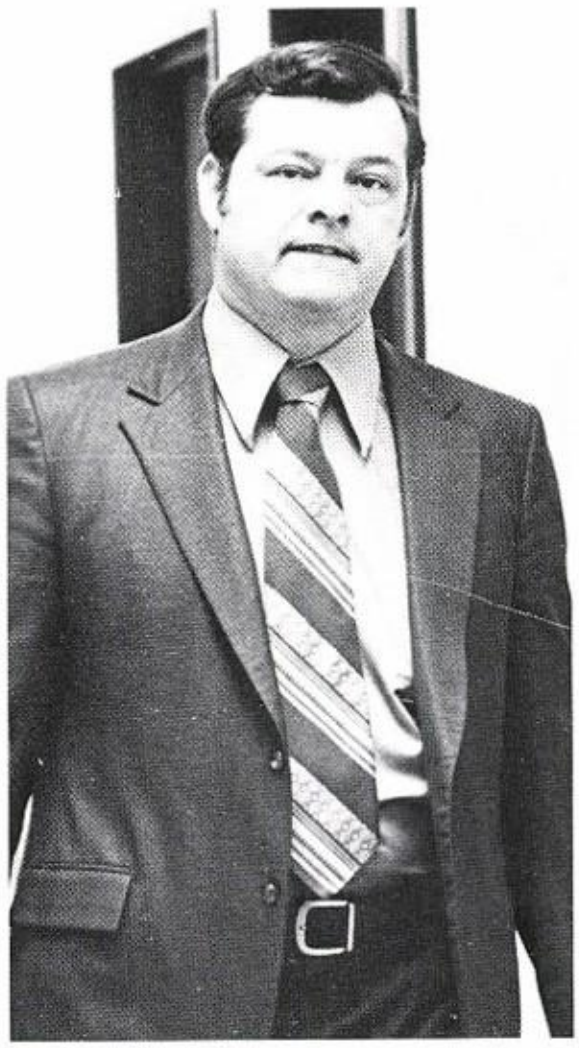
Principal Finds New Activities Exciting

Taking over the position of principal this year was Mr. Bud Remynse. He has been with the Sam Houston administration for six years. Previously he was a coach at a local junior high.

Mr. Monroe Bicknell presides as vice-principal. He has been dean of boys at Sam for three years. He is in charge of the issuing of all textbooks and also takes care of registering for the draft.

A newcomer to the school is Mr. G. A. Glenn, who also acts as vice-principal. He sponsors the Student Congress and makes sure that parking stickers are issued. He also takes care of the activities calendar.

Mr. Remynse finds his new job as principal both exciting and rewarding, even though it often leaves him with little spare time.



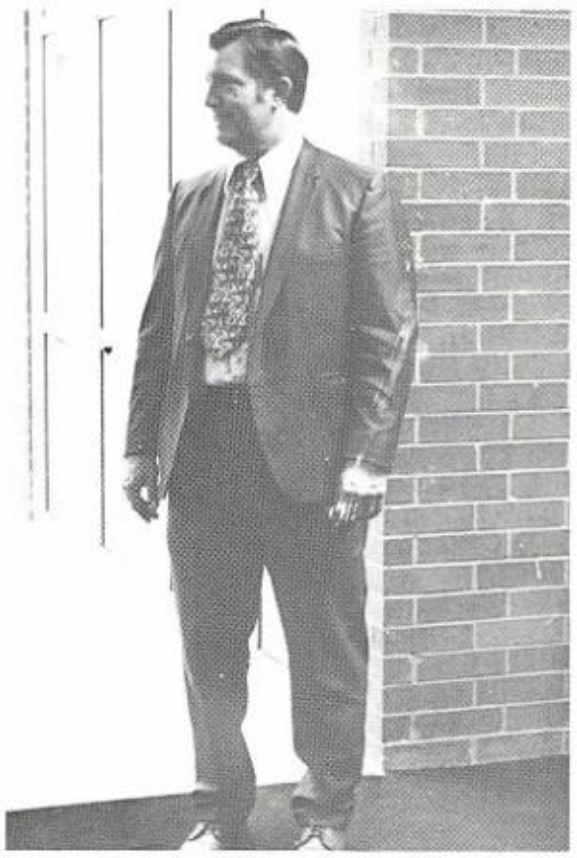
Mr. B. H. Remynse filled the position of principal left vacant by Mr. H. W. Key.

Checking his busy schedule, Principal Bud Remynse sets up a parent conference to discuss a student's attendance record. Mr. Remynse has always believed in the "open door policy," as he feels it is important to keep communication open between parents, teachers, and students.

"Time to go to class!" sighs Mr. Bicknell, vice-principal and dean of boys.

"Oh no, not another cheerleader selling spirit ribbons," exlaims Mr. Bicknell, as he hibernates in his private office, although he is a great spirit booster of sports events.

One of Mr. Glenn's duties includes handling the money for seniors' caps and gowns. He also takes care of the activity calendar as administrator in charge of student activities.



Mr. G. A. Glenn attempts to control hall traffic during both first and second lunch.

Sam Counselors Lend Guidance to Seniors;

"But are you absolutely sure you know how to work the mimeograph machine?" asks Mrs. Shumate, secretary to Mr. Glenn.

Mrs. Tommie Williams, dean of girls, and her secretary, Mrs. Virginia Hankins, check the morning's list of the girls absentees.

Mrs. Audine Whitten, secretary to Mr. Remynse, points out an article on registration to Mrs. Doris Brazzil, who is Sam's registrar.

After the counselors receive all the SAT scores, Mrs. Marjean Kitts tells a student of each of the different colleges in this area.

Secretarial Staff Keeps Sam on Schedule

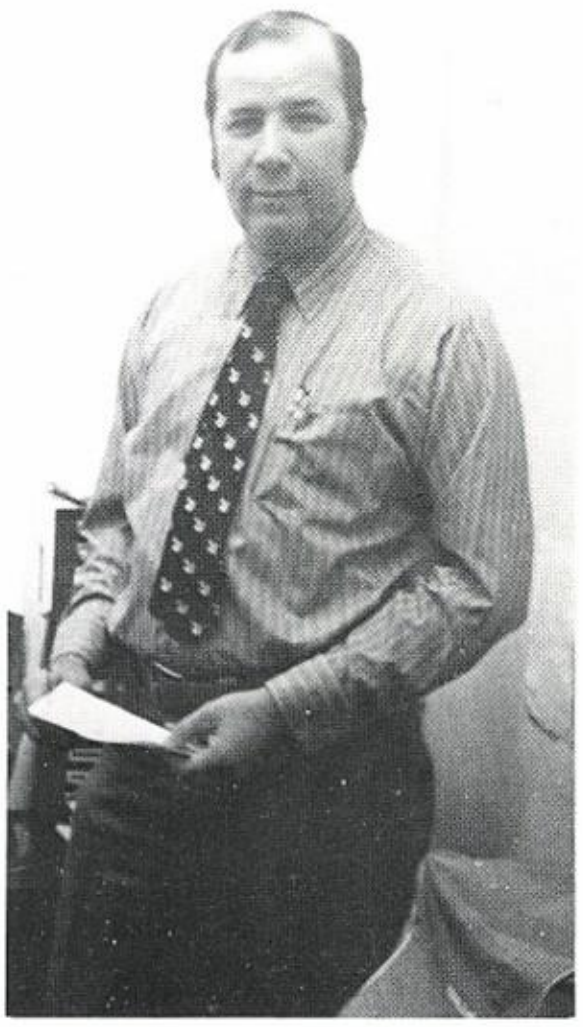
Mrs. Pat Edney, Sam Houston's medical advisor, casts a suspicious glance at a student who claims that he has yellow fever, but she thinks that he really just wants to go home.

Upon entering Sam Houston, a student will have only one counselor until he graduates. Mrs. Marjean Kitts is A-D counselor, and a newcomer, Mr. James Warren is E-K counselor. Mrs. Betty Whitaker is the counselor for those students whose last names begin with letters L-R, and all other students are assigned to Mrs. Emily Lunday.

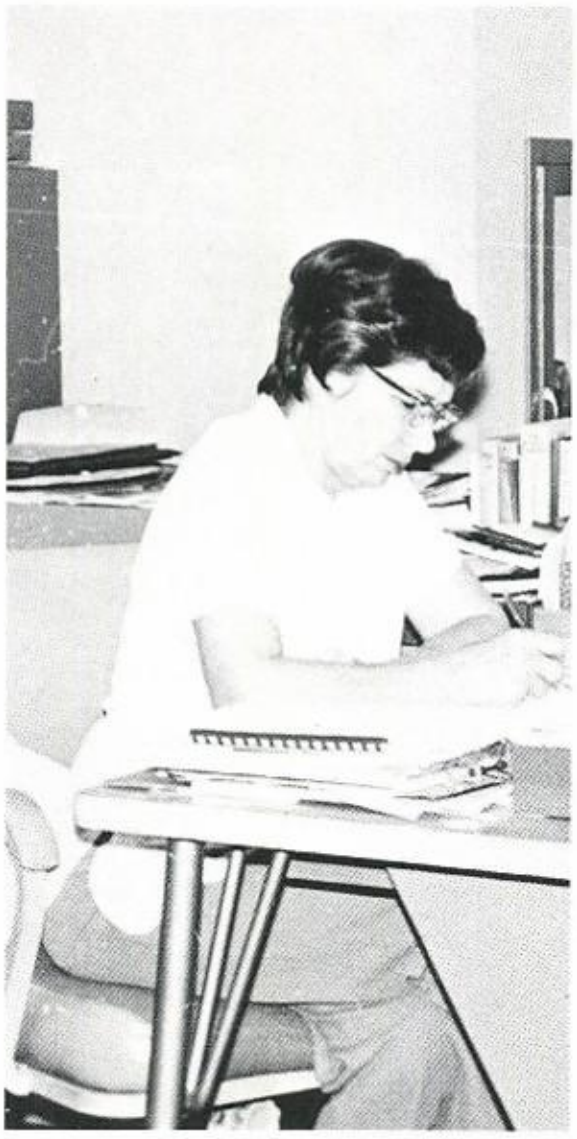
The dean of girls for Sam is Mrs. Tommie Williams, and Mrs. Audine Whitten is secretary to Mr. Remynse. Mrs. Doris Brazzil acts as registrar, while Mrs. Dorothy Skaggs and Mrs. Virginia Hankins both work in the branch offices. Mrs. Lorraine Brogdon is Mr. Bicknell's secretary, as Mrs. Helen Shumate is for Mr. Glenn. Mrs. Pat Edney is the nurse's aide for the school.

Mrs. Emily Lunday and Mrs. Betty Whitaker go over the long list of colleges and universities that were represented on Monday, February 19, Annual College Night at SHHS.

Mrs. Lorraine Brogdon, secretary to Mr. Bicknell, checks over a list of truant boys that Mrs. Dorothy Skaggs has handed to her.



"You can't drop biology because you hate worms!" says Mr. James Warren.



Mrs. Clark checks a list of books.

Moments of rest and relaxation are brief and treasured, as Mrs. Russell discovers.

Librarians Supply Audio Visual Know-How

Much mechanical knowledge is called for when working with audio-visual materials.

The big job of keeping the Sam Houston library running smoothly is held by Mrs. Louise Clark and Mrs. Jimmie Russell. These two librarians keep the shelves filled with materials to interest everyone.

In addition to this, these two ladies take care of all the audio-visual equipment for the school. This involves keeping current schedules so that equipment will be available to all the classes. They also order all the films for Sam Houston.

SHHS English Teachers Vary Students'

"Keeping up with the times" was the theme of the English Department. With new methods and materials, the teachers strived to make English more relevant to the students.

For variety the junior and senior classes viewed several full length movie classics in the auditorium. Seniors were given choices of six weeks mini courses, while juniors learned through team teaching techniques. Sophomore classes placed emphasis on improved oral and written composition.

More Choices Than Ever Available in Math

The Math Department at Sam Houston offers a wide variety of classes for those students with different interests and abilities. The fundamentals of mathematics can be studied for two years, while one year of geometry and two of algebra are also offered.

In addition to these, there are several more advanced subjects offered. Advanced algebra, special problems, elementary analysis, and trigonometry are available for one semester. Calculus is a full year course.

The Math Department was able to schedule many contests for those students interested.

Trips were taken to Sherman, W.T. White, and Berkner, where Steve Byers won a trophy in the slide rule competition.

Social Studies courses required to graduate include American history, civics, and world history. Electives are economics, contemporary problems, culture studies, sociology, and psychology.

The aim of the courses is to inform the students of the past and how it affects the modern world today, so they will be informed citizens.

New Equipment Added for Advanced Artists

Many courses are available to the student interested in either art or journalism.

Presently six different art classes are offered. These include Arts I-IV, commercial art, and arts and crafts.

With a sum of $3200, the Art Department was able to acquire a great deal of jewelry material, three easels, weaving looms, and pottery equipment.

Journalism I teaches some of the basics for newspaper work, while Journalism II is for the actual school paper staff. The annual staff members plan and set up all the pictures for the yearbook.

Attending many workshops, the Journalism Department traveled to Denton and Austin, as well as going to area colleges and universities for seminars.

Starting Sam Houston students on the path to the business and secretarial world are the bookkeeping and typing instructors.

A variety of courses are offered this year that have been designed to fit the students' skills. Courses available are Typing I, II, Shorthand I, II, personal typing, clerical practice, general business, recordkeeping, and bookkeeping.

These clerical skills often aid students in finding future jobs in offices and businesses. They are also very useful for the college bound student who must type themes and take classroom notes every day.

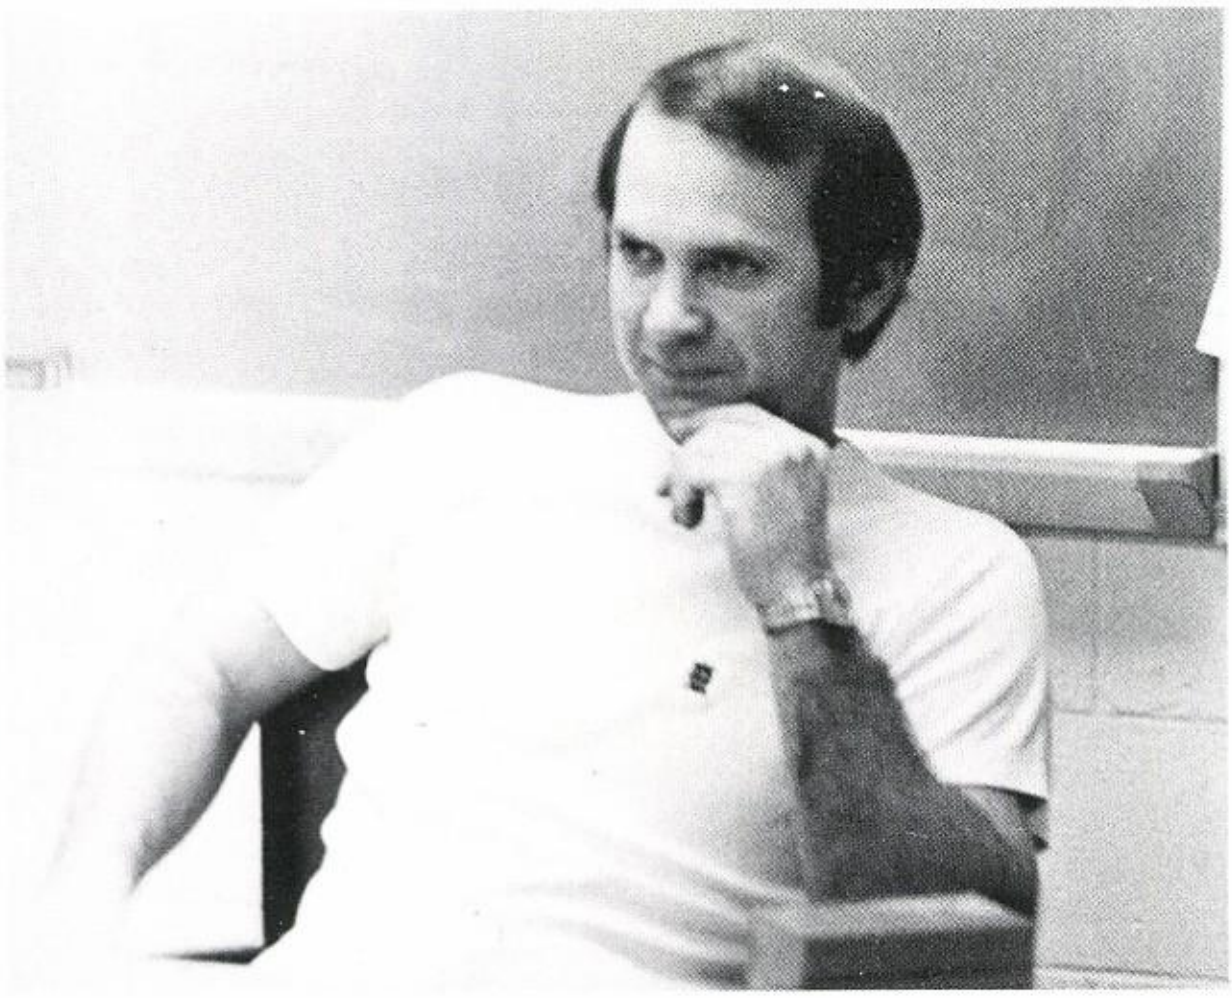
Shop Departments Offer Number of Courses



Coach Bill Keith amusingly lends an ear to some dreary tale of a tardy student.

The industrial lab courses teach students skills important for future jobs, by offering experience in different areas.

Several classes, including auto mechanics, auto body repair, radio-TV, building trades, and cosmetology are taught for three hours a day over a two year period.

Drafting classes concern the planning of projects, while the wood and metal shops deal with their actual construction. In another class, power mechanics, combustion engines are studied.

There was quite a change in the ROTC program this year. For the first time girls were allowed to join. The purpose of Air Force Junior ROTC was to instill pride in the flag and the country.

The ROTC cadets study the many military customs, aerospace, and the principles of leadership. The classes view AFJROTC training films as a supplement to their normal classroom study.

Another change in the ROTC program is that there will no longer be any flight sweethearts. This is because girls can now join ROTC with the same status as the guys.

In addition to these, there are regular P.E. classes. Here a variety of sports are played.

Two units of physical education are required for graduation.

The responsibility of keeping Big Sam clean is mainly in the hands of the custodians. The day shift is composed of Albany Bennett, Roy Stottlemire, and Ralph Torrez. The evening shift includes Catherine Combs, James Clark, Eldon Crouch, Dorothy Collier, Bouameur Elmalki, Joyce Handy, Gary Hopkins, David King, Ray Reynolds, Alan Ryon, Johnny Sneed, and Clifford Wilhite.

Preparing the majority of the students' lunches at Sam Houston are the cafeteria ladies.

This year's cafeteria staff is comprised of Otila Alcala, Patsy Allen, Gronzia Catt, Mary Christman, Avis Dudley, Olga Elak, Inez Gotcher, Charlene Gorman, Marjorie Knowles, Anna Lucas, Loretta Ann Lindsey, Alma Pendley, and Goldie Vaughn.

Preparing meals for 1150 people is a complicated procedure, requiring the work of many qualified workers.

Why does your sign say "Church of Christ Meets Here?"

Today, in 1973, some people are saying that Western Culture is dying and that the church will die with it. But will it? No, it will not. The religious scene will change; in fact, already has, but the church will be a vital part of men's lives, meeting spiritual needs when the next century has come.

We say the Church of Christ meets here because, you see, the church is never a place, but always a people. It is never a fold, but always a flock; never a sacred building, but always a faithful assembly. The people are not spectators, but always participants.

Ice skating fun.

■ A skating date — from the fun of your first fall together. Ice skating is a party — for two or two-hundred.
■ Ice skating daily.
■ Rent ice skates.

Junior Joanne Baldrige finds the idea of owning this Mach I "exciting."

The 1973 Cherokee staff wishes to extend sincerest thanks to the following people for their help throughout the year:

Mr. Wallace Johnson and the Photography Department for taking, printing, and reprinting pictures

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Pendleton for studio protraits and the aerial picture of the school

Mr. B. H. Remynse
for his encouragement and assistance

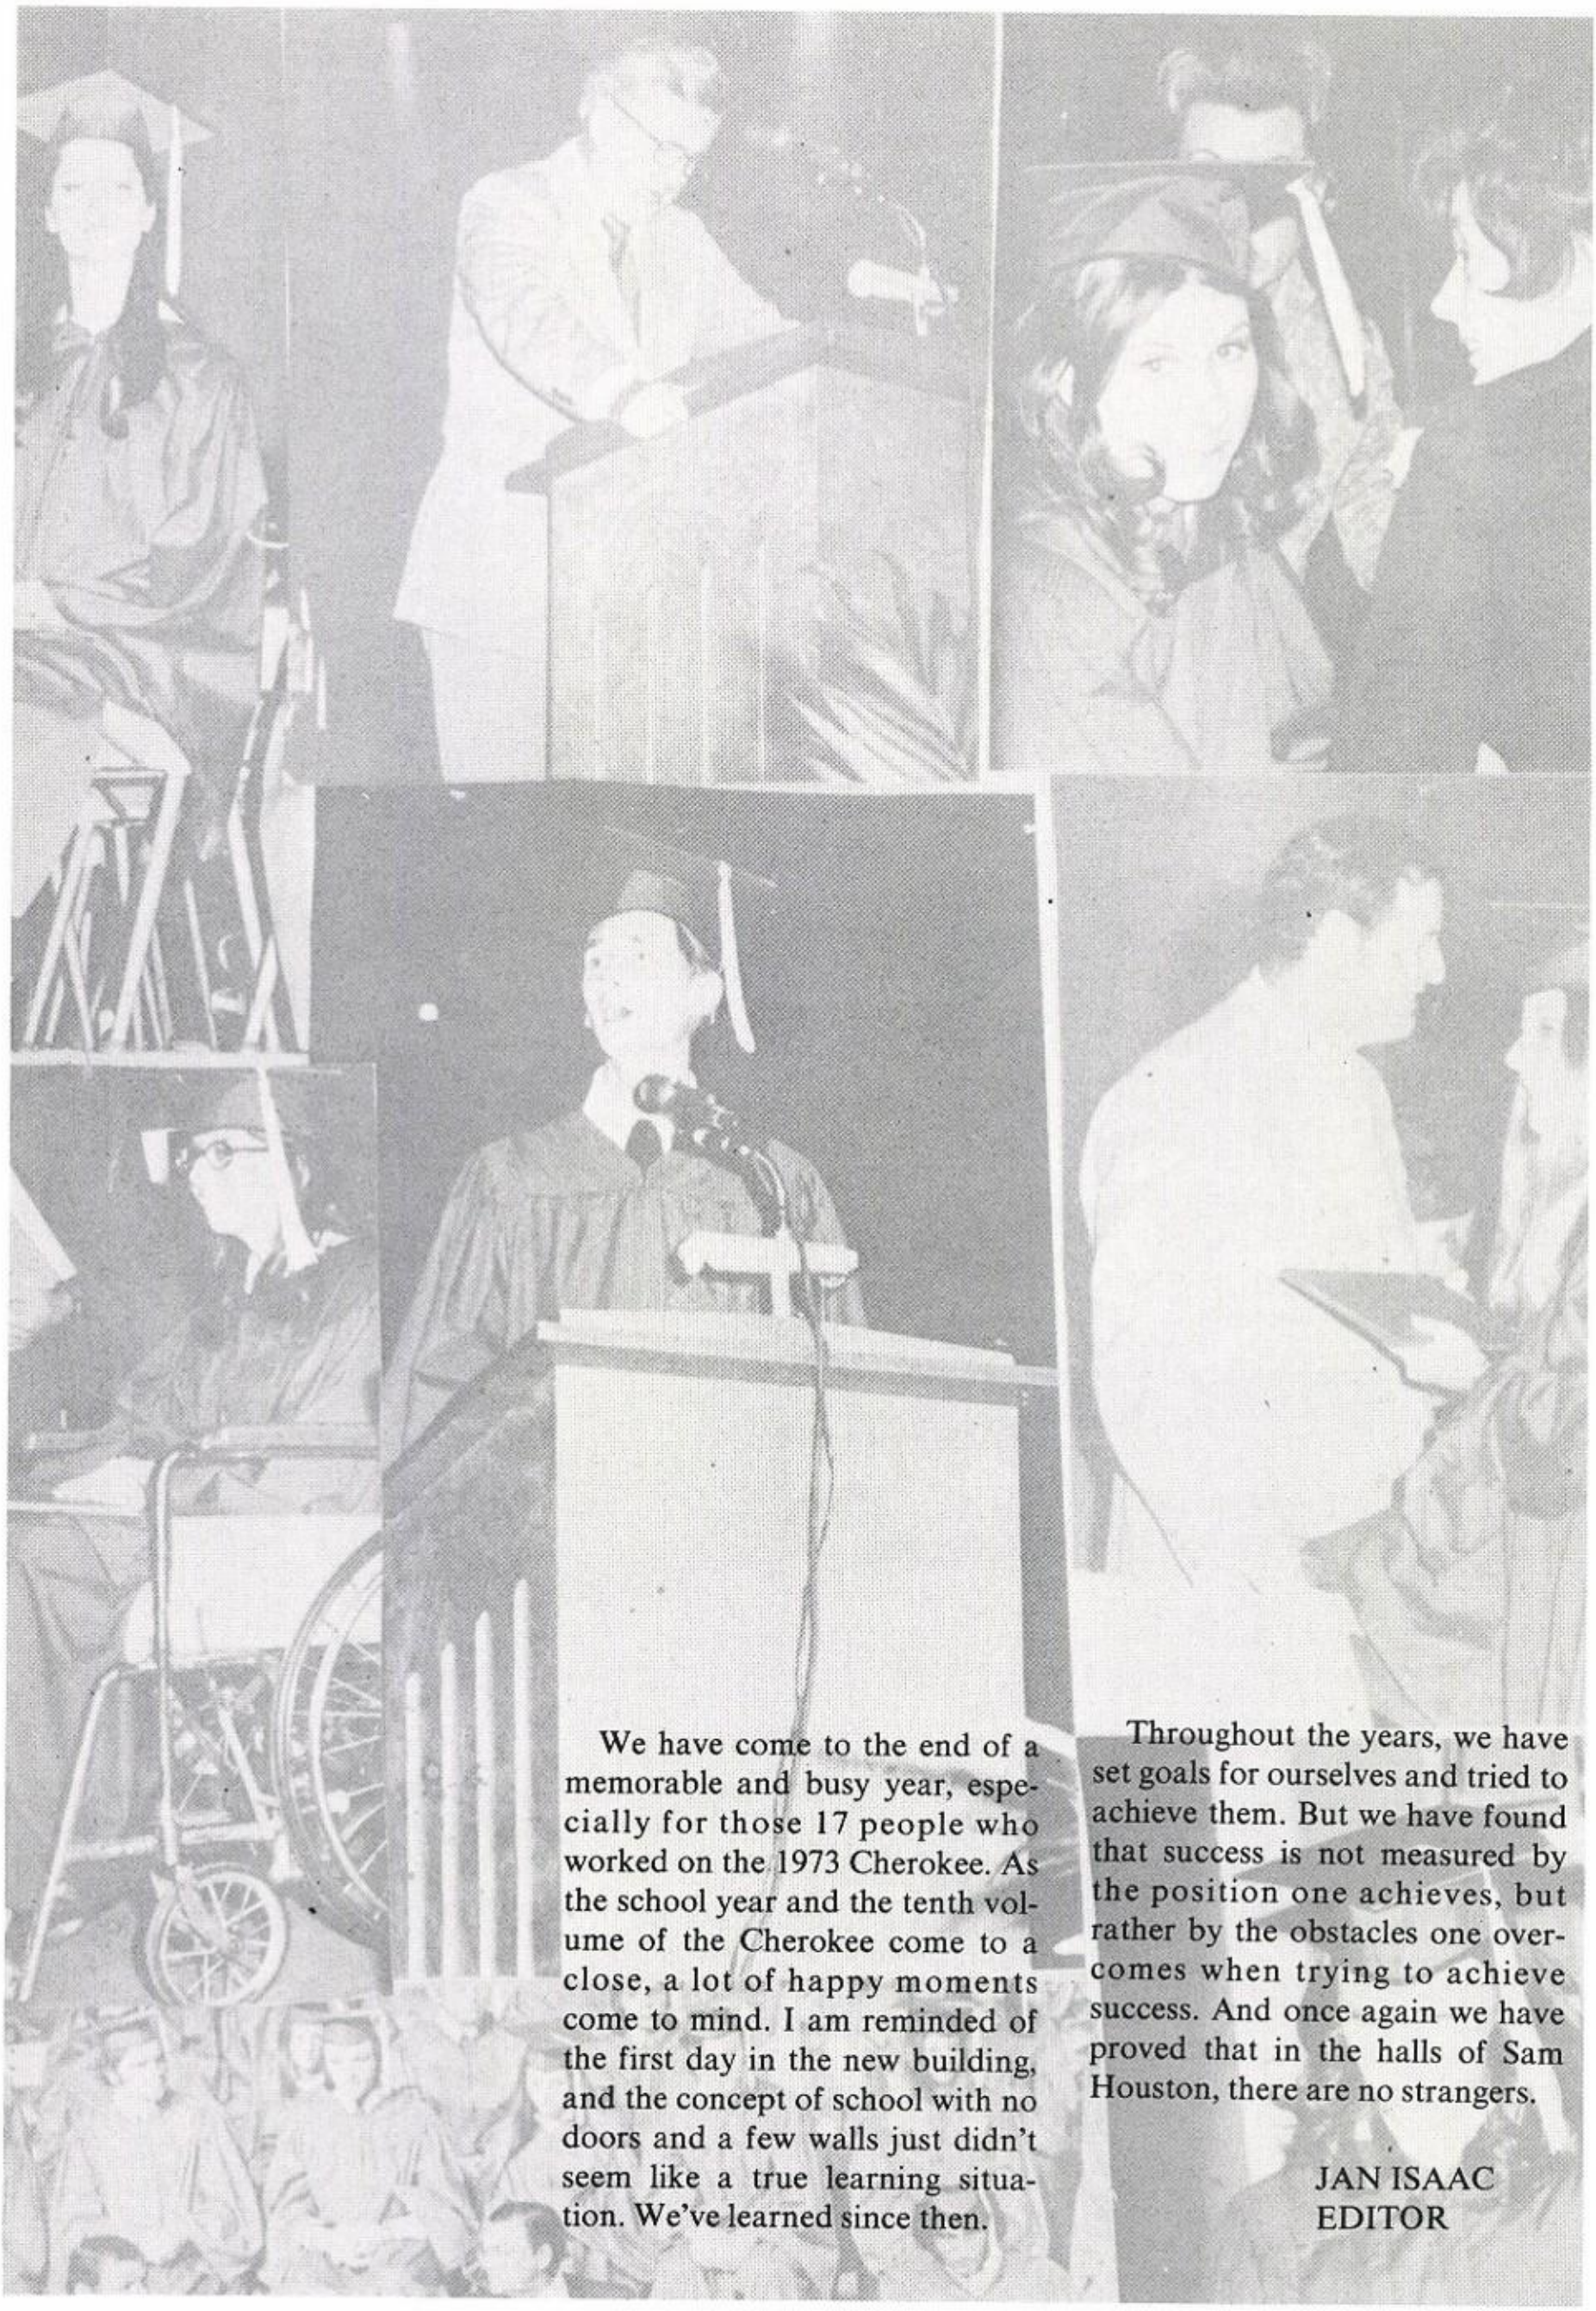
Mrs. Audine Whitten
for her efficiency and help

Mr. Bob Hurt
for team and coaches' pictures

Citizen-Journal
for several football and basketball pictures

Arlington Daily News
for several football pictures

Byron Buchanan, Richy Hodge, Dennis Malcolm, and Mike Patterson
for their help with the annual assembly



We have come to the end of a memorable and busy year, especially for those 17 people who worked on the 1973 Cherokee. As the school year and the tenth volume of the Cherokee come to a close, a lot of happy moments come to mind. I am reminded of the first day in the new building, and the concept of school with no doors and a few walls just didn't seem like a true learning situation. We've learned since then.

Throughout the years, we have set goals for ourselves and tried to achieve them. But we have found that success is not measured by the position one achieves, but rather by the obstacles one overcomes when trying to achieve success. And once again we have proved that in the halls of Sam Houston, there are no strangers.
